Elizabeth Reeves

December 8, 1935 — February 21, 2024

Elizabeth 'Bessie' Reeves, 88, of Dillon Montana passed away on Wednesday, February 21st, 2024. Bessie was born December 8th, 1935 in Dell Montana, to parents Roy and Nellie McNinch. Bessie grew up on the family homestead in Lima. She met and married Edward Tyler shortly after graduating high school. Bessie and Edward lived their lives in Dillon, they enjoyed camping, fishing and being outdoors. Bessie was an avid angler, loved nothing more than casting into a clear stream. Edward preceded Bessie in 1998. Bessie married longtime friend Phillip 'Bud' Reeves in 1999, he preceded her death in 2016.

Bessie is survived by a niece and nephews, great nieces and nephews, as well as great-great nieces and nephews.

In lieu of flowers the family would like anyone interested to make a donation to their own favorite charity in her name. Service will be planned for later in the spring.

Sweeney Named Frontier Conference Player of the Week After Standout Week

Jordan Sweeney from Montana Western has been selected as the final Erck Hotels Women's Basketball Player of the Week of the season. The award is her second of the season.

Sweeney led Montana Western to a pair of wins in the final week of the regular season. She averaged 33.0 points per game while shooting 57.9 percent from the field. In addition, Sweeney averaged 5.0 made threes per game on 62.5 percent from beyond the arc.

In the Bulldogs 73-63 win over Montana Tech, Sweeney scored 23 points while adding six rebounds and eight assists. The senior then scored a Frontier season-high 43 points by going 7 of 11 from three in an 86-73 win at Rocky Mountain. She also had four rebounds and four assists in the regular season finale.

Sweeney broke her previous career-high in the game as well as the Montana Western single-game scoring record after she scored 43 points in the game. The previous record of 40 points was set by Brianna King back in the 2017-18 season against Menlo College. With her total, she breaks 1,000 career points in the win, a total that she surpasses in just her second year with the Bulldogs.

SAWED

By "Swede" Troedsson

One day in the early 1990's, I was in the break room in the Beaverhead National Forest Supervisor's Office when the Cartographic Technician walked in. He looked at me and stated "Swede, you don't remember me, do you? When I replied I did not, he stated "You picked me up one night at the Stoltze sawmill" I failed to recognize Don Rice because he'd grown a beard.

Around 10:00 P.M. on April 24th, 1974, as a volunteer EMT, I was dispatched along with an ambulance attendant to the Stoltze sawmill seven miles south of Dillon, Montana. Don was employed at the sawmill at that time. He was assisting the sawyer clear an obstruction in the area of the twin vertical band saws. As he was exiting the area next to the saws, he slipped on some sawdust and fell backwards towards one of the rotating band saws. His left arm fell over the guard and his upper left arm was sliced open to the bone. Don, holding his injured arm, stumbled into the file room.

When our ambulance crew arrived at the sawmill file room, most of the night shift workers were in the file room with Don. (One man was losing his lunch over in a corner). The shift foreman was applying a pressure point on the arm to stop the bleeding. That foreman most likely saved Don's life!

After applying a pressure bandage and splint to Don's arm, we transported him to the hospital in Dillon. After a quick examination by a physician, we were instructed to transport Don to the hospital in Butte.

After recuperating from his injury, Don returned to work at the sawmill. Don regained most of the function in his injured arm, but he continued to have some numbness in the outer edge of his left hand.

After the sawmill closed, Don knocked around doing odd jobs, but eventually he went to work for the Forest Service. His prior military service as a U.S. Air Force Navigator made him a perfect fit to become the Beaverhead National Forest Cartographic Technician.

Brad Reis, Owner

Letter to the Editor

Governors Property Tax Task Force will probably be a Task Farce! The very highly inflated appraisal values being used for property tax is criminal.

When the Governor said he was creating a Property Tax Task Force I told him he needs to put some Montana seniors and retired farmers and ranchers on that task force instead of bunch of lawyers and elite politicians.

