"Hot out of the Kiln" at Tendoy Fine Art

The pottery of Lalove Hilton will be featured at Tendoy Fine Art from February 15th through the end of December. Just in time for holiday shopping, Hilton will be showing her latest work and demonstrating her carving technique, a technique that gives Hilton's works a distinct Montana flare. Tendoy is offering a 10% saving on all sales until Christmas.

Hilton grew up in Idaho with a love of art, always coloring and drawing. She married a Dillon boy and after raising 5 children, she went back to school. She double-majored in Art Education and Mathematics Education, and took every art class that was offered, graduating with a Broadfield Art Education Degree. Under the tutelage of master potter, Barney Brienza, Hilton discovered her love of working with clay and glazes. After graduation, though, all her jobs were teaching math at the U of M Western which she did for 21 years. She retired after the fall of 1997. During the Covid-19 epidemic, she commandeered a portion of her husband's shop and turned it into a pottery studio. She is now making pottery and having a good time re-discovering old skills. Tendoy Fine Art is excited to present Hilton's new work.

Dillon Middle School News

Here's the Dillon Middle School News for the week of December 18-21, 2023.

The lunch menu for the week is as follows: today, Monday, we will enjoy sub sandwiches served with trimmings and chips. Tuesday, Lasagna will be served with garlic bread and salad. Wednesday, roast beef will be served with mashed potatoes, gravy and rolls. On Thursday, we will be dismissing from school at noon, so only a grab and go breakfast will be served. Hopefully, students have been enjoying our TASTE TEST THURSDAYS. We will continue with these opportunities to expand our palette when we return from the winter holiday.

We are continuing to bring in canned goods this week. Our food drive will finish this week and the top class will be announced as the winner of the pizza party. Keep up the good work students by bringing in food to help those who need a little boost this holiday season. Congratulations to Mr. Laws' class. They won the opportunity to play dodgeball by bringing in the most canned food items per person. Stay tuned for more results.

This week, we will enjoy a spirit week hosted by the student council. Today, dress up like a Christmas tree. Best dressed Christmas trees will receive a prize. Do it up right tomorrow by dressing as your favorite Christmas character. Again, a prize will be awarded – one per grade. On Wednesday, show your spirit by wearing your ugliest Christmas sweater. Maybe you will win the prize. We will end the week by wearing our cozy pj's on Thursday. So, join us in celebrating the holidays with a fun dress up week.

We have the result of our corn-hole tournament. Corn-was played over lunch for several days. There were many teams that participated. The championship was played by Gage and Brody Curnow against Aiden Ferguson and Ben Plovovich. Ben and Aiden gave them a run for their money, but the Curnow twins pulled off the win for the second year in a row. Great job, guys!!

Tonight, Monday, December 18th, we will have our DMS winter concert. The concert will begin at 7 PM in the Parkview gym and is open to the public. Please enter and exit through the district office doors and come and enjoy an evening of holiday music.

On Wednesday, December 20th, the DMS students will enjoy a concert put on by the BCHS bands and choirs. It also will feature holiday music. Each year this concert inspires our music students to continue on with band and choir at the high school level.

We have the final results from boys' basketball. The 7A and 8B teams hosted Clancy. Both teams finished the season with a win. Great job to all the boys who played and a big thank you to the coaches for working with our middle school players.

The Beaverhead County ACEs Task Force wants you to know that children who grow up in a household with a family member with mental illness or depression can experience confusion, fear, anxiety, and stress. But one committed, caring adult can help a child build resilience and find success. Be that adult! Healthy families build strong communities.

PLPW Advisory Committee to meet December 19 via Zoom

The Private Land/Public Wildlife Advisory Committee will meet Wednesday, Dec. 19, via Zoom from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

The 13-member advisory committee, appointed by the governor, is charged with reviewing FWP's access programs and offering recommendations to help achieve program goals and maintaining good relations between hunters and landowners. Members are Ed Beall, chair, of Helena, Eric Albus of Hinsdale, Cynthia Cohan of Butte, Lee Cornwell of Glasgow, Paul Ellis of Bozeman, Everett Headley of Stevensville, Donna McDonald of Alder, Rod Paschke of Jordan, Stephanie Prater of Lewistown, Rich Roth of Big Sandy, Raymond Rugg of Superior, Drew Steinberger of Billings and Dale Tribby of Miles City.

