Engine 18 to be Recognized at 2024 Bulldog Bash

The University of Montana Western is excited to announce that this year's Bulldog Bash will recognize the extraordinary contributions of Engine 18, a tailgating fire engine turned community cornerstone. Originally built in 2017 by a group of UMW alumni and sports fans in Dillon, Engine 18 has evolved from a highly anticipated tailgating experience into a key player in raising funds for athletic scholarships at Montana Western.

Named in honor of former Bulldog football player MJ Simkins, Engine 18 pays tribute to Simkins' legacy after his life was tragically cut short. MJ wore the number 18, symbolizing his deep connection to Dillon and Beaverhead County. Today, Engine 18 continues to carry his spirit through its ongoing support of UMW student-athletes.

Engine 18's dedication to UMW athletics and the community is undeniable. Their efforts have made a lasting impact on both the university and the Dillon community. We are proud to honor Engine 18 for its incredible support and the meaningful legacy it continues to build in honor of past Bulldog players and coaches.

"It is a profound honor to be recognized by UMW athletics at this year's Bulldog Bash. This achievement reflects the hard work and dedication of Engine 18 volunteers and the communities of UMW, Dillon, and Beaverhead County. What started as a vision for a great tailgate experience grew into an organization of like-minded volunteers committed to leaving a lasting impact. We hope the student-athletes and families we support will continue to pay it forward, keeping Engine 18's legacy strong for future Bulldogs," said Mark Simkins.

The generosity of Engine 18 extends far beyond tailgating and scholarships. In a remarkable effort to further support Montana Western athletes, Engine 18 has developed a program to provide locally sourced beef to UMW student-athletes. Thanks to generous donations from local ranchers and the hard work of the Engine 18 crew, this initiative ensures that student-athletes have access to quality food, especially those who may struggle to afford essentials like meat.

We're excited to celebrate and support Montana Western student-athletes at this year's Bulldog Bash. Please join us on Saturday, October 12, in the Keltz Arena on the Montana Western campus. Doors open at 5:00 p.m., featuring a no-host bar provided by The Den and a brisket dinner.

Tickets are still available and can be purchased online at tinyurl.com/umwbulldogbash2024 or by calling Kelly Allen at 406-683-7306. If you'd like to donate to the silent or live auction, please contact Jolene Robbins at 406-683-7303.

FWP seeks responses to a river recreation survey

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks would like to hear from the public about their river recreation experience. A survey is available on the FWP website on the River Recreation Advisory Council page.

The rising popularity of river activities in certain areas has led to challenges, such as conflicts among users and different types of recreation. Additionally, FWP has received feedback about congestion on waterways and at access sites. While most agree on the importance of protecting aquatic and terrestrial resources, opinions vary on the best methods for managing river recreation.

Input from this survey, along with feedback received during public workshops earlier this month, will be used by the newly appointed River Recreation Advisory Council (RRAC). The RRAC will hold discussions on managing river recreation opportunities and use information gathered during these discussions to help develop strategies to ensure high-quality experiences for all river users across Montana. Members of the RRAC were recently selected by FWP Director Dustin Temple. They are Derek Young of Lakeside, Todd Frank of Missoula, Ben Schmidt of Missoula, Abbey Thomas of Gardiner, Andrew Bennett of Dillon, Scott Vollmer of Bozeman, Robert Ray of Helena, Samuel Schmidt of Great Falls, Ross Johnson of Great Falls, Dante Bonanini of Saint Xavier, Jeremy Gilbertson of Billings and Marcus Strange of Helena.

The council will meet in person for a three-day workshop Oct. 16-18. Additional virtual meetings in October may occur if necessary.

The RRAC's final recommendations will be presented at a virtual meeting in early November. All meetings will be open to the public; information about how to join will be posted on the RRAC webpage at a later date.

Tightening my belt till it hurts

by Jase Graves

In the current economy, when a visit to the grocery store requires a long-term financing plan, it has become clear that our family must find ways to spend less. This is especially challenging for us considering that we have two daughters in college, one daughter in private school, and three pets, all of whom seem determined to ensure that we won't be able to purchase hamburger meat without selling our plasma.