We'll guess what the force is overloaded with lawyers, politicians, and department of revenue officials. He even put two out of state so called experts on the force. What will that cost us taxpayers for travel and so on??

Everyone I talk to is very frustrated and concerned about how to survive with the increased costs of everything. Most property owners have property tax increases of 30% or 50% and some of us even hit with 300%!! Even if you just rent you are or will be paying more also because property owners will have to cover the extra tax burden.

It is very difficult to fight the system. You have to file all the appeal forms on time and follow all the rules. From what we see you will not succeed trying to appeal home values because the corrupt revenue department is using the very high values of all the new homes recently built.

It is also very hard to get information from the appraisal department. Appraisal rules are very complicated and to some extent secretive. We tried for last six years to get answers and when finally contacted them the different appraisers gave conflicting or vague answers.

We tried appealing land grazing classification to county tax appeal board and lost the battle due to department of revenue showing up in force with their intimidation tactics and using convoluted AUM grazing values.

The state will probably throw another little rebate at us. Any rebates should be figured on percentage of tax paid instead of one size fits all.

Another problem for many farmers and ranchers is that their business structure shows only one home for a rebate when in fact there are two or more homes on the property for business partners which are all being taxed.

All of us long time or native residents of Montana need immediate relief. This could simply be done by sending out amended tax bill for May 2024 and November 2024 with tax amounts adjusted back prior to last several years of inflated values.

Contrary to what greedy politicians say, all the new construction should generate enough money to cover the extra services needed.

I should mention that are local treasurer's office does not make these rules they only collect the money as required by law. I know they face many very upset customers at tax time but it is not their fault.

We encourage all tax payers to write or call the Governor's office. If you e-mail they will probably assign you a case number and a link which you can't get open (even younger computer savvy people couldn't get open). The Montana government website is not very user friendly.

We have found that individuals cannot win so we must unite!

We are willing to hold meetings in our event center at Big Hole River Retreat just one mile from Glen exit# 85. If you have any questions or comments call.

DOJ's OCP warning Montanans of targeted cryptocurrency scams

The Montana Department of Justice's Office of Consumer Protection (OCP) is warning Montanans of a cryptocurrency scam in which fraudsters are targeting businesses that took out Payroll Protection Program (PPP) loans designed to help employers retain staff during COVID-19.

The scammers are taking advantage of the confusion surrounding whether PPP loans would need to be paid back, tricking individuals into paying them with cryptocurrency to lift non-existent arrest warrants for failure to pay back their loan. Most of these loans have been forgiven.

While on the phone, scammers will tell the victim not to hang up or they will be arrested. Targeted individuals are then directed to take large sums of cash from their personal or business bank accounts and deposit those funds into scammers' accounts using bitcoin ATMs. Once the funds are deposited into a bitcoin ATM, they are irretrievable, and completely out of reach for local law enforcement and the FBI.

Information available from the federal government's database and media organizations which made sensitive information—including loan amounts, dates, lender information, employees who received disbursements, and more—available to the public, allows scammers to specifically target individuals and businesses who took out a PPP loan. In some cases, forged documents have even been sent to the targeted individuals in an attempt to corroborate the fraudsters' claims.

OCP offers the following tips to avoiding falling victim to highly targeted scams such as this one:

- Law enforcement or government agencies will NEVER contact Montanans asking for money in order to lift an arrest warrant. If you receive such solicitations, DO NOT respond or follow any requests.
- Never send money or provide personal information to someone you do not know, no matter what threats they may make.
- Always trust your gut. If something feels "off," about a caller, it probably is.

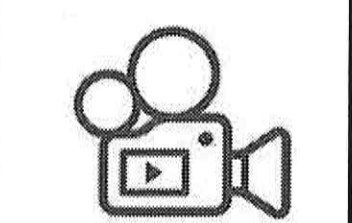

To report an attempted scam, use OCP's convenient online reporting form here. You can also call to speak with an investigator at (800) 481-6896 or (406) 444-4500, visit OCP's homepage at <https://dojmt.gov/consumer/>, or call your local law enforcement agency.
