When Gene Kicked InBryce Angell*

Shoeing time comes all too soon. I always dread the day. So I picked out one good sorrel who'd be easy all the way.

The sorrel never misbehaved while nailing on horseshoes. I used to think, while shoeing her, I could prob'ly take a snooze.

I commenced to shoe the sorrel, scraped the hoof till it was clean. That's when I heard the raspy voice. Looked up and there was Gene.

Gene made his presence early on a Sunday afternoon and promptly won the title of the neighborhood buffoon.

He weren't a bit religious but he always called me brother. He could talk your ear off then he'd promptly start in on the other.

He said, "I saw you out here slapping on a few horseshoes. I'm here to spend some time and give advice that you could use."

When it came to nailing horseshoes Gene was way out of his league. He asked me what the shoes looked like and how much glue we'd need.

I told him he could help if he'd stand back and hand me tools. I'd bet if you searched Webster you'd see my picture next to fools.

So, again I reached the sorrel's foot, pulled it up between my knees. She lost her footing, jerked on back. Her foot pulled from my squeeze.

I must have hollered whoa then Gene the looney, crazy nut, stepped right next to the sorrel and he kicked her in the gut.

His stunt was unbelievable. Even for a goof like Gene. 'Cuz what he did was as crazy as screen doors in a submarine.

Gene scared the sorrel half to death. She flung me with her nose. I crashed down like a burlap sack filled with potatoes.

I landed on my back, all I could see was thrashing hooves. I tried to find my wits while dodging all the sorrel's moves.

At last the sorrel took off running. Gene offered me a hand. But the words I soundly blessed him with surely shook the Motherland.

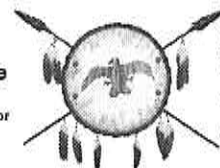

Gene rode off on his chopper. Haven't seen a hair of him. And I won't be soon forgetting the day when Gene kicked in.

Secretary Christi Jacobsen: 'Absentee ballot packets sent to Montana's active, registered absentee voters'

Absentee ballots are on the way to Montana's active, registered absentee voters, said Montana Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen.

"Montana's 56 county election offices are mailing absentee ballot packets to registered absentee voters today as the 2024 General Election is well underway," said Secretary Jacobsen. "As a reminder, Montanans can track their absentee ballot using the resources available at VoteMT.gov. They can also find their sample ballot and polling place while confirming their voter registration information is correct."

"State and local election officials are honored to assist all Montana voters," added Secretary Jacobsen.

Secretary Jacobsen said roughly 500,000 absentee ballot packets have been issued. Montana's 2024 General Election Absentee Ballot Count by County report is available on the Secretary of State's website (<https://sosmt.gov/elections/absentee-ballot-count/>). The report will be updated by county election officials as Montanans return their voted ballots. Ballots must be returned by 8 p.m. on Election Day, Tuesday, November 5.

If voters have questions about receiving, voting or returning their ballot, they may contact their county election office. Contact information is available on the Secretary of State's website and VoteMT.gov

Bulldogs Takedown The Orediggers

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The No. 7 ranked Montana Western football team (4-1) squared off against the No. 12 ranked Montana Tech Orediggers (4-2) Saturday afternoon, emerging victorious with a final score of 27-21 in a closely contested matchup.