Our first step toward financial freedom, or at least parole, involved canceling our lawn service. Tragic, I know! This meant I had to exhumate my vintage Craftsman push lawnmower that had been comfortably decomposing in our storage shed for the past three years, or so.

After replacing a spark plug, adding some oil of unknown origin, and praying for the souls of Briggs and Stratton, I had exhausted my vast knowledge of troubleshooting small combustion engines. So, I resorted to seeking help and risking ridicule from my mechanically inclined cousin. Unfortunately for me, he soon had me back to inhaling hydrocarbons, sweating profusely, and wishing for the good old days when I could compliment my lawn guy and go back inside to take another hit of aerosol whipped cream.

I had also forgotten about the toll mowing takes on my post-middle-aged carcass. When I finished the yard for the first time in a while, I felt like I had participated in an aggressive one-on-one match against U.S. Woman's Rugby Olympian Ilona Maher . . . and lost . . . badly. The next day, I could barely move – except to go to church in hopes that the sermon would focus on those verses about someday getting a new, glorified body that doesn't require a steady regimen of Tylenol and lying prone on our bedroom floor whining, instead of doing the lumbar stretches my doctor prescribed.

The cancellation of our weekly swimming pool service compounded my budgetary heartbreak. Gone were the Fridays when I could come home to crystal-clear pool water and a door hanger indicating that the pool had been brushed, vacuumed and tested by technicians who could do it without complaining to their wives that no one ever swims in the pool anymore – except for the occasional bullfrog, possum, or hyperactive (and not terribly bright) pet doglet accidentally falling in while trying to chase our antique Polaris pool sweeper.

I do admit that, nowadays, I sometimes strip down to take a brief dip in the pool after mowing, and I may or may not risk traumatizing the neighbors and being arrested by doing so in my underwear.

Our final act of supreme sacrifice was to cancel most of our TV and movie streaming services. This has probably been the easiest adjustment for me since I rarely had time to watch anything other than cable news networks, none of whom tell the whole story, so I had to watch all of them in order to get my blood pressure elevated properly. I do miss the nerve-induced nausea I experienced watching my beloved Texas A&M Aggies play football on TV, but I can almost get the same sensation that I'm about to toss my tacos by listening to the games on the radio.

The government has been assuring us lately that the economy is improving and inflation is declining, so I guess there is reason for hope. I just wish someone would tell the hamburger meat.

Buy a Montana Migratory Bird License, help protect wetland habitat

Waterfowl season across Montana opens on Sept. 28, which is a reminder for hunters and bird enthusiasts alike about the importance of wetland habitat for migrating waterfowl and other wetland dependent species.

This year Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks launched a new Migratory Bird Stamp to help raise awareness about the importance of wetland habits across the state. The new stamp is commemorative only and not required to hunt in Montana. Every person who purchases a 2024 Migratory Bird Stamp will receive a free collectable sticker showing the winning artwork, information about the Migratory Bird Wetland Program and information about how to make additional contributions.

The new Migratory Bird Stamp also helps to raise awareness about the work FWP does with private landowners and other conservation partners to conserve and enhance wetland habitat. FWP's Migratory Bird Wetland Program helps landowners and other conservation partners develop and fund projects that conserve, enhance, restore or create high-quality wetland habitat.

Wetland restoration projects are critical for many wildlife and aquatic species and for agriculture operation enhancements like flood control, groundwater recharge, stock water management, irrigation efficiencies and dependable water sources.

The art contest for the 2025 Montana Migratory Bird Stamp will begin in October. More information on this contest will be issued in the coming weeks.

The new stamp program is supported by conservation partners the Montana Outdoor Legacy Foundation, Montana Backcountry Hunters and Anglers and Montana Audubon. These organizations contributed to the prize money for the 2024 art contest as well as help to promote the Migratory Bird Wetland Program.

If you value wetland restoration and conservation and want to contribute, a simple way is to purchase a migratory bird license, which also requires a conservation license and a base hunting license. If you would like to donate to wetland restoration and conservation, go to the Montana Outdoor Legacy Foundation website. Here you will also be able to purchase a commemorative print of this year's winning artwork for $150, with the money going to wetland conservation and restoration efforts.

