Edith Joanne Meier April 22, 1940 — January 18, 2024

Edith Joanne Meier of Dillon, Montana passed away January 18, 2024, at Barrett Hospital and Healthcare.

Joanne, as she was known by, was born on April 22, 1940 in Butte, Montana. In 1958 Joanne graduated from Beaverhead County High School. She went on to graduate from Nursing School in Anchorage, Alaska. Joanne married Carl "Bud" Meier on January 24, 1966. They moved to Dillon, Montana in 1978.

Joanne worked for many years within the nursing field, which allowed her to travel and spend time with family and friends. She enjoyed many interests like bowling, playing cards with family friends, crocheting and most of all camping trips with Bud. Joanne's greatest joy was her family and watching her Grandchildren and Great Grandchildren grow.

Joanne is preceded in death by her mother and father Rex and Edith Clark; sibling William Clark; her son David Rex Meier; and grandson Christopher Hight.

She is survived by her daughters, Teri Meier, Dillon, Montana, Edie (Steve) Stepura, Poulso, Washington, Melynda (Steve) Vraspir, Billings, Montana; nephew Kent Meier, Fairbanks, Alaska; first cousin Ed Nopp and best friend Ina Cain; grandchildren, Amber Hight (Scott), Kirsten (Josh) Geiger, Justin and Jessica Stepura, Merissa (Gavin) Melichar, Emilie (Nolan) Frank and Hannah Vraspir; great grandchildren, Zane, Tessa, Haley, Cooper, Jaxon, Klara and Cohen. Along with many other family members who are not mentioned.

The family will be holding a private ceremony in honor of Joanne at a later date.

Memorials can be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital or Shriners Hospitals for Children in Joanne's honor.

Iris McCauley

October 10, 1940 — January 16, 2024

Iris Helen McCauley, 83, passed away on January 16, 2024, in Lima, Montana. Iris was born in Kalispell, Montana on October 11, 1940, to Doyle and Helen Sampson. She spent some time as a very small child in Tacoma, Washington during WWII while her parents were supporting the war effort.

Returning to Montana, the family bought a ranch outside of Kalispell, but she also attended school in the city while living with her grandparents.

Later she attended school in Lewiston, Montana while her mother, Helen was attending nursing school. After graduating Flathead High School, she briefly attended Carroll College. Soon she left on an adventure to the West Coast, first in Seattle, and eventually San Francisco, to see big city plays.

While in San Francisco, she married her first husband, Tom O'Hara, with whom she had four children. As time went on, she married Larry McCauley and became the mother of seven children.

Her love for the theater renewed in Montana when the family would attend performances at the Bigfork Summer Playhouse. She also enjoyed singing in Sweet Adelines, and the family had fun supporting her by operating a popcorn machine at their fund-raisers at the Conrad Manson. As a long-time Avon lady, she built a profitable business where she could interact and visit with people, which was important to her. A lover of plants, birds, and pets, she would decorate her home inside and out, not just with plants but with all sorts of garden decor.

A very important part of her life was her faith in God and her beloved Savior, Jesus Christ. She was a long-time generous member of The River church in Kalispell. Here she enjoyed many rich and rewarding friendships.

She is predeceased by her parents Doyle and Helen Sampson and her husband, Larry W. McCauley.

She is survived by seven children: Sharla McCauley, Sean McCauley, Angie (Dan) Mayer, Jill McCauley, Duane (Charity) McCauley, Heather (Brodie) McDonald and Teague (Jennifer) McCauley as well as 17 grandchildren and one great-grandson. She is also survived by her brother Andy Sampson of Columbia Falls and sister Jennifer McNeily of San Diego, California.

A private spreading of ashes ceremony is planned for the summer.

Clarice's Demise

Bryce Angell

The horse manure stuck to my boots, would dry and turn to dirt.

I always tracked into the house. A little dirt won't hurt.

But my wife would vacuum daily til she found a better way.

That's when I noticed Roomba floating 'round the floors all day.

At first it was a novelty. Clarice would be her name.

Clarice would vacuum all day long. She weren't a lazy dame.

I had to give her credit. She could vacuum in the dark.

I don't believe I ever saw her in her stall and parked.

It didn't take her anytime to learn her job so well.

But little did I know she'd make my life a living #&&&.

I'd be standing at the counter with bologna and some bread.

And before I spread the mayonnaise she'd bump me with her head.

Her timing was uncanny. She would meet me at the door.

And I swear I heard her say,

"Don't track that dirt here on my floor."

Last Thursday night my dog and I were watching Prime TV.

When I spilled the popcorn.

Soon Clarice was zooming straight for me.

But then she eyed my Daisy, and she put her on the run.

I vowed next time she scared my dog I'd up and grab my gun.

The final straw was one dark night while sitting on the throne.

Clarice strolled up and bumped my leg, should have left alone.

So I plotted in my mind about Clarice's soon demise, and wondered could I be there when a vacuum cleaner dies?

My chance came soon enough. 'Twas time to make her go caput.

I topped the stairs then kicked her with the heel of my left foot.

Not sure how many bounces made before she hit the floor.

I gathered up the evidence and tossed her out the door.

I rehearsed the so-called accident. Her mishap down the stairs.

My wife might need convincing from a guy who really cares.

And then I started wondering about her worth and what I'd spent.

I guessed a twenty dollar bill before her accident.

I've always checked my bank account right before I go to bed.

