HAVE YOU VISITED YOUR 50TH STATE YET?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

"I've been everywhere, man/I've been everywhere, man..." – as sung by Hank Snow.

I was overjoyed to hear that one of my high school classmates and his wife recently completed their bucket-list project of visiting all 50 states.

(Alas, one of the less-studious members of our class stopped agonizingly short of that milestone, declaring, "You can't fool me! There are only 49 states, ever since scientists decided Pluto isn't really a state.")

As I researched the 50-state accomplishment, I discovered that there is no universal standard for what constitutes a "visit" to a state.

For instance, the Fifty State Club (founded in 2006 to celebrate and encourage travelers on their journey) sets a fairly low bar: put your feet on the ground and breathe the air. (In other words, no points for driving straight across a state without even a bathroom break or simply changing planes at the airport.)

Individuals establish their own parameters for a "real" visit to a state: snap a picture at the state line, eat local cuisine, spend the night, sing Woody Guthrie's "This Land Is Your Land," honor O.J. Simpson by following at least one lead for tracking down "the real killer," and so on.

An increasingly popular benchmark is "Speak truth to power" in each state. ("Mr. Dog Catcher, you have some @%^&$ ugly mutts in this state.")

People embark on a 50-state trek for myriad reasons: patriotism, meeting new people, the desire for fresh experiences, the chance to file a personal-injury lawsuit after tumbling down the front steps of each state capitol building...

Many retirees see their golden years as the perfect opportunity to check those states off their list. My mother has gone the opposite way.

Before she got married, she made memorable excursions from rural Tennessee to New York City and Hershey, Pennsylvania (and she and Dad honeymooned in Florida); but she grew more and more dismissive of travel. More recently, if you tried to tell her about the sights and sounds you experienced, she would be satisfied to see an Excel spreadsheet of what time you got HOME from each trip.

More power to the people who can pull off a 50-state project, just as long as they appreciate how privileged they are to have the necessary health, time, finances and workarounds for obligations. A lot of people would have to cobble together a strategy such as "Okay, if we pull the plug on Mom, list the kennel as one of our creditors on the bankruptcy application, remove your frisbee-size cataracts and convince my boss that I won't fall asleep in the mop room so often if I get twice as much paid time off, I think we can swing it."

Me? Travel enthusiasts celebrate themselves for having an "adventurous spirit." I have an adventurous spirit, but I'd like to keep it inside my body for a few more years instead of plunging into a ravine while snapping a selfie...

I enjoyed adding Missouri to the list of states I have visited (my wife had a convention in St. Louis in May), but I don't have a burning passion for visiting every single state. If it happens, it happens.

(But it'll happen faster if some enterprising state gets a Gateway Arch that erupts every 60 to 110 minutes or a Gateway Arch perched atop a rock-carved head of Theodore Roosevelt or...)

Bear safety training event happening in Bozeman

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks staff will host a free bear safety event next week to offer training and hands-on practice with inert bear spray and other safety resources.

The workshop will be Monday, June 24, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., in the south parking lot of FWP's Bozeman office, 1400 S. 19th Ave.

This event will include lectures on the hour and displays, including grizzly bear and black bear full-body mounts, skulls, tracks, food storage options, bear spray holsters, and a bear spray target. Participants will have the unique opportunity to practice using inert bear spray in a simulated charging bear demonstration, weather permitting.

Bears can be found throughout Montana. In recent years, grizzly bear populations have expanded. People venturing into the outdoors should be "bear aware"

BLM Resource Advisory Council meeting to discuss Madison River recreation

The Bureau of Land Management's Western Montana Resource Advisory Council will meet June 26-27 in Missoula.

The first day will involve a field tour to BLM sites of interest around Missoula. The June 27 business meeting will convene at the Holiday Inn at 9 a.m. and conclude at 4 p.m. The meeting is open to the public with a public comment period scheduled at 3:30 p.m.

Key agenda items include a discussion of the RAC Subcommittee report on Madison River recreation; reports from the managers of the Butte, Dillon, and Missoula BLM field offices about activities in their areas; and other resource management issues the council may raise.

For a copy of the agenda, email David Abrams at dabrams@blm.gov.

Interested parties may make oral statements directly to the council during the 3:30 p.m. public comment period, or file written statements for the council to consider. While the meeting is scheduled from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., it may end earlier or later depending on the needs of group members. Therefore, members of the public interested in a specific agenda item or discussion should schedule their arrival accordingly.

The purpose of the RAC is to advise the Secretary of Interior, through the BLM, on a variety of issues associated with public land management. The 15-member RAC includes individuals who have expertise or education in the planning and management of public lands and resources.

Sign-up for surplus drawing licenses

Starting June 19, hunters can sign up for the Surplus License List, which is a list of leftover licenses that were not distributed by the drawing. The list will be randomized, with hunters at the top of the list contacted via email with instructions to finalize their purchase in a specified time.

Resident and nonresident hunters can sign up through the MyFWP portal. This process requires hunters to keep their email address current in their ALS record. Payment of the license fee is not required to sign up on the Surplus License List. Getting a license from this list has no effect on existing bonus points.

Hunters must finalize the purchase of the license/permit within the timeframe specified in the email; otherwise, the opportunity will be offered to the next hunter on the list. FWP may offer opportunities that have not sold out through the Surplus License List to customers at our internal and external license sale providers.

The timeframes to sign up for the various licenses and permits are as follows:

- Deer B and Elk B License: June 19 – July 19
- Deer and Elk Permits are not available

Nonresidents who hold a 2024 Combination License can hold a maximum of two Deer B Licenses in addition to their Combination License. Nonresidents without a 2024 Combination License can only hold a maximum of one Deer B License.

