Driver Of Overturned Semi Hauling Cream Succumbs To Injuries Sustained In Wreck

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

A press release from the Montana Highway Patrol today states that the 61 year old male driver from Burley Idaho has succumbed to the injuries sustained in the wreck that occurred on August 18, 2024.

The accident occurred on Interstate 15 when the vehicle was traveling southbound and went off the roadway to the left. The driver attempted to re-enter the roadway causing the vehicle to roll onto its driver's side.

Community Leaders Collaborate to Address

On Monday, August 26th, community leaders, school administrators, parents, and local business owners gathered at Bair Foot Gym to discuss critical issues surrounding afterschool transportation in Beaverhead County. The meeting focused on finding immediate and long-term solutions to the transportation challenges that have been impacting families and local businesses.

Key Issues Addressed:

Safety as a Priority: All stakeholders agreed that safety must remain the top priority in any transportation solution. The increasing complexity of bus routes and stops has led to confusion and potential safety risks, particularly during pick-up and drop-off times.

Financial Sustainability:

The high cost of transportation has been a major barrier. The proposed solution of an activity bus is promising but comes with a price tag too steep for any single entity to bear without raising activity fees, a move that could exclude low-income families.

Communication and Coordination: Recent changes in school leadership and delayed communication about transportation changes have caused frustration among parents and local businesses. There is a pressing need for earlier and clearer communication in the future.

Parent Hardships: Parents, especially those from dual-income families, voiced their concerns about the hardships these transportation challenges have caused. With no time to create alternative solutions before the start of the school year, many parents are struggling to balance work commitments with ensuring their children's safe transport to afterschool activities.

Voices from the Community:

Sara Bair, owner of Bair Foot Gym, expressed her concerns about the prohibitive costs of transportation for her business and the community at large. "As a business owner, I understand the importance of keeping tuition low to ensure accessibility for all families, especially those with at-risk kids who benefit from our programs," said Bair. "The cost of an activity bus is simply too high to shoulder alone, and raising tuition isn't an option. We need to come together as a community to find a solution that keeps our kids safe and engaged without creating financial burdens."

Megan Conrow, Superintendent and Principal of Beaverhead County High School, acknowledged the challenges faced by the school in managing transportation logistics. "Our priority is to ensure the safety of our students, but the current system is no longer manageable or sustainable. We need to explore options that allow us to meet the diverse needs of our community while maintaining safety and efficiency," Conrow stated.

Shelli & David Schuett, of Frontline Ag Solutions (concerned citizens of the John Deere store in Dillon), generously offered to cover the costs for September to keep the afterschool activities bus running. "We understand the importance of keeping these services uninterrupted for our community's children. By stepping in now, we hope to give our community the time it needs to find a temporary solution while working towards a longer-term, sustainable transportation strategy," Shelli Schuett said.

Opportunities for Collaboration:

The meeting highlighted several opportunities to address these challenges, including exploring state grants, community fundraising, and potential partnerships with local businesses. The possibility of expanding public transportation options in the long term was also discussed as a sustainable solution.

As the community continues to work together on these issues, the focus remains on ensuring that all children have safe and equitable access to afterschool activities, without placing undue financial strain on families or businesses.

If you are interested in supporting this initiative through time, resources, or other contributions, please contact Sara Bair at sarabair@ymail.com (and yes, its ymail, not gmail).

Veteran's Corner Update #270

By Mike Lawson

Veteran News Updates:

- Wednesday, the day that this paper will be on the stands, will be the day the "Vietnam Wall That Heals" will be be erected by the Montana Football Team and Volunteers in Butte at Father Sheehan Park. 8:00 is the start time. It will be open for the public to watch.
- Gold Star Families are families who lost a Veteran who was killed in Vietnam and whose name is on the Wall. If they are there, they will be allowed to walk with the panel that has their loved one's name on it as that panel is carried to it's frame place that's part of the wall.
- For you who are volunteers, at 6:00 pm a training session will take place and tee-shirts will be distributed. Everyday live Taps will be played by a local bugler.
- On Thursday the Opening Ceremony will be at 10:00 am, with three speakers and a Vietnam Veteran (myself) saying a few words. The Wall will be open until Sunday, with the Closing Ceremony being at 1:00 pm. Live Taps will be played at 2:00 pm when the exhibit will close.
- This is very special to the Vietnam Veterans who gave their lives and are on the Wall, but it's also a tribute to the many Vietnam Veterans who came home with the after-effects of Agent Orange, PTSD, etc. Many of those returning Vietnam Veterans have died but are remembered. Others who are alive, live with these conditions but carry on in life. We didn't get a good reception when we came home but this is one of the ways the healing balm for us is taking place. I invite you to visit this wall.

Until next time, take care.

Artist Reception At Tendoy Fine Art Gallery

The Tendoy Fine Art Gallery is hosting a reception highlighting the work of Susan Jarmon on Saturday 8/31/2024 from 1-4 PM at the gallery, 35 E. Bannack Street.

Susan has explored the Great Outdoors of SW Montana and her artworks reflect the stunning beauty and vibrant energy of this place she calls home. Susan uses the medium of watercolors to loosely recreate familiar scenes, stir our imagination of the natural world, and evoke the pride and inspiration associated with being in the presence of healthy waters, vividly colorful skies and "purple mountains' majesty".

Susan offers affordable quality, Montana-made artworks, gifts for you to give to others and gifts to give yourself.

Men's Basketball Announces Signing Class

The Montana Western Men's Basketball team has welcomed five signees in its 2024-25 signing class, the program announced. (the list will continue on following days)

We are excited to introduce our recruiting class for the 2024-25 season. Head Coach Pat Jensen said. Alan Kane | Guard | McLean, Va. / Balboa School (CA) / College of Southern ID

Kane is a 6-2 guard who joins the Bulldogs as a transfer from College of Southern Idaho and a 2022 graduate of Balboa School in California. Last season, Kane shot 43.9 percent from the field and 50.0 percent from the arc for the Golden Eagles. He hit a season high of 18 points and dished out 11 assists last season in a matchup against Community Christian College. Kane is the son of Richard Kane and Susan Thornton and plans to continue to pursue his degree in business while at Montana Western.

"Alan joins us as a very quick guard with great skills and high level basketball experience. His ability to get paint touches and defend make him a standout addition to our team," Jensen said. "Equally impressive is his dedication to academics. Alan is an incredible student who excels in the classroom as well as on the court. We're excited to see how his talents and work ethic will contribute to our program's success both academically and athletically."

Clarence Martin | Wing | San Diego, Calif. / Eduprize Gilbert HS / Cabrillo College

Martin is a 6-5 guard who joins the Bulldogs as a transfer from Cabrillo College and a 2021 graduate of Eduprize Gilbert High School. Last season for the Seahawks, Martin helped his team to a state tournament quarterfinal matchup while averaging eight points, 3.3 rebounds, and 1.7 assists per game. Throughout his career at Cabrillo, he averaged 8.8 points per game and hit 39.9 percent from the field. Martin is the son of Clarence Martin and Jessica Romero and plans to continue to pursue his degree in business.

"Clarence joins us after an impressive career at Cabrillo College, where he played a big role in leading the Seahawks to the California state tournament." Head Coach Pat Jensen said. "He brings valuable size, strength, and shooting ability to our roster. Clarence is a dedicated hard worker, and I am confident that he will continue to improve throughout his college career and make an immediate impact on our program."
