Beavers Tame The Blue Ponies With A 28 to 21 Win

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The Dillon Beavers faced off against the Havre Blue Ponies
Saturday afternoon at Vigilante Field in the state quarter finals.

With an unbeaten season the Blue Ponies hoped to be the first team to disrupt the Beavers winning streak.

With a minute and a half left in the game Havre quarterback
Griffin Terry would cross the goal line to tie up the game.

The Beavers would not let this slow down their momentum;
they would pick up 46 yards on their first two plays and finish with a game winning drive.

The Beavers will play Lewistown on 11/10/2023 at 7 PM on the home turf of Vigilante Field. If the Beavers win that game we will see a state title game played in Dillon.

Call Me Stupid Bryce Angell

It was January and a winter storm had most of us snowed in. The snow plows were out but we were usually last to get plowed.

Earlier in the week, before the storm hit, our neighbor to the east saw a cow moose with two calves in his apple orchard. He didn't like the moose and her calves eating the apple branches so he sent his prized Rottweiler after them. The dog managed to get one bark out before the moose kicked him three ways from Sunday. Goodbye prized Rottweiler dog. The angry neighbor hopped in his truck and blew on the horn until the cow and calves left the orchard.

The word was out that there was an ill-tempered cow moose with two calves on the loose. Beware.

The cow and calves must have held up in the willows just west of my fence. The willows would be a good break from the winter wind and blowing snow. Small willows were also food for the moose and an overall good place for the moose to hold up.

One afternoon, about an hour before dark, I looked out my window and saw the cow and two calves. I told my wife I was going to get a good camera shot of them. So I grabbed my Kodak 110, my six year old, and three year old and headed out the door. I knew a thousand times over not to do what I was about to do, but got caught up in the moment. I wasn't using my brain. When we crossed over the west fence the snow wasn't plowed. However, the boys were able to walk on the snow. Each step I took I sank up to my waist but was determined to get a good shot of all three moose, so I trudged through the snow until I found a trail someone had made earlier. My snowshoes were hanging on the wall in the garage.

We must have been within 20 yards of the moose when the hair on her neck stood up. Her head moved down to the charging position. And then she charged in our direction. I hollered to the boys, "Run hard and don't look back." Thank heaven they were able to skim over the snow. At that moment I wondered how I became so stupid to do such an idiotic blunder and one that would endanger my children.

I turned from my boys and started waving my arms. The angry cow moose, who was within her right to stomp me in the snow, stopped just a few yards from me and veered off to her right. I figured this would be my more than lucky chance to get away. I prayed she would stay away while I was making my escape. Trudging through the deep snow, while looking over my shoulder, took me forever to get over the fence. I finally arrived at my front door and noticed my camera was missing. There was no way I'd go back to look for it. And I never found it after my stupid fiasco.

Wild animals are a beautiful sight to see. But trying to get close to them almost cost the lives of my boys. That is unforgivable and I won't forget it.

Nobody informed the moose and her calves that she shouldn't leave the forest area and come down to civilization. They need to be left alone or call Fish and Game. Keep your distance from them. Your life may depend on it.

Local First Responders were busy Friday as multiple crashes had been reported in Beaverhead County

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

11/03/23 Friday morning Sheriff's deputies and highway patrol responded to a single vehicle wreck on the Pioneer Scenic Byway. The wreck was a propane delivery vehicle that had hit an ice patch, jumped the guard rail and went down an embankment.

Life Flight was initially called out for the incident but was later determined not to be needed. The propane had bled free from the vehicle and was not considered to be a hazard when first responders arrived. The driver of the vehicle sustained injuries from the crash.

Later that day dispatch received a call on I-15 MM7 of a single vehicle crash involving a truck and trailer. The truck was pulling a toy hauler style trailer it began to whip back and forth uncontrollably, and the driver lost control causing the vehicle and trailer to tip on its side and come to a rest blocking a portion of the highway. The driver sustained no injuries.

Beaverhead Search and Rescue News

Submitted by: Mel Rice: Public Relations Officer

The Beaverhead Search and Rescue held its November meeting on Wednesday the 1st. The meeting was called to order by Vice Commander Shane Puyear. There were 24 members in attendance and 4 guests. It was pointed out that our membership is capped at 60 members and that number has been reached.

There were 4 probationary members who had completed their trial year and were voted in as permanent members. Those individuals are: Joe Reyes, Jamie Trivette, Charles Weidow, and James Matthews. When you see these individuals out and about, please congratulate them on their appointment and thank them for their service.

Other business included critiques of the last two search/rescues we had in the last month. It was also pointed out there will be Wilderness First Aid training in January. There is good news for all you ice fishermen. The FW&P has authorized us to once again have our annual ice fishing derby at Clark Canyon in January. Tickets, dates, and other info will be coming shortly. I know it's still hunting season but that is coming to a close and then it's time for the short poles to come out.

We would like to remind everyone to be prepared when you go out to play. It can be a cruel world out there if you're not prepared. Have fun and be safe, "In the Business of Saving Lives", your Beaverhead Search and Rescue.
