THANK YOU!

I wish to thank the community for your support of the Beaverhead County Museum programs. The response has been overwhelming, and we look forward to bringing more educational, noteworthy, and exciting programs to the public.

If you see Lee Graves, Kristy Pozega or Morgan McLaren let them know how much you have enjoyed the programs. These programs are free to the public and all donations and raffle money go towards the Old Depot Theatre programs.

The program committee is busy putting together new programs for the upcoming 2024-2025 season. As time gets closer we will post the list of programs in various venues.

Expansion of Atomic 79

Ribbon Cutting at the expansion of Atomic 79 Boots & Western Gear! It was a great event, over 50 people attended to see the historic building restored, complete with the upstairs and crystal chandelier! Over the coming days, the team at Atomic 79 will be stocking shelves and preparing for the summer shopping season! "This store rivals any western store from Telluride to Ft. Worth!" says Rebecca Jones, Beaverhead Chamber. Many were thrilled to see the old timbers, floors, and brick preserved. And there is a farrier service area in the back! Check out Atomic 79 Boots & Western Gear soon!

Secretary Christi Jacobsen releases veto polling results

Montana Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen released the results of a legislative veto poll on Friday.

The Secretary of State's Office is tasked with polling legislators on bills vetoed by the governor when the legislature is not in session if the bill was approved by two-thirds of the members voting on the final vote on the bill. Once the Secretary of State's Office receives the bill and the governor's veto message, the polling process begins.

In this unusual instance, the Montana Courts mandated that the Secretary of State's Office conduct a poll despite not receiving the bill.

As required by Montana law, "if two-thirds or more of the members of each house vote to override the veto, the bill becomes law. With only 24 Montana Senators and 41 Montana Representatives voting for an override, the veto override failed.

Several legislators returned their ballot packets indicating their refusal to participate in this unprecedented veto polling procedure. Many included letters to the Secretary providing their reasoning. Other legislators refused to sign for their ballot packet, and several others went unclaimed.

The results of the veto poll are available on the Secretary of State's website.

Gibson to Carry on the No. 18 Legacy

Western Bulldog and Dillon Beaver football player M.J. Simkins, whose life was tragically cut short prior to the start of his senior year, wore the number 18 with pride. The number had tremendous significance because it showed his love for Dillon and Beaverhead County, which is Montana county number 18. MJ wore the no. 18 for three seasons 2014 to 2016. His brother Nathan carried forward the tradition and values of the no. 18 throughout his epic Bulldog career (2017-2021). The number 18 has since become a legacy number for the Bulldog Football team.

The number was and will be given to a senior student-athlete who represents the spirit and values of M.J. and what Bulldog Football is all about. Now, for the 2024 season, it has been awarded to Dillon native and senior runningback Pete Gibson.

"Wearing the number 18 to me means you embody MJ's quote of 'leave it better than you found it'. You are a guy that does right on and off the field. You are not only there for your teammates but the community." Gibson said.

Gibson, an upcoming senior on the 2024 football team, started his career at Montana Western in 2020 and has played for the Bulldogs as a runningback and on special teams. He was a 2020 graduate of Beaverhead County High School and a Dillon, Mont. native.

Throughout his time as a Bulldog, Gibson has rushed for a total of 515 yards, with 456 yards accumulated last season. He has scored three touchdowns with an average of 7.4 yard per rush and 57 yards per game last season. He will continue to be a tremendous field presence for the Bulldog offense throughout his senior season.

"Gibson embodies what it means to be a Bulldog." Head Coach Ryan Nourse said. "The legacy of the number 18 is more than a number in our program. It is something the whole community gets behind and brings them together. What MJ stood for is why it is a legacy number and his legacy helps breed a great culture in our program and community. I do not want to let down what the number 18 means to the program, the community, and the previous players that wore it."

The Bulldogs will play ten games this season, with a balanced slate of five home and five away games. The defending Frontier Conference champions will kick off the historic season on the new Bulldog Sports and Activities Complex, the first year Montana Western will not be playing on Vigilante Field.

"I am most excited about seeing what we can do. We have a huge target on our backs with being defending conference champions. I know we can do it again and bring another playoff game to Dillon, we just have to earn every opportunity we get," Gibson added.

The Bulldogs will take the Vigilante Field for the last time with their spring game slated for Saturday, April 20 at 1:00 pm.

Beavers Beat The Blue Devils With A Fourth Inning Batting Streak

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The Dillon Beavers took on the Corvallis Blue Devils Tuesday afternoon at Ray Lynch Park in Dillon. Taking home an 8 to 2 win.

The Beavers put points on the board in the bottom of the second inning after Cohen Hartman tripled, Taylor Handlos singled, and Andrew Bartlome singled, each scoring a run.

Andrew Bartlome earned the win for the Beavers, giving up two hits and one run over five and two thirds' innings. Bartlome struck out seven and walked only two.

The Beavers accumulated 11 hits in the game. Taylor Handlos and Keyen Nash each collected two hits for the Beavers. Marcus Lagunas and Keyen Nash were a one-two punch in the lineup, as each drove in two runs.

Attorney General Knudsen files lawsuit against Biden's EV mandate

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen, along with 24 other attorneys general, filed a lawsuit Thursday against the Biden Administration's unlawful electric vehicle (EV) mandate that threatens the economy, puts jobs at risk, and undermines the reliability of the electric grid. This is the 42nd lawsuit Attorney General Knudsen has filed against the Biden administration.