The committee will discuss and develop its 2024 workplan. Agenda items include:

- Member reports
- FWP updates
- Public comment

The meeting will be streamed live on the FWP website at fwp.mt.gov/plpw. Public comment will be taken via Zoom. To make a comment via Zoom, you must register on the FWP website by noon on Dec. 18. For more information on PLPW and a full agenda, visit the FWP website at fwp.mt.gov/plpw.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO SLEEP THROUGH CHRISTMAS?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree
It was never as high-profile as "Rudolph" or "Frosty," but it's worth noting that the animated special "The Bear Who Slept Through Christmas" turns 50 on December 17.
I'm sure I saw the program at least once, but my niece Claire used to drive her parents to distraction by insisting on seeing the VHS tape of "Chris'mus Bear!" over and over and over.
(My guess would be that Claire's young son Elliot has his own exasperating yuletide rituals. Payback, as they say, is a reindeer.)

The show was misleadingly named. Protagonist Ted E. Bear (voiced by Tommy Smothers) actually stayed awake to find out what Christmas was all about, while the rest of the bears hibernated.

After scouring the internet for phrases such as "reasons I hate Christmas," "things I despise about December" and "Here are some jokes your readers will never realize you ripped off," I have come to the conclusion that a significant percentage of humans would love to hibernate through the holidays, which is okay, I guess, unless you have a hang-up about atrophied muscles, bed sores and some prankster leaving your hand dangling in warm eggnog.

The appeal of being semi-comatose goes beyond the oft-cited misgivings about commercialization, canceled flights, budget-busting lights displays, awkward workplace parties and formulaic Hallmark movies. Innumerable citizens yearn to escape the seasonal onslaught of rock/pop singers who have always dreamed of recording a Christmas album showcasing the same embellishments as a celebrity rendition of the National Anthem. It's amazing how much "Do you hear what I hear?" can sound like "Oh, say can you seeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee?"

Other people want to escape the pity parties for friends with birthdays inconveniently close to December 25. Going forward, maybe we could tweak the birthday timing by re-branding March as "the month that comes in like a lion, goes out like a lamb and in-between there's no tight jeans or Barry White records."

Some conscientious folks wish they could hibernate

because they feel guilty about spending a month lying to youngsters about various aspects of the holiday. (They seem to have no qualms about spending the other 11 months of the year telling youngsters, "My political party can cure poverty, crime, climate change and bad hair days with one hand tied behind its back," but that's a topic for another time.)

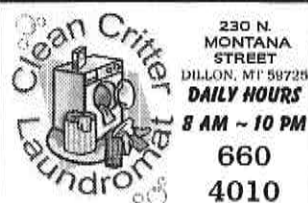

Tons of people would be willing to snooze through December to escape having their latest romantic partner "dissected" at family gatherings. ("Try coming down the chimney. If you get stuck, that means you have the proper child-bearing hips.")

Countless individuals are tired of being judged because they're all thumbs at wrapping gifts. ("I'm not saying it's the TOP survivalist skill, but one look at that pathetic ribbon makes me think you should ditch the six-month food supply and just die.")

Possibly half the population would be willing to hibernate to escape the ritual of stressing out over selecting perfect gifts for imperfect people. ("I had to re-gift the Rolex with the names of all my fraternity brothers engraved on it. While dealing with my gluten intolerance, I found out I'm also allergic to timepieces that start with an 'R.' Sorry.")

Whether you prefer to hide from Christmas or immerse yourself in it to the fullest, that's up to you.

Just remember the time-honored maxim: "Let sleeping bears ... shred that Christmas sweater into a million pieces."
