Gregory "Gig" Gibbons

Gregory "Gig" Gibbons, of Polaris, Montana, aged 74, cast his last line on July 28, 2024, due to complications from Glioblastoma brain cancer.

Gig was admired and well-liked for his quirky sense of humor, adventurous spirit, and indefatigable skill in pursuit of wild critters and noble fishes. Known as the "fish whisperer" by many, he was an explorer of wilderness rivers, an amateur historian, a world traveler, and a consummate craftsman of all he built. He will certainly be remembered for the unique and passionate way he lived his own life, and through his actions, he inspired others to strive to be at their best.

Born May 8, 1950, in Evanston, Illinois to Shirlee (Tate) and optometrist Gregory "Doc" Gibbons, he was the eldest of 7 children. He grew up in Cambridge, Minnesota where he nurtured his love of nature by endlessly exploring the north country forests and lakes. Following the sudden death of a dear high school friend, he moved to Missoula to attend the University of Montana. Gig's fondness for the Treasure State was deeply rooted in history because his grandfather Tommy Gibbons famously fought Jack Dempsey for the world heavyweight championship in Shelby, Montana on July 4, 1923.

After three years of college, he chose to pursue the dream of canoeing the Yukon River. Before the age of cell phones, GPS, and fancy gear, he loaded up his Grumman canoe with a Eureka tent, supplies, rifle, and youthful courage to face the arduous 2,000-mile trek. During this 4-month adventure he joined a National Geographic expedition rafting the river. He helped them build a cabin from the raft logs which was well-chronicled in a 1975 issue of the legendary magazine. One of the few who finished the journey, Gig was caught in a blizzard and blindly sought refuge on a sandbar for the night. The next morning, under a cloudless sky as the temperature dropped precipitously, he wildly paddled almost 70 miles to reach the final village. Within a few days, the river started to freeze up. He'd survived with a story for the ages.

Gig's next adventure was moving to Dillon, Montana with his new wife, Kayleen, where they raised their two children, Zane and Lacey (affectionately known as "Monkey" by her dad). Gig was an adoring father who worked hard to provide the things they needed and shared the wonderment of the outdoors. He taught them to fish, hunt, ski, camp, have a sense of humor and thirst for adventure. He gave them the precious gift of time together to nurture and guide them into their adult lives. Gig was very proud of his family, and they brought him great joy.

He wore many hats before he would retire after decades employed as a fisheries technician for Montana Fish, Wildlife, and Parks. He felt very fortunate to have a job he loved in a magnificent state. He was affectionately known to his co-workers as "Gag" and thought of as "legendary" to those who witnessed his enthusiasm, work ethic, professionalism, and dedication to the native fishes of Montana.

Gig's next life journey led to Barbara Kay (Landgraf), whom he wed and adventured with for 30 amazing years. They travelled the world, enjoyed the great outdoors, hand-crafted their cozy mountain home and lived life to the fullest. They were happiest on the road wandering in their Alaskan Camper, hunting, fishing, hiking, paddling, or just exploring. Gig cherished the bond of companionship with their German Wirehaired Pointers. His grit of pursuing birds, working as a team in the fields and mountains, was well-known. His thirst for learning was deepened while he and Barbara Kay intimately experienced the peoples and cultures of over 70 countries. Oh, the stories he could tell, as only Gig could do! He became the first to find his Irish family's humble homestead and shared the history of his ancestors from County Mayo, Ireland.

Never content, Gig challenged himself to become an accomplished spey-rod-wielding fisherman. During his last years this became his "happy place" pursuing wild steelhead every fall in the pristine waters of northern British Columbia. He was a proud sponsor of Pheasants Forever, Ducks Unlimited, Trout Unlimited, and the Steelhead Society of British Columbia conservation groups.

Gig's life was deepened by his devoted family. He is survived by his cherished wife of 25 years, Barbara Landgraf Gibbons of Polaris, MT, daughter Lacey (Tony Matts) Gibbons of Seattle, WA, son Zane (Julie) Gibbons of Colville, WA; grandchildren Kestin, Addison, and Tate Gibbons; sisters Mary and Sue; brothers Mike, Joe and Mark; numerous nieces and nephews. Preceding him in death was his youngest sister Molly (Tom) Pauly and parents' "Doc" and Shirlee Gibbons.

In accordance with Gig's wishes, no formal service will take place. A celebration of his life's adventures with family and friends will be held at a later date.