The new emissions rule, put in place by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), forces unattainable standards on passenger cars, light-duty trucks and medium-duty vehicles. The EPA is attempting to use the weight of the federal government to force auto manufactures to produce enough EVs to account for 70 percent of vehicle sales in less than a decade.

"President Biden's electric vehicle mandates just won't work in Montana. We need vehicles that can get us to and from our destination when it's -40 degrees outside," Attorney General Knudsen said. "I will continue to fight back against the president's unlawful regulations and keep the best interests of Montanans in mind."

Biden's attempts to force EVs on Americans are failing, as last year American EV sales were a meager 8.4 percent. Ford Motor Company lost nearly $5 billion on EVs last year and is projected to lose more this year. Signs also point to a continued decrease in demand for EVs as almost half of Americans say they won't buy one.

Attorney General Knudsen and state partners continue fight to end human trafficking

Dillon Sorooptimist had three members in attendance.

Over 100 law enforcement officials, criminal prosecutors, advocacy groups, public health officials, and private industry leaders joined Attorney General Austin Knudsen Thursday in Bozeman to discuss efforts and effective strategies to combat human trafficking and commercial sexual exploitation in Montana.

Building on the work done at the previous symposiums, the three main topics discussed at the event were law enforcement and prosecution, victim services and long-term care, and emerging threats.

"Human trafficking is modern day slavery, and I remain committed to doing everything I can to end it in Montana," Attorney General Knudsen said.

In 2023, Department of Justice agents tracked 147 human trafficking cases in Montana, an increase of 39 percent from 106 cases in 2022 and more than double the 68 cases in 2021.

During the 2023 legislative session, Attorney General Knudsen's office helped write and pass House Bill 112, which was developed from discussions at previous symposiums. The new law increases the penalties for sex traffickers and patrons of sex trafficking. It also provides prosecutors with more tools to prosecute sex traffickers and expands the definition of human trafficking and has helped intensify the crackdown on the sexual abuse of children and all victims.

The legislation is already helping law enforcement crack down on sex trafficking. Attorney General Knudsen has also increased human trafficking training for county attorneys, Montana Highway Patrol Troopers, and law enforcement cadets at the Montana Law Enforcement Academy. He helped launch the Sentinel Project, a private-public partnership between the Montana Department of Justice and non-governmental organizations to increase human trafficking training and public education in the state.

Lady Beavers Upset

Hamilton Broncs In True Grit Fashion

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

Never give up, was what everyone was watching as the Lady Beavers trailed 6-0 in the fifth inning. The Beavers would prove that through determination and grit giving up was not an option and they would walk away with a very hard-fought win in the seventh inning beating the Broncs 7 to 6.

Adyson Creighton started the game for the Beavers. The starting pitcher surrendered four hits and five runs over five and two thirds' innings. Creighton struck out seven and walked three.

The Beavers tallied ten hits in the game. Katey Vezina, Emily Brevig, Adyson Creighton, and Kinzy Creighton each collected two hits for the Lady Beavers. Katey Vezina, Emily Brevig, and Ashlyn Burk each drove in two runs for the Beavers. The Beavers had five stolen bases with Adyson Creighton collecting two of them.

Veteran's Corner Update #251
 By Mike Lawson
 Greetings to all of you who read my SW MT Veteran Update articles.
 Veteran News Updates:
 • PTSD is a real serious mental issue for Veterans who have been exposed to violent situations such as they experience in combat situations. These Military personal and Combat Veterans face significant emotional challenges that can impact their mental and physical health. Depression, anxiety, post-traumatic stress (PTS), and other conditions, affect the cross-grain of their lives in coping and living a normal life. Equine-assisted therapy has emerged as a promising intervention and innovative approach to addressing emotional challenges. Equine therapy offers a non-traditional stigmatizing approach to therapy, providing participants with an opportunity to connect with horses, develop a sense of trust and empathy and explore their emotions in a safe and supportive environment. One provider in SW MT of equine-assisted therapy is offered by the non-profit "Upper Canyon Outreach", based in the Ruby Valley. I personally know a couple of Veterans who have gone through their program and continue to attend sessions. They are very enthusiastic about the benefits they experienced going through these therapy experiences. It's definitely something I would consider and encourage any of you experiencing PTSD to consider for yourself. They are having a fundraiser dinner to Resilience-A Benefit for Upper Canyon Outreach webpage at <https://givebutter.com/c/BLjrvn>. You can also contact Cassie at 406-570-8985 or Cassie.UCO@gmail.com. Donations are welcome and needed for this great healing program to continue.

• VA serves More Women Veterans than Ever Before. Women Veterans are the fastest growing group using VA services, and VA is expending care to better serve their needs. These services include primary care, Mammograms, gynecologic and fertility treatment, specialized mental health support, and many more. If your a woman Veteran, check with the VA about woman's health care or you can call Women Veterans Call Center (WVCC) at 1 855-829-6636 . I have two daughters who served in the Air Force, one for 20 years and the other for six years. The both served during Desert Storm. Now that they are discharged, they use the VA Health Care System and are very positive and appreciative of the care they receive. If you are a women Veteran, please get signed up.
