Thank You

The ladies of Dillon Soroptimist would like to thank the Bicentennial Foundation for the grant that helped them supply Hams and stuffing to add to the Senior Commodities boxes at Easter.

Our deepest thanks to Russ Schwandt who packed and hands out the boxes. He did them at Christmas with hams, potatoes and mandarin oranges for the seniors and plans are to do it again at Thanksgiving.

Thank you Russ!

Wapiti Players'

It is the final week of rehearsal for the Wapiti Players' production of Laundry & Bourbon and Lone Star, two one-act comedies by James McLure. According to director, Virginia Cook, a number of tickets have already been sold.

"These plays are 'slice of life' shows," Cook said, "Laundry and Bourbon portrays an afternoon in the lives of three women as they gossip, fold laundry and share details of their personal struggles. Lone Star gives the audience a glimpse of the lives of three men at 1:00 am behind a small bar in a Texas town, as the character of Roy tries to find purpose and meaning in his life after his return from the Viet Nam War."

Opening night for the production is Friday, April 5 at the Dillon Elks' Lodge, with repeat performances on April 6, 12, and 13. Hors d'oeuvres will be served beginning at 7:00 pm, show time is 8:00 pm. Advance tickets are available at the Dillon Elks' Lodge and Womack's Printing Place.

Forget Breakfast

Bryce Angell

I woke up late this morning, 'bout an hour past daylight.

I turned the propane stove up high to warm the winter's bite.

I imagined hotcakes with some eggs and bacon flipped on top and maple syrup so thick you'd use the hotcakes for a mop.

I tiptoed with my wool socks on, across the icy floor.

Then made a leap and jumped to the refrigerator door.

There were no eggs and bacon and I'd guess a whole lot more.

It was time to buy some groceries at Sam Patch's Country Store.

I cranked up my old Chevy, turned the heater on inside.

It would take an age to warm up being 5 degrees outside.

It didn't make a lick of sense to sit cold in the seat.

So, I left the truck a running, went inside to soak up heat.

My easy chair was beckoning, "Just sit here for a spell."

Then I drifted off to sleep. I should have set a wake-up bell.

I swear it was just minutes 'fore I jumped myself awake.

My mind was still a fog and so I stole a longer break?

I listened to a noise outside, my neighbor's water pump.

They always leave it running. Like to haul it to the dump!

I drifted off to sleep again for two more hours or so.

Then I woke up so confused and did I hear a rooster crow?

My brain was so befuddled. Guess I needed extra sleep.

But the clock showed 1 p.m. I'd never slept so doggone deep.

And that irksome noise was there again, my neighbor's noisy gear.

I wanted so to drag the junk clean into the next year.

So, I thought I'd drive on over. Maybe read the riot act.

Or trash the pump with my Massey tractor driving full impact.

When I stepped out to the carport, saw my truck idling away.

I warmed it five whole hours. I was speechless, so to say.

Breakfast time had come and gone, guzzled hours of spendy fuel.

I don't believe there's been a day where I felt more like a fool.

So, I drove down to Sam Patch's store with lunch now on my mind.

And I must admit my Chevy was the warmest ride you'd find.

Jaycees Easter Egg Hunt

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

Saturday, March 30 the Dillon Jaycees kicked off Easter with their annual Easter Egg Hunt. This event is held every year at Vigilante Park. With sections divided off for age groups everyone participating is sure to walk away with a few goodies. Not only do they have treats for the kids, but they also serve light refreshments for the adults.

10 A.M. Sharp the siren from the Jaycees trusty old fire truck rings through the air and kids make a mad dash at the prizes scattered about the park. Within a few minutes all that's left are a few open eggs that missed being picked up and the park has been cleared of any evidence that this yearly event was held.

This Week in Bulldog Athletics - April 1-7 TRACK & FIELD

The Montana Western track & field team traveled out to compete for the second time this season at Lockwood High School for the Yellowjacket/Battlin' Bears Open last week. The meet was highlighted by four personal records in various events. Layne Cooney took home a second-place finish in the men's discus throw after he threw a mark of 44.03m for a personal record in the meet. In the women's 400m, both Malia Cox and Justene Santi had impressive performances after each recording their own personal records in the event. Olivia Heiner's new personal record in the women's 800m was enough to place her in ninth with a time of 2:30.41. Brant Heiner also had his own season best in the men's 5000m race after he recorded a ninth-place finish and a time of 16:08.46.

The Bulldogs will now head to Spokane, Wash. this week to compete in the Whitworth Peace Meet hosted by Whitworth University at Puryear Field – Boppell Track at Whitworth Pine Bowl. The event will run Friday, April 5.

Dillon Hi-lighters 4-H News
By: Secret Petersen

The Dillon Hi-lighters 4-H club had their meeting at the 4-H building at 7:00 p.m. on March 26 at the 4-H building. President Lacey Pape called the meeting to order and had Celina Pape say the American Pledge and Secret Petersen say the 4-H Pledge. Secretary, Stephine Pape took roll call which was what our favorite thing that was purple. Stephine also gave the Secretary's report from the last meeting and Treasure, Jacob Harvey gave the Treasurer's report. The Dillon Hi-lighters 4-H club had Heidi Schwandt come to the meeting and give us a presentation on how to fill out record books properly and she gave us some tips and tricks with livestock records and financial records for our projects. After Mrs. Schwandt's presentation we talked about the upcoming highway clean-up and we decided to have the highway clean-up on June 8, and we would meet at the fairgrounds at 9:30 a.m. We talked about the Nursing Home petting zoo which President Lacey Pape is still gathering information for. We then received information for the Bannack State Park clean-up and it will be on May 11. Secret Petersen passed out Beaverhead Honey Sales forms and she explained how to fill them out. We will be selling honey until the end of April. We discussed our club party and Stephine Pape, Kendalyn Martin, and Secret Petersen signed-up to be a part of that committee. Club leader Dawn Harvey brought up the Beaverhead County Rec Lab that will be happening this month on April 18-20. She explained that we needed to provide snacks for the Rec Lab and so we all agreed that we could make them and set a date for when we could make them all at once. The meeting was adjourned and we all enjoyed snacks that were provided from the Martin family. Our next meeting will be on April 23, at the 4-H building at 7:00 p.m.

Terminus Distilling Company Updates
 Katrina & Derek Lewis

Business/Community: Katrina talked to the Beaverhead Trails Coalition In Town Trails group this month. She presented our plans for a walk-up window and our hopes to make the walking and biking approaches as safe and accessible as possible. For example, for customers who want to walk to the distillery from downtown, they'll have to cross busy Helena St. Or, if anyone wants to walk to or from the Taco Bus (it's only three blocks away!), that stretch of N. Idaho isn't very pedestrian friendly (though it is quieter than N. Montana St).

Sweeney Picks Up NAIA Second Team All-America Honors

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) announced the 2023-24 NAIA Women's Basketball All-America Teams. Jordan Sweeney was selected for second team honors.

Sweeney, a 5-7 guard from Oakley, Calif., was previously selected as a Frontier Conference first team all-conference selection and as an AP All American Honorable Mention after she led the Frontier with 20.6 points per game and 5.4 assists per game. She also joined Montana Western's 1,000 point club after two seasons with the Bulldogs after she dropped 43 points against Rocky Mountain College back on February 24 for a new UMW single game scoring record.

This is the second time Sweeney has earned All-America honors, earning a third team selection last season.

All of the selections are made by the NAIA Women's Basketball All-America Committee and are comprised of first, second and third teams.
