This Week in Bulldog Athletics - Aug. 12-18

VOLLEYBALL

Montana Western Volleyball opens up the season on Friday, August 16 at the season opening College of Idaho Preseason Tournament. The Bulldogs will play four games this weekend, kicking off a three-weekend road stretch to kick off the 2024 season.

Opening on Friday, the Bulldogs will face off with Viterbo University (Wis.) early in the morning and will follow later that evening with a contest against Morningside University (Iowa). They will then close out the tournament the following day with a matchup against the host College of Idaho, followed by a tough Eastern Oregon University later that same day.

The Bulldogs enter the 2024 season as the reigning Frontier Conference tournament champions after they capped off the historic 2023 campaign with an overall 22-8 record. The Bulldogs posted their highest win percentage since the 1996 season and made their first ever appearance in the NAIA Women's Volleyball National Tournament and went 1-2 overall. UMW was recently picked to finish first in the Frontier Conference in the preseason polls.

UMW will be returning 15 players from last season's conference championship squad, including all-conference players Danyel Martin, Jordan Olson, Jazi Smith, and all-freshman team selection Sophie Worden. In addition, the Bulldogs return standout libero Kelsey Goddard who was third in the conference for total digs (556) and fourth in the conference for digs per set (5.20) after last season.

"We are really excited about this year. We are bringing back a lot of our core after graduating only two seniors," Head Coach Katie Lovett said. "We have a really tough schedule ahead of us, not only in the Frontier Conference, but also with our out of conference schedule as well. We are really optimistic about it and excited about going against some really tough competition early on."

Child hospitalized in black bear attack south of Red Lodge

Around 10 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 11, a subadult female black bear attacked and injured a child inside a tent at a private campground south of Red Lodge.

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks game wardens and bear specialists responded to the incident. The bear was caught and euthanized the following day.

The child was transported to a medical facility in Billings. FWP staff set a trap at the campsite on Sunday night and worked with the campground owner to evacuate the campground by the morning of Aug. 12. Additional traps and snares were set when the campground was fully evacuated. The bear was captured on the afternoon of Aug. 12, and was shot and killed. FWP found unsecured attractants, including garbage, a cooler, and human food, around and inside the tent where the attack occurred.

The black bear involved in the incident had no history of conflicts. However, the bear had likely become food-conditioned and human-habituated after accessing unsecured attractants in the area. Evidence at the site matched the physical characteristics of the bear and FWP believes the bear killed was the bear involved in the attack.

FWP received support from the Red Lodge Police Department, Wyoming Game & Fish Department and the Carbon County Sherriff's Office on this incident.

Be bear aware

Montana is bear country. People should be prepared to encounter grizzly or black bears in Montana. Avoiding conflicts with bears is easier than dealing with conflicts. Here are some precautions to help avoid negative bear encounters while camping:

- Keep food and anything with a scent out of tents.
- Dispose of garbage in bear resistant bins; otherwise, take it with you and dispose of it properly elsewhere. Do not bury or burn garbage.
- Follow local land management agency food storage orders and properly store unattended food and anything else with a scent.

o Food storage options:

☐ Bear boxes