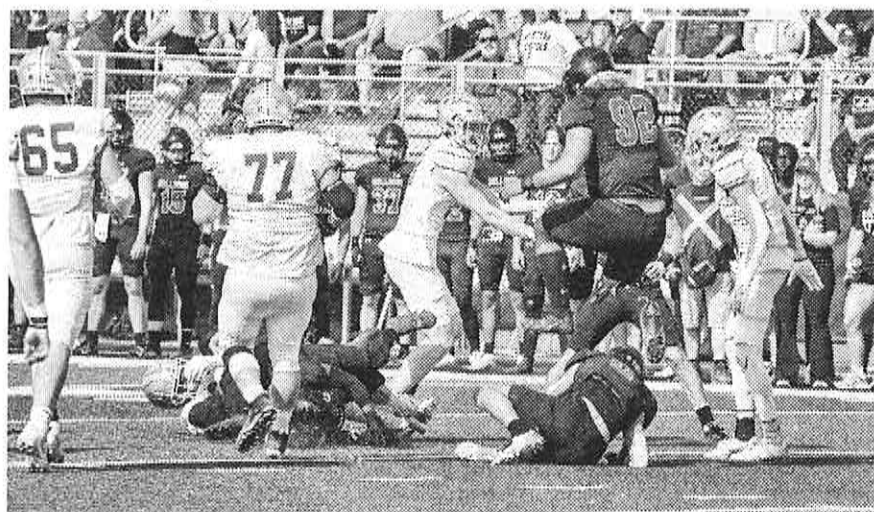

The Bulldogs' defense put on an impressive performance, limiting the Orediggers to just one conversion on 10 third-down attempts and holding them to a total of 330 yards of offense throughout the game. Defensive Stars Shine

Senior defensive back Braden Swank was a standout for the Bulldogs, recording two interceptions in the first half, in addition to three pass breakups and two tackles. His efforts were instrumental in shifting the momentum in favor of Montana Western.

Game Recap: Montana Tech struck first, executing an efficient drive that culminated in a touchdown, putting them ahead 7-0 early in the game. The Orediggers carried that lead into the second quarter, but things quickly turned around.

The second quarter saw a flurry of defensive plays, with three consecutive interceptions, including two from Swank. Following the second interception, the Bulldogs drove 80 yards down the field, capped off by a 41-yard touchdown pass from Michael Palandri to Jake Humphrey, tying the game at 7-7.

The Bulldogs then forced a turnover on downs at the UMW 37-

Second Half Action: The second half began with Bulldogs kicker John Mears nailing a 49-yard field goal to extend the lead to 17-7. Montana Tech responded with a touchdown rush from Landers Smith, closing the gap to 17-14 with just under five minutes left in the third quarter.

The Bulldogs answered back decisively with an 85-yard drive resulting in a rushing touchdown by Palandri, bringing the score to 24-14. A quick three-and-out by the Bulldog defense was followed by Mears' second field goal of the game, this time from 22 yards out, pushing UMW's lead to 27-14.

Montana Tech managed a late-game touchdown with less than a minute remaining, making the score 27-21, but the Bulldogs held on for the victory.

Election Ballot Issues

By: MJ

State government has mailed out an Informational Pamphlet explaining ballot issues; CI-126, CI-127 and CI-128. The pamphlet lists the arguments for and against the issues. This is an easy read.

On your ballot will see Constitutional INITIATIVES; CI-126; CI-127; & CI-128 listed. The pamphlet you received in mail will help you made your decision, "for or against" CI-126 that will amend the Montana Constitution.

Following are some thoughts that appear CI-126 may affect.

1. None of the candidates running for elected offices would have to identify or admit to a party preference or affiliation such as, Republican, Democrat, Liberal...
2. All qualified candidates will appear on the ballot grouped by the office title they are running for. Example: Governor, State and Federal Senators/Representatives...
3. The top four (4) candidates listed with the most votes on the primary ballot would advance to the General Election ballot regardless of their party connection.
4. If CI-126 is accepted by the people the Montana Constitution would then be amended to reflect the changes.
5. If CI-126 is rejected by the people then the candidates will appear on the ballot as they do today identifying their party affiliation such as Republican, Independent, Democrat...

Questions: 1) Would this make it easier for outside money to have an impact on Montana's elections. 2) Is this election showing us what millions of dollars coming from outside money does to destroy opponents in ugly ways? 3) Hatefulness does not usually get us anyway yet those who wish to control the voting system will do anything to get control. 4) What requirements, what information do you want to see about the candidates you vote for? Does CI-126 take away your right to know? 5) Would you like to see media personal's biased opinions? 6) If CI-126 passes will a primary election even me necessary? 7) Does this initiative take away more of our freedoms away?
