Jacob "Jack" Lester Schield passed away peacefully on March 19 th , 2024. Jack was born on July 18th,1941, in Billings, MT, to Jack and Elizabeth Schield. Jack grew up in Billings, Montana and graduated from Billings Senior. He attended the University of Montana and was named "Bull of the Woods" at the Foresters Ball. He graduated with a degree in Forestry in 1964. He married the love of his life, LuLu "Lou" Belle Newman on May 14, 1968. Jack served in the National Guard from 1964 to 1970. He worked for the Bureau of Land Management in Miles City (MT), Kemmerer (WY), before settling with his family in Dillon, MT. Jack had many interests throughout his life. He loved the outdoors and never passed a chance to go fishing, camping, and hunting. He loved the family animals, be it horses, pigs, sheep, rabbits, cats, and dogs. He always loved going to the rodeo be it a local one or the NFR and PBR. A graduate of the University of Montana, he was passionate for his Montana Grizzlies and attended many Lady Griz and Men Griz basketball games along with football games. More importantly, he loved to rib any fan of the Bobcats.

Jack is survived by his wife Lou, daughter Natalie Aguilar, son Scott (Pamela), brothers Ken (Joan) and Tim (Sue) and grand-daughter Addison Aguilar. He was preceded in death by his parents Jack and Elizabeth.

Per his wishes, no funeral or service will be held, and his ashes will be spread in Yellowstone National Park.

Stolen Car Leads To Lost Flip Flops And Driver Being Arrested

Jeremy Crawford
Southwestern Montana News

On 03/23/24 Montana Highway Patrol assisted a motorist right outside of Anaconda who had ran out of fuel. A short time later outside of Butte the same vehicle was pulled over by Highway Patrol where 3 passengers exited the vehicle and the driver fled and was not located. Around 11 pm the car involved was reported as stolen.

Around 2:30 in the morning on 03/24 one of the Beaverhead County Deputies located a car that had slid off the interstate near the North Interchange. The vehicle that was involved in the slide off was the same vehicle that was involved with Highway Patrol earlier. The driver had a felony nationwide extradition warrant out of Mississippi for parole violation, felon in possession of firearm.

The driver then fled on foot into a field off of the interstate. Deputies, Dillon Police Officers, and Montana Highway Patrol responded and a search began. The male was subsequently arrested a short time later and the vehicle was seized, however his flip flops were never recovered.

The male was booked into the Beaverhead County Detention Center on the warrant, and pending local charges. We would like to thank all the agencies involved for their helping hand.

Mumblety-Peg

Bryce Angell

I was thumbing through the Netflix channels when, there it was, the great western television series, "Lonesome Dove." I eagerly watched, for the tenth time, when five minutes into the episode, there was a scene where Newt, PeaEye and Dish were playing a knife game called Mumblety-peg. I had completely forgotten about the game of Mumblety-peg.

Mumblety-peg can be a dangerous game if you choose to play it that way. One brainless way is to see how close you can throw your knife to your feet without slicing your toes. Newt, PeaEye and Dish were playing the game safely by staying away from their toes.

Instantly, memories came flooding in. I was around 16 and my brother was 13. It was early July and we had been hauling hay all morning. My father always took an hour for lunch, so we shoveled in a tuna fish sandwich then went outside to play Mumblety-peg.

We usually kept a razor sharp edge on our pocket knives and my younger brother's knife was no exception. However, he was still learning how to control the direction of his throw. We would flip the knife off a shoulder, an arm or even our nose hoping it would land blade first in the ground. I'd like to think we played the game of Mumblety-peg in a safe and careful way.

But then, enter Murphy's Law. Anything that can go wrong will go wrong.

My flip of the knife was a perfect dive to the dirt. Now needing to be exactly followed-up by my brother. But when he flipped the knife from his shoulder he mistakenly shot it straight down toward his feet. The sharp blade landed in the toe of his shoe, went completely through and stuck in the dirt. The absolute silence was deafening. I told him not to move. His eyes were bigger than two bullfrog's eyes in a staredown. I believe that was the first time, up till then, he did what I asked.

I felt about as worthless as a nickel waitin' for change, but I managed to push the knife blade opposite the sharp edge to prevent cutting the skin. I quickly pulled it out. Gus McCrae would have been proud. I expected a gush of blood. But there wasn't any sign of blood on the knife or his shoe. I nervously yanked his shoe and sock off. The blade had landed between his big toe and the second. The incident gave new meaning to the old saying of splitting hairs. My brother changed his socks and we hauled hay the rest of that day. This time with a little less cussing and a lot more humility.

And as once said by a wise cowboy friend of mine, "Many of life's problems can be solved by watching and listening to Lonesome Dove."

Montana Western and Learfield Partner on Rodeo Business

The University of Montana Western (UMW) and Learfield College Rodeo, a new division within Learfield – the media and technology company powering college athletics – are thrilled to unveil an exciting new partnership aimed at elevating collegiate rodeo programs and expanding the reach of the sport.

"This partnership allows us to honor the rich heritage of Bulldog Rodeo while charting a course toward unparalleled growth," said Montana Western Athletic Director Michael Feuling. "We are confident that Learfield can amplify opportunities for our student-athletes and also create avenues to maximize our brand partnerships in the Dillon community and throughout the state of Montana."

Through this collaboration, Learfield will deploy its innovative, data-driven strategies in digital and on-site fan engagement, in-venue branding, original content development through Learfield Studios, and integration with student-athlete name, image, and likeness (NIL), among other marketing assets. These efforts will facilitate authentic fan connections for local, regional, and national brands, aligning with Learfield's success in delivering marketing solutions across collegiate sports.

"We're excited to partner with Learfield College Rodeo and seize the opportunity to build upon the amazing support already being shown to our program," said Montana Western Rodeo Head Coach JT Robbins.

Launched in the summer of 2023, Learfield College Rodeo is dedicated to elevating college rodeo and embracing the widespread influence and popularity of western heritage and culture. Through its College Rodeo division, Learfield will leverage its longtime success in delivering sports and cross-campus marketing solutions to deliver new opportunities for college rodeo teams. Montana Western will join a burgeoning roster of programs in the division, alongside esteemed institutions Cal Poly, Colorado State, Montana, Montana State, Utah State, and Wyoming.

"We're thrilled to add Bulldog Rodeo to the ever-growing portfolio of Learfield College Rodeo schools," expressed Brad Poe, vice president and general manager of Learfield College Rodeo.

UMW Rodeo, under Robbins' leadership, competes in the Big Sky region of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association (NIRA) and participates in 10 rodeo events each season. Montana Western, formerly known as Western Montana College, has a rich history of participation at the College National Finals Rodeo, with the team making their debut appearance at the finals in 1988. Since then, the program has boasted several appearances at the event, either as a team or with individual competitors.
