Head On Collision Results In Two Deaths

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The Montana Highway Patrol is reporting a tragic two-vehicle collision that occurred Saturday evening around 9:12 P.M. on Montana Highway 43 at mile marker 41.

The crash involved a Ford F-150 traveling westbound on a slight curve and a Toyota Tacoma heading eastbound. In a devastating turn of events, the Ford crossed the center line and collided head-on with the Toyota. Both vehicles became fully engulfed in flames in the aftermath of the collision.

Sadly, both drivers were pronounced dead at the scene, and their identities have not yet been confirmed. The investigation into the circumstances surrounding the crash is ongoing.

One Person Dead In Single Vehicle Accident Near Wisdom

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

On Friday afternoon, first responders were called to Highway 43 for a single-vehicle wreck.

According to the Montana Highway Patrol, a 24-year-old male driving a Toyota Rav4 from Potomac, MT veered off the road. The driver overcorrected while attempting to reenter the roadway, causing the vehicle to veer again to the right. It then left the road and overturned, ultimately coming to rest on its roof. Tragically, the driver was ejected from the vehicle and pronounced dead at the scene.

Beaverhead County High School News

The Innovative Educational Tax Credit program came about from the 2021 Legislative Session. It allows Montanans to receive dollar-for-dollar credits on their state income taxes for donations made to public school districts. It opens every year in January and it is first-come, first-serve across the state. Right now, the Department of Revenue is going to open it up again due to credit invalidation. There is $227,001 that can be claimed this fall. Schools are anticipating that it will be gone in minutes or even seconds! If you would like more information, please see the link on the BCHS website (www.bchsm.com) or call District Clerk Susanne Valach at 406-683-2361 ext 113 by September 27, 2024.

The Giving Tree

The Giving Tree gang is getting overwhelmed with the magnitude of the project. We are looking for an organization or church (or an individual with time & energy & a lot of friends) that would like to take the Giving Tree and continue it into the future. We would love to work with someone this year to show them our system, and then hand over the reins! We start working on the Giving Tree November 1- so you have time to think about it, talk around, and come up with a plan. This is a wonderful asset to our Community and a very rewarding community service. Call Gail at 406-660-2528 to find out more

Bulldogs Overpower College of Idaho in 42-25 Upset

The no. 9 ranked Montana Western football team racked up an impressive 541 total yards of offense in a 42-25 upset of the no. 3 ranked College of Idaho Yotes (2-1).

Bulldog quarterback Michael Palandri put on a show, throwing for a career-high 416 passing yards with four passing touchdowns and rushed for two on the ground.

"Just really proud of the guys and their focus and preparation going into the week. Offensively to be able to run the football proficiently and to stretch these guys and beat them vertically." Head Coach Ryan Nourse said. "For our defensive guys to stop the run and to force them to throw every down and to step up and make plays with some big third and fourth down stops. I am glad we could get a victory."

How It Happened: The Bulldogs were the first to light the scoreboard up in today's matchup, rattling off 21 unanswered points across the first quarter stretching early into the second quarter.

The first touchdown of the game would come following an explosive opening drive that saw the Bulldog offense march 76 yards down the field and score on a 36-yard touchdown pass to Eli Nourse.

After the Bulldog defense stopped the Yotes on fourth and six, the Bulldog offense marched down once more on an eight play and 91-yard drive that saw Palandri rush it in for a touchdown from the 1-yard line.

Leading 14-0 with 1:40 left in the first quarter, UMW's defense once again proved they were ready for a battle and forced a three and out that fueled another Bulldog scoring drive. Palandri tossed up a 44-yard touchdown pass to Dylan Shipley to push UMW to a 21-0 lead early in the second quarter.

The Yotes started to find some momentum on offense and added seven to the scoreboard with 9:37 left in the half.

Riding behind a 7 play, 80-yard drive, Palandri hit Nourse once more for another touchdown on a 44-yard touchdown pass.

A quick three and out forced by the Bulldog defense gave the Bulldog offense the ball back on their own 38-yard line. After the Yotes picked off Palandri's second pass of the drive, they would score in three plays to close scoring out for the half at 28-10.

The Yotes closed the scoring gap to 28-17 in the third but the Bulldogs answered and scored on a 66-yard toss to Jon Kirkley.

Western would score their final touchdown of the game within the first three minutes of the fourth after Palandri crossed the goal line after a two-yard rush. The Yotes would add one more score before closing the game out with the Bulldogs up by a final score of 42-25.