Gig was committed to helping others who may benefit from his Glioblastoma journey. Follow the link to see Gig in some video prepared by staff at the Ivy Brain Tumor Center at Barrow Neurological Institute or to provide support: <https://giveto.supportbarrow.org/GigGibbons>

Memorials may also be given to The Steelhead Society of British Columbia.

Gig will be deeply missed and forever, cherished in the hearts of his family and dear friends.

Montana Western Home Rodeo This Weekend

The Montana Western men's and women's rodeo teams are excited to represent Montana Western and the Dillon community this weekend as they host the annual Montana Western Home Rodeo on Sept. 27-28 at the Beaverhead County Fairgrounds.

The weekend rodeo is the final rodeo of the fall season, with action ramping back up in April next spring.

Prior to the action, there will be a rodeo welcome social hosted by Atomic 79 at 4pm. Action will then begin on Friday night at 7 p.m. for the first performance of the weekend. The Saturday slack begins at 8 a.m. with the Calcutta immediately following at 1:30 p.m. at The Den. The short-go will then bring our top competitors in each event back to the arena at 7 p.m. for championship night.

Both Friday and Saturday night will be streamed on the Cowboy Channel app, with the slack being streamed on the Montana Western Athletics YouTube page.

Entry to the rodeo will cost $15 for general admission each night. Concessions will be hosted by the Montana Western women's basketball team. Rodeo programs will be on sale for $5 a program.

Heading into this weekend, the men's rodeo team sits in second place in the region standings with the women's team in a close fourth place behind the University of Montana.

Friday night's performance will feature numerous Bulldogs in various events.

In bareback riding, Cooper Olaveson and Jeremy Kay will both get a ride on Friday. Olaveson is currently sitting in third overall in the region with a total of 245.5 points. Kay follows just behind with 216 points heading into the weekend.

Heading in to steer wrestling, five Bulldogs will be featured in the event including 2024 CNFR qualifiers Jake Deveraux and Jhet Murphy. Carson Daniels, Cole Trexler, and Tatum Hansen round out the five. Hansen is in sixth in the region with 126 points this fall season.

Goat tying will feature Erin McGinley, Jaycie Richey, and 2024 CNFR goat tying short-round qualifier and current Big Sky Region leader Tavy Leno.

Three pairs of UMW team ropers will run on Friday night. Desi Coombs and Teely Bott, Jake Miller and Everitt Mauler, and Leno and Jacee Winward will be featured in the event.

A whopping five Bulldog men will be competing in saddle bronc riding this year, including Chase Martin who is leading the Big Sky Region in the event and 2024 CNFR qualifier Cade Costello who sits in third in the region. Olaveson and Paul O'Hair will also be competing in the event, as well as Carson Klingler who will make his first appearance in the event this fall.

Veteran's Corner Update

By Mike Lawson

Greetings to all of you who read my SW MT Veteran update articles.

Veteran News Updates:

• I'm a Veteran's Advocate on many fronts, with The VA Healthcare system being right there on the top of the list. We who are enrolled in VA health care have access to a wide-range of services. These include checkups, surgeries, home health care, telehealth services, mental health services and the list goes on. I've been under this topnotch VA healthcare for at least 25 years and there's nothing better out there, in my opinion. If you or a Veteran you know is not enrolled, here are some ways to do it: 1) See a Veteran Representative 2) Apply in person at a VA medical center or clinic 3) Connect with the Veterans Crisis Line (988 and press 1) and 4) Make sure you have your DD 214 or any other paperwork you received during your time in the military.

• I just read an article that PTSD symptoms may show up later in a veterans life because of life changes, such as retirement. It's never too late to seek treatment as healing can occur at any age. The VA has many resources/treatments available. Behavioral Health is a great source for help and information. I've gotten great help at Behavioral Health at Fort Harrison.

There are a couple of important Veteran events coming up that I'm involved with. The first one is our kickoff for Toys For Tots on October 16th. We'll be putting toy boxes and donation containers out at that time in Butte, Dillon, Ruby Valley, Whitehall and in Harrison, Mt.. It's all about kids.

The second one is the Marine Corps's Ball on Nov 8th. The Annex of the Civic Center will be our Venue. Metals is the Caterer, we have a band and an auction. Our guest speaker will be Judge Jerome McCarthy and a marine ceremony will be conducted by the Marine Corps League Detachment #724. It's always fun and you are all invited to this fun filled night. We're now selling tickets, so call me, Mike, at 406-560-3591.

Until next time, take care.