Nonresidents who hold a Nonresident Native License, Youth Combo License or Nonresident College Student Combination License may purchase Deer B and Elk B licenses at half price.

To sign up, go to myfwp.mt.gov/fwpExtPortal/myDrawResult_input.action.

For more information, contact the FWP licensing office at 406-444-2950 or fwplc@mt.gov.

Hunters register for the Game Damage Hunt Roster

Hunters interested in participating in game damage hunt opportunities need to register online for the Hunt Roster through MyFWP. The roster is used by Fish, Wildlife & Parks to quickly respond to landowners who are eligible for game damage assistance in the prevention or reduction of property or crop damage primarily caused by deer, elk and/or antelope.

Hunters also can register to be placed on a bison game damage roster. Occasionally, a bison is found outside of the authorized hunting season and outside of the bison tolerance zone. FWP is compiling a list of interested hunters to call for quick removal of the animal.

To register, hunters can log into their MyFWP account or click "look up draw results, register for lists" within the menu. Then select a preferred hunting district(s) for potential deer, elk, antelope and bison damage hunts and submit. Hunters are asked to sign up for districts where they know the landscape and can respond quickly to game damage issues typically within 24 to 48 hours.

The Hunt Roster sign-up closes Monday, July 15, and a randomly generated list will be created from the online registrations and will be posted to MyFWP accounts by July 20.

FWP will contact hunters if they are selected for a damage hunt opportunity via phone and/or email, so hunters are asked to ensure they have accurate contact information in their licensing profile. For more details on the FWP game damage assistance program visit: fwp.mt.gov/conservation/landowner-programs/game-damage-program.

Veteran's Corner Update #
 By Mike Lawson
Veteran News Updates:

- Flag Day was on the 14th of this month. Our United Veteran's Council, here in Butte, participated in a Flag Ceremony at the Elks in conjunction with the Civil Air Patrol and the Elks themselves. It was a great ceremony with a lot of meaning and respect for our country's flag. I was especially impressed with the young members of the Civil Air Patrol. If we have more of these type of kids coming into our future, this country will be in good shape.
- The Marine Corps League, in Butte, had a Coffee/Cookie fundraiser at the Anaconda rest-stop located on the I-90 turn-off followed by a Flag Day dinner on Saturday evening. The Coffee-Stop is always an occasion to visit travelers from all over. We met folks from Belgium, Australia, Canada, Poland, China and all over the US. Many were very generous and interesting to talk to. These fundraisers help us fund community projects, as well as pay the bills of our building and support other veteran programs. We had fun and many ate the bake goods our member's wives and friends had made. Of course, the workers had to have a sample or two as well.
- The veterans in SW MT will be involved in many upcoming activities happening around the 4th of July; such as, the Folk Festival, rodeos, county fairs and the list goes on. We continue to serve in ways that make a difference for our organizations, communities and most importantly, our families. If you see a veteran, give them a friendly hello.
- If you're a veteran and haven't applied for veteran benefits, it's never too late. Another veteran and myself took a 94-year-old Korean War Veteran to an appointment for compensation benefits this past week, and it went well. See a Veteran Representative, take your DD-214 paperwork you were discharged with and start the process.
- I talked with Tom Straugh, in Dillon and on Flag Day they had a Veteran Ceremony where they burned over 100 damaged/worn-out American flags. He also mentioned Harry (Skip) Bibee's funeral on this Friday, the 20th of June. It will be at 11:00 am at Brundage Funeral Home in Dillon. Skip was a past Board member of the SW MT Veteran's Home representing Beaverhead County and was involved with veterans and proud of his Crow Indian heritage. Please attend if you're in the area.

Montana Missing Indigenous Persons Task Force

Attorney General Austin Knudsen today announced appointments to the Montana Missing Indigenous Persons Task Force. The task force's main goals are to break down jurisdictional barriers and identify causes that contribute to missing and murdered Indigenous persons.

During the 2023 legislative session, Attorney General Knudsen supported Rep. Tyson Running Wolf's House Bill which extended the task force for 10 years and provided for a full-time program coordinator. The 10-year extension will help the task force members set and achieve long-term goals to better address the missing Indigenous persons crisis in Montana.

"I'm looking forward to working with this task force to find a solution to end the missing Indigenous persons crisis in Montana," Attorney General Knudsen said. "Today's meeting was productive and I'm confident the members are ready to take on this challenge. Together, we can find the missing and bring them home."

The following individuals were appointed or reappointed to the task force:

Alan Doane, representing the Montana Attorney General's Office
Yolanda Fraser, representing the Northern Cheyenne Tribe
Brian Frost, representing the Montana Department of Justice
Stacie FourStar, representing the Fort Peck Assiniboine & Sioux Tribes
Chrystal Hickman, representing the Montana Office of Public Instruction
Cheryl Horn, representing Fort Belknap Indian Community
Iris Kill Eagle, representing the Little Shell Chippewa Tribe
Danielle Matt, representing the Confederated Salish & Kootenai Tribes
Amanda Myers, representing the United States Attorney's Office
Haley Omeasoo, At-large member
Dr. Alan Ostby, representing the Indian Health Services
Derek Werner, representing Montana Highway Patrol
Jonathan Windy Boy, representing the Chippewa Cree Tribe of the Rocky Boy's Reservation
Sarah Wolfail, representing the Blackfeet Nation

Indigenous persons go missing at a higher rate than other races in Montana. Indigenous persons cases made up 31 percent of 1,386 total missing persons cases reported by law enforcement last year. However, thanks to the work of Montana law enforcement agencies, the 2023 clearance rate for missing Indigenous persons is currently 99 percent. Of the 693 Indigenous persons reported missing last year, five are still actively missing.
