Dillon's Darling Diva: Debbie from The Bookstore Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

When you picture downtown Dillon, there's a good chance your first thought goes to The Bookstore. On Saturday, April 27th, Debbie Sporich celebrated the 40th anniversary of The Bookstore. If you were one of the many to stop in for the party, you noticed the sparkle in Debbie's eyes. That pride and passion for her book store has always set Miss Debbie apart from others in the community. She not only runs the small business, but she is a staple in this community for all her endless philanthropic endeavors, as well as for her infectious spirit.

Whether you're a small child picking out your first book or a retired person needing something to ignite your imagination, Debbie will walk you through the joys of reading. She never is too busy or overwhelmed to offer her expertise to those in need. In many ways she is our little bookstore fairy, sprinkling her fairy dust magic to conjure the magic she feels for the written world to all those who meet her.

Just a few years ago during the shutdown from the Pandemic, Debbie was one of the saviors for the boredom and loneliness. Her doors were open to offer not only books, but games and activities for the entire family. She has always been an accommodating angel, by delivering her books to those who found the downtown construction too daunting to conquer or to recommend novels to get you out of your slump.

I'll admit my favorite part of Debbie and The Bookstore is to sit down in the chair opposite her desk and listen to her recall her favorite memories and anecdotes. Her storytelling is bar none one of the greatest gifts she grants to her audience of friends, family, and customers on a daily basis. There are some people you meet in this world who just radiate goodness. And we are so lucky as a community to have one such soul leading the helm of the downtown businesses.

We wish Debbie another successful 40+ years of business! But more importantly, we want her to never forget that this community has a lifeblood and it's because of her. That selfless and positive contribution inspires all those she meets. Don't ever lose that sparkle, Debbie!

Garrett, Sir. I ate it."

The look on Mr. Garrett's face was a mix of shock and befuddlement. Without saying a word he retreated to his desk to ponder the absurdity of the situation and what to say next. He then asked if anyone else in the classroom had an appetite for their grasshopper and apologized for not bringing fry sauce. The class tension immediately turned to laughter and relief.

I don't remember if Jackson got another grasshopper to dissect. I don't know if he even cared.

If I had to guess I'd say he received an incomplete for the day. Too bad. This country boy would have given him an A.

End of an era, the passing of the torch.

Dillon business man and area rancher, Stan Smith, has set himself apart from the average member of our community for many decades. Through a flair for showmanship and a knack for getting things done Stan's impact has touched many lives over the years. May 1st he steps down as manager of the Big Sky Cinema after 40+ years. His daughter, Tevan Lawton, will take the helm continuing a rich family legacy with Polson Theatres Inc.

While in high school Stan began his own cow/calf operation with his fathers blessing and cowboied for area ranchers for many years. At the same time he performed on stage with his band, The American Hearts, until he was diagnosed with Spasmodic Dysphonia and could no longer sing. He then left the music business and began working in film as a stunt rider, performer, precision driver and actor. Since 1979 he has worked on over 175 productions, some as a producer. Many in Montana. In 1984 as the father of one son and soon to be father of a daughter he got a third job cleaning the theatre 7 days a week for 8 months. Meanwhile learning all he could about the projectors, promoting movies and the business of theatre operation. Nine months later he became assistant manager and quickly became manager the summer of 85. Over the past four decades he has witnessed and weathered many changes in exhibition, business and Hollywood. Continuing to thrive with an enduring attitude of positivity, joy and class.

His love of community shines through service where his talent for colaberation, leadership and vision continues to benefit many. He recently retired as a Court Appointed Special Advocate for the 5th Judicial District as a voice for children and guardian ad litem after 22 years. He has served on the board of the Chamber Of Commerce, Dillon Little League, coach, as President of the Beaverhead County Museum, President and one of the founders of the Bannack Association, President and 3rd District LT. Governor of Dillon Kiwanis, Chairman of the Dillon Retail Merchants, MYCA mentor, current Chairman and cofounder of the Dillon Montana Community Foundation and Founder, President of the White Hat Coalition. As one of the founders of Bannack Days and the Bannack Ghostwalks, Stan not only performs improv, he serves as a living history coordinator and safety personel as stunt coordinator and gun armorer.

Stan continues to wear many hats as a sucessful businessman, historian, performer, family man. While stepping down as manger

Meanwhile, his daughter, Tevan will take on the operation as manager May 1st. She plans to bring back the summer kid show matinees her father ran for nearly 30 years. She grew up in the theatre and knows every aspect of its operation. Big Sky Cinema will remain in capable hands.