Home School Students
As Beaverhead County's public schools move toward the first day of school, those parents who wish to home school their children are also preparing for the new school year. Parents must notify the County Superintendent of Schools (Mike Miller) that their child is (or children are) being homeschooled.
The mandatory information parents need to provide the Superintendent's office is (1) a written notice of the intent to home school and (2) the "Notification of Opportunity to Participate in Federally-funded Program" Form. These forms are available at the Superintendent's office, on the County's website, or may be requested through an email or phone call at 406.683.3737. The Superintendent's email address is mmiller@beaverheadcountymt.gov. These forms take approximately 5-6 minutes to fill out and can be completed right in the office.
Parents must file these documents as soon as possible, but certainly before 1 October 2024.

WORKWEAR

Take Hemp to Work

There's a reason why industrial hemp is the original work canvas. As a crop, it grows quickly with little to no irrigation, and can restore nutrients to topsoil. As a textile, it's durable, breathable and comfortable right off the shelf.

Come on down to the Patagonia Dillon Workwear Outpost, the largest selection of industrial hemp workwear under one roof.

BEAVERHEAD BUS BRIGADE

WHEELS IN MOTION

Fundraiser in the Works!

The Beaverhead Bus Brigade Fundraiser Marketing Campaign Brief is complete, and we're getting ready to roll out an exciting campaign to raise the funds we need to keep the wheels turning for our kids. Stay tuned for more details—big things are on the horizon!

Let's Keep the Wheels in Motion!

We couldn't do this without all of YOU! Whether you've volunteered, donated, or simply spread the word, your support is keeping the wheels in motion for the Beaverhead Bus Brigade. Thank you for being part of this journey with us! Stay tuned for more updates, and we look forward to seeing you at Shine Studio on the 28th!

Warmly,
The Beaverhead Bus Brigade Team
Sara, Maria & Cindy

"What do you call a bus full of kids telling jokes? "

Answer: "A pun ride!"

Survey Says...

Volunteers Galore!

Our volunteer survey brought in an incredible response! Individuals and businesses from across the community are eager to pitch in and help the Beaverhead Bus Brigade get rolling. Your support has been overwhelming, and we can't thank you enough for stepping up!

Spreading the Word

Sara proudly represented the Bus Brigade at the Montana Nonprofit Association Committee Meeting, sharing our mission and vision with nonprofit leaders from across the state. We're grateful to have her spreading the word and getting others excited about what we're building here in Beaverhead County!

Stay in touch :

Please allow for 24 hours for a response.

BEAVERHEAD BUS BRIGADE

Parents, Friends & Neighbors,

The wheels are officially in motion at the Beaverhead Bus Brigade, and we're excited to bring you the latest updates! From forging partnerships to hitting the front page, we've been hard at work ensuring reliable transportation for our kids' after-school activities. Here's what's been happening:

Making Headlines!

We've been all over the local news! Not only have we hit the front page twice (highlighting both sides of the bus issue), but we also saw our press release about the Community Meeting published in the Dillonite and local newspapers. We love the buzz and hope you've seen the Brigade getting the attention it deserves!

Navigating the Insurance Highway

Maria, Sara, and Cindy have been reaching out to multiple insurance agencies to secure the best coverage for the Brigade. They, along with Sara Nye and WenDee Clouner, took a deep dive into the world of insurance to make sure we've got everything we need to safely transition from the Bus Barn to a private entity. We're well on our way to being covered from bumper to bumper!

Teaming Up for Success

Sara & Maria have been forming key partnerships, starting with a fantastic meeting with Superintendent Conrow, Bus Barn Director, Shawn Lenegar, and Bus Barn Secretary, Tara DeCock.

We've defined roles and expectations as we transition from the school districts bus service to our very own Beaverhead Bus Brigade. Together, we're keeping things on the right track.

MARK YOUR CALENDARS Sat. Sept. 28th @ 10am Shine Studio!

We're inviting everyone to join us at Shine Studio (512 N. Washington St.), where we'll officially form subcommittees and select committee chairs. If you're passionate about after-school transportation and want to make a difference, this is your chance to get involved. Don't miss it!
