DVFD Responds To Grass Fire Off Highway 91 South

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News
Saturday, August 3, Dillon Volunteer Fire Department responded to a small grass fire about one mile south of Barrett Hospital. The fire was burning in tall grass alongside the road and around a power pole.

Residents from nearby homes were already spraying the fire down and throwing dirt on it. With the help of the fire department, they were able to get the fire completely out and stop it from spreading.

Reminder Beaverhead County entered stage 2 fire restrictions on Friday. It is very dry out and requires little to start a fire. Do not throw anything hot out of your vehicle and make sure nothing is dragging that could cause a spark.

Letter to the Editor

We have all seen a petulant child throw a tantrum when told "NO". Now we have a disgruntled person tearing down "NO DOG" Signs around the Jaycee Park. Silly thing - do you think you can nullify this new city ordinance by this destruction? And i wonder if you realize that you are laying yourself open to a misdemeanor charge and probable fine?

I hope you will think through the time honoured encouragement "to do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

With my prayer for grownup behavior.
Val Neeley

Low flows trigger full fishing closure on section of Big Hole River

A section of the lower Big Hole River will be closed to fishing due to low flows starting Friday, Aug. 2.

The 18-mile closure area extends from the Tony Schoonen Fishing Access Site, commonly known as Notch Bottom, to the confluence with the Jefferson River. Flows in this area dropped below 100 cubic feet per second, which triggers a full fishing closure in accordance with the Big Hole River's drought management plan.

The rest of the Big Hole River upstream of Tony Schoonen Fishing Access Site is under hoot-owl restrictions, which prohibit fishing each day between 2 p.m. and midnight.

Fishing restrictions and closures like these are designed to protect fish that become more susceptible to disease and mortality when conditions, such as low flows and high water temperatures, combine with other stressors, including catch-and-release fishing.

Anglers can reduce stress on fish at all times of the year by getting fish to the net or in hand quickly, keeping them in the water, and reviving them prior to releasing them back into the river.

Preacher's Scheme

Bryce Angell

Preacher John had a job to do; to get old Sam baptized. But Sam was no believer. He didn't want a spiritual guide.

The Preacher, a God fearing man, had a mighty hefty goal. So he climbed into his buggy, and set out to save Sam's soul.

Preacher John arrived in time to see Sam's bucking filly. The horse was stomping his best hand while spinning him to dizzy.

The Preacher walked up slowly. Glared the filly in her eye. He said, "Before this day is done, you and I will go a try.

Now the preacher said to Sam that day, "You're needing of the spirit." But the words he said to Sam, might well have flushed 'em down the toilet.

Sam said, "I aint't no candidate for dunkin'in the water. But you wanna save my soul so I don't end up where it's hotter.

"I don't believe in Satan but I know there is a God. And for sure he's seen my good deeds from the trails that I've trod.

"I sure don't need baptizing just to save my sorry soul. Water's mighty scarce and I'd have to dig a hole."

The preacher was a clever man. He knew just what to do. He said, "Sam, if I ride your horse, will you join the Lord and crew?"

Sam's concern was for this man who'd given up his day, to see a sinner just like him, who wouldn't change his way.

Well Sam gave in to Preacher's bid. Sam knew he wouldn't lose. 'Cuz every man who tried the filly always paid their dues.

Sam cinched the saddle extra tight to hold the preacher's weight. John looked into Sam's inner soul. "Let's open up the gate."

The horse was throwing buckin' fits. What else was she to do? She'd never had a rider stay beyond a count of two.

The rider's face was calm no less. He knew what he did best. Before the cloth, rode saddle broncs much better than the rest.

The Preacher's ride was headline news, his fame now known to all. Would Sam negate his worthy fate and disappoint us all?

But Sam was taught all through his life- be honest, don't be mean. He'd lost his bet, but Preacher gave the best ride ever seen.