The numbers will be fresh and they will stay there in my head.

I won't forget that night. The numbers in the darkest blue.

My wife had bought another Roomba, priced eight hundred and forty two.

Regular Meeting Tuesday January 23rd, 2024
at 7:00 P.M. in the City Council Chambers

Attorney General Knudsen leads coalition in defense of right to free speech

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen led a coalition of 23 attorneys general and the Arizona Legislature in filing an amicus brief in support of the National Rifle Association's case against a New York state official who trampled on the organization's First Amendment right to free speech. The case has implications for any organization that engages in political speech or activity.

In the brief, Knudsen asks the United States Supreme Court to reverse a U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit ruling giving officials license to stifle their political opponents' protected speech by financially crippling them. The Supreme Court decided to hear the case against Maria Vullo, the former superintendent of New York's Department of Financial Services (DFS), after Attorney General Knudsen filed a brief in April asking the court to take up the case.

Speech and Drama

Congratulations to our Speech and Drama team and their Divisional Championship over the weekend! They will compete at state in Columbia Falls this weekend!

Amelia Pflieger-Currey - 1st place dramatic solo & 1st dramatic theatre
Cayenne McCabe - 1st place humorous solo & 1st place dramatic theatre
Alexie Navarrette - 2nd place dramatic solo
Brooke Freeman - 2nd place dramatic theatre & 3rd in humorous theatre
Ellamay Bellis - 2nd place dramatic theatre & 3rd humorous theatre
Emily Lopez - 2nd place dramatic theatre
Kaycee Pilon - 3rd place dramatic solo
Leah Kenealy - 6th place humorous solo
Lexie Lopez - 2nd place dramatic theatre
Lilla Guiberson - 7th place impromptu

Every group contributed to our team win this weekend. In order to win as a team, you need score enough in sweeps. Points are totaled by place wins and how many participants you have in each event. For example, 1st place scores 10 points, 2nd scores 8 points, 3rd scores 6 points, 4th scores 4 points, 5th scores 2 points and 6-8 score 1 point. Extra points are given for having multiple participants in the same event. The more events you have the greater the chance of scoring more points.

There are 4 rounds at divisionals. Each round is scored and the the top 8 move on to the final round. The top 12 in each event advance to state. There will be 24 competitors in each event at state. The East side will bring some tough competition. State is designed a bit differently. It's a two-day event. There are 4 rounds on Friday and 3 rounds on Saturday. It will be harder to advance but our team is solid, passionate and ready to bring home some more hardware.

We had 8 entries in drama with multiple kids being double entered (in more than one event). As you can see above, we placed high in all drama events. We outscored Corvallis by 2 points. They also had 8 entries in drama but did not place high enough to score more points. Their coach did try and add a random entry in classical drama to earn some more points, which is a bit shady, but it didn't end up helping him. Corvallis has been the powerhouse in drama for a while now and it felt good to dethrone them.

There were 13 teams in attendance with 161 competitors (179 entries in 17 events).

Victory For Bulldog Men In Overtime Completes Weekend Sweep Over Rocky

The Montana Western men found victory in overtime over the Rocky Mountain College Battlin' Bears (10-8, 1-4) by a final score of 109-104.

Seven Bulldogs hit double-digits in scoring in the game with Michael Haverfield and Quincy Taylor hitting for 20 points in the game.

Western was impressive from the free throw line, hitting 31-37 in the game for an 83.8 free throw percentage.

The Bulldog bench provided 47 points in tonight's overtime win compared to Rocky's 14 points.

Seven Bulldogs hit double-digits in scoring in the game with Haverfield and Taylor hitting for 20 points in the game.

Three Bulldogs were perfect at the charity stripe with Taylor knocking down 10-10 of his shots at the line. Jalyn Stepney went 3-3 and Toldson went 4-4.

Momberg Ties Western Three-Point Record in Win Over Rocky Mountain

Montana Western put together an impressive performance after they defeated the RV Rocky Mountain College Battlin' Bears 86-65 this afternoon.

Joelnell Momberg's seven threes helped her to a career-high 24 points in the game. She ties the school record with the total, a record she now shares with alumni Alison Burlingame (1999) and Jill Dana (2007).

Western's three-point total of 14 threes neared the record of 16 total in a game, a record that has been held since 2007 against Walla Walla College.

The Bulldogs have now won two-straight in Frontier play and are 3-2 in conference.

Jordan Sweeney had her first double-double of the season after she totaled 16 points and 13 assists. She came one assists shy of breaking Western's assists in a game record. The record is currently held by Kelly Pankratz from the 2007 season.

Mack also added 16 points and Maddy Moy put up 11 points.

Keke Davis led the team in rebounds after she totaled nine in the contest.

Western will stay in Dillon for a matchup with No. 6 ranked Carroll College on Thursday

Wolf hunting, trapping seasons close

The hunting and trapping of wolves in Region 5, 6 and 7 will be closed a half hour after sunset Jan. 21.

The order halting the harvest of wolves in these regions came after Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks officials received word that the pre-established harvest quota of five wolves in these regions had been met. With the exception of Wolf Management Unit 313, wolf harvest quotas elsewhere in the state have yet to be met.

Those interested in up-to-date information on the status of Montana's wolf harvest can view FWP's wolf dashboard. The dashboard is updated multiple times per day.

For all wolf hunting and trapping regulations and information, visit FWP's wolf webpage.