Bellies, Buckets, and Blazes

Bryce Angell

The cows and calves were tossed some hay. His brother's horse was fed. The chicken coop gave up twelve eggs while he thumped the rooster's head.

The morning chores were finished. He had breakfast with his wife. Three fried eggs and buttered toast, the same breakfast most of his life.

Then to a quiet morning with his cup filled to the brim, he reflected on the little things that meant the most to him. His tomatoes had escaped their fate from early frost last night.

They were underneath a blanket staying red and juicy ripe. In the distance he could hear a flock of hungry honking geese.

Today those moments filled him with a quiet sense of peace. But his peaceful, tranquil morning was about to turn to dire.

Somewhere in the distance a shrieking voice was screaming, fire! He stood up to attention. Took a whiff to smell some smoke.

Then crossed his fingers and his toes and hoped it was a joke. Then he saw the smoke come rolling from the barn up to the sky.

He'd paid his fire insurance and now he knew the reason why. When the hay barn catches fire and the tractor's still inside, there ain't no time to dawdle or your Massey will be fried. He grabbed an orange bucket, the first one he could find.

And he prayed the ditch had water. He was racing, running blind. He found some water in the ditch and filled his bucket full.

Then couldn't help but notice he'd grabbed a bucket with a hole. He poured his half-full bucket on the tractor and the fire.

Could he invent a better way? He sure weren't no McGiver. By now he had no energy and completely out of breath.

The spare tire around his middle might just be his early death. A good friend told him years ago, "Your gut ain't no disgrace."

It helps you look much younger, pulls the wrinkles from your face." A fire truck sped on past him and they promptly doused the blaze.

Being out of breath and dizzy he was standing in a haze. The firemen gave him O2 and they brought him back to worth.

He thanked the men and promised that he'd rid his extra girth.

His proud wife baked a chocolate cake. He could eat with every meal. And the devil on his shoulder said, "Go ahead, it's no big deal."

Vogl's Career Night Leads Bulldogs Past Skylights

The no. 13 ranked Montana Western volleyball team opened their 2024 Frontier Conference slate this evening with a 3-1 victory over the MSU-Northern Skylights.

Bulldog middle blocker Peyton Vogl tallied a career-high 22 kills with a .313 hitting percentage in the game, in addition to adding six blocks on the defensive side of the ball.

"I think we played really well for our first conference game tonight. We knew going into the game that Northern is a very scrappy team that stays around and has very good defense," Vogl said. "We had a slow start but once we found our momentum we took it and ran. Our offense did a really good job staying aggressive and mixing up shots, while our defense did really well staying scrappy. Overall, I think we are happy to come out with our first conference win, but not satisfied and are ready to get to more conference games next week."

game, the Bulldogs battled point for point and tied the game at 18 following a solo block from Dani Brown. A block from Vogl and Jordan Olson paired with a kill from Vogl kept UMW tied at 20 with the Skylights, but the Bulldogs were unable to stay up and fell in the first set 25-23 to MSUN.
 Kelsey Goddard got UMW back on track early in the second set, serving UMW to a 4-0 lead. Jazi Smith added to the lead with back-to-back service aces. MSU-Northern did not lay down and fought their way back into the set with a 8-1 scoring run to take an 18-15 lead. After falling to a 20-17 deficit, a well-timed timeout flipped momentum and the Bulldogs went on to win the set 26-24.
 Five kills from Vogl got UMW on track in the third set. Up 9-8, UMW rode behind a 7-0 scoring run to a 16-8 lead. The Skylights battled back, but it was too late as the Bulldogs ran on to a 25-21 set three win.
 UMW closed out the match with an easy 25-12 victory in set four. They went on to hit .310 across the set with just two hitting errors and 11 kills.

The confirmation cards that you receive in the mail will reflect those changes.
 *Please note that these are the same districts that you voted on in the 2024 Primary Election. The changes to the house and senate districts were made prior to the primary election.
 If you have any questions, please call the Election Office at 683-3720.

Beavers Take Win Over The Wildcats

A rematch was on everyone's mind Friday night as the Dillon Beavers took on the Columbia Falls Wildcats at Vigilante Field. Last year's State Championship came down to these two teams at Vigilante Field, and the Wildcats were looking for payback. Dillon would take the game 21-7.

Five minutes into the game, Dillon's Hank Hagenbarth scored a touchdown, and the board showed 7-0 until the fourth quarter.

Hagenbarth would score another touchdown, and junior running back Jrney Mataafa would make a 20-yard touchdown as well. The Beavers came out on top 21-7 and will play next Friday on the road against the Frenchtown Broncos.