Sam dug the hole where he was baptized there about midstream. History in the making, from cowboy turned preacher's scheme.

Building

After months of talking about demo, Derek might be done! He's cleared the dust and debris from ten 15'x15' squares on the Virginia St. side. In later phases, he'll clear the rest of the building, but this should get us started for the manufacturing space and front of house.

Business / Community

This month, we submitted our state of Montana licensing paperwork for a Domestic Distillery License. To find out more what this entails, take a look at the Department of Revenue's Alcohol Beverage Control Division's guidance in <https://mtrevenue.gov/publications/domestic-distillery-license-form-mdla/> and https://mtrevenue.gov/wp-content/uploads/dlm_uploads/2024/04/Domestic-Distillery-License-Booklet-2024-Final.pdf

As construction progresses, we're also collecting various items we'll need to outfit the distillery: this month we picked up pallet racking, sinks, and a kegerator for ginger beer.

Distillery

In recent news, some of you may have heard that a federal judge in Texas ruled that the 1868 ban on home distilling is unconstitutional (unlicensed production of distilled spirits is currently a federal felony, punishable by up to five years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both). If the government appeals it, we hope this ruling is upheld so that more people might view home distilling the same as home brewing.

With summer berries everywhere, Katrina has been working on shrub recipes, including strawberry, mixed berry, chokecherry, kiwi gooseberry, and plum ginger. She's using the last of her rhubarb shrub to make mocktails with sliced strawberries, bruised mint, and topped with sparkling water (though in the evening, she'll often add a splash of vodka). Derek currently likes the kiwi gooseberry shrub with white rum and a dash of cardamom spirits.

Speaking of drinks, we have two slushie machines heading our way from Grand Rapids, MI. We'll craft delicious alcoholic slushies (think blackberry / lemon / vodka) and non-alcoholic slushies (think blackberry / lemon). In Wyoming, they call them sloshies, in New Orleans they have a whole slew of frozen cocktails. Here in Dillon, we'll just be happy to have cold drinks on these hot days.

Dillon Hi-lighters 4-H News
 By: Secret Petersen

The Dillon Hi-lighters 4-H club had their project tour and they met at Harvey's place where Jacob Harvey showed us his pigs for fair and explained what he fed them and how much they weighed. He also showed us his gardening project and showed us what he was growing and what was producing well and what wasn't. Then we stopped at Holt's where Guy Holt showed us his pigs for fair and he explained what he was trying to do to get ready for fair and how he was training them. We then went to the 4-H building and Secret Petersen showed us a watercolor painting that she did for her arts and crafts project and she explained what she was doing for her other projects. Celina Pape then showed us pictures of her praying mantids and explained what she was feeding them. Lacey Pape showed pictures of her cake decorating project. Mercedes Lentz made rice krispies for everyone to have and explained what she liked doing so far in her cooking project.

Jacob then said the American pledge and Guy said the 4-H pledge. We then said roll call which was, "What is your favorite thing to do at the beach?". Stephine Pape then gave the Secretary's report and Jacob gave the Treasurer's report. We then discussed what we had been up to for the past month and Guy shared about his trip to Alaska, Lacey talked about her trip to Europe, Celina talked about going fishing, and Secret talked about going to Tennessee. We discussed the nursing home petting zoo and we decided to do it on August 14. We are still trying to figure out a time for this.

Lacey and Stephine shared about the trip to Congress and they said that it was a lot of fun. Jacob shared about Beaverhead County weed day and explained about what areas they went to. We then discussed about the club party at Minneopah Lake and who was supposed to bring what. We then decided to first meet at the 4-H building at 10:00 and then we would meet up at the lake. We then took a vote for putting in a promotional display in the fair for our club but we decided no to do it. We then talked about the foods festival and if we were going to have one but we decided not to do one this year. We then talked about sponsoring the Most Quality Project Award and we decided that we would. We then discussed about families sending photos for the scrapbook. All entries for the fair are
