Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

A pedestrian was tragically struck and killed by a train on Friday morning, October 25, 2024. The incident occurred near the train's intersection with Trapper Creek Road at approximately 10 a.m.

Details surrounding the circumstances of the accident remain limited as authorities continue their investigation. Emergency responders were dispatched to the scene, but unfortunately, the pedestrian did not survive the incident.

No further information has been released at this time. We will provide updates on this developing story as more information becomes available. Local authorities urge residents to exercise caution around railroad crossings and remain vigilant for their safety.

DCI conducts human trafficking operation in Missoula

The Montana Department of Justice Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI), Missoula County Sheriff's Office, and Missoula Police Department, conducted a human trafficking operation in Missoula this week which led to the arrest of eight individuals, Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced today.

Each individual was arrested and faces pending charges for patronizing a prostitute and one individual was also arrested for distribution of dangerous drugs. They can be charged under Montana's new statute, included in House Bill 112, that makes the solicitation of a prostitute a felony charge which Attorney General Knudsen helped write and pass during the 2023 Legislative Session.

"Human trafficking is a heinous crime and must be stopped. I am proud of our DCI investigators and law enforcement partners for their commitment to getting these dangerous predators off the streets. Ending human trafficking remains a priority for the Montana Department of Justice. We must tell human traffickers that their criminal activity will not be tolerated in Montana," Attorney General Knudsen said.

"This behavior is not only illegal but poses many risks to our communities such as Human Trafficking of both adults and children," Missoula County Sheriff Jeremiah Petersen said. "The great work done this week with our law enforcement partners creates safer communities for both children and adults."

Know the signs. Potential indicators of sex trafficking may include:

- Young person that is very hesitant to engage in conversation. Eyes are always downcast, avoiding eye contact, especially with men. Poor physical state... tired, malnourished, or shows signs of physical abuse or torture.

- Seems to have trouble responding to what their name is or what location (city or even state) they are in. (Victims' names are often changed, as are their whereabouts. They typically do not stay in one location for long – at times for 24 hours or less).
- Wearing clothes that do not fit the climate or the situation such as short shorts or skirts, tank tops, and no jacket in the middle of winter.
- Lack of control over money, personal possessions like bags, IDs, or documents. May also be carrying very few possessions in a plastic bag.
- May be accompanied by a dominating person, or someone they seem fearful of. That controlling person may also be someone who does not seem to "fit," such as a much older individual, an individual of a different race, or with behavior seemingly inappropriate with the suspected victim.
- Young girl or boy hanging around outside a convenience store, truck stop, casino, or other location. May be approaching different vehicles or men they do not seem to know.

If you believe you witness human trafficking:

- If the situation is an emergency, call 911.
- Do not intervene if you see suspected trafficker(s). Remain at a safe distance or in your vehicle.
- In non-emergency situations, call or text 1-833-406-STOP (1-833-406-7867) OR reach and advocate via live chat at 406stop.com.
- When possible, take images with your cellular device of the suspected trafficker(s), victim(s), and vehicle license plate(s).

Red Lodge man sentenced in child assault case

A Red Lodge man was sentenced to 20 years at the Montana State Prison for assaulting a 9-month-old baby in 2019, Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced today. The man fractured the baby's skull and left the baby, who is now 6 years old, partially blind and with ongoing and significant cognitive difficulties.

Nathan Samuel Polakoff, 27, was convicted in July 2023 of assault on a minor. In April 2019, Red Lodge Police responded to a 911 call at Polakoff's residence. When officers arrived, they found Polakoff carrying the 9-month-old child that appeared to be lifeless and saying the boy was not breathing. An officer was able to detect shallow breaths and the boy was brought to Beartooth Billings Clinic before being transported directly to a hospital in Salt Lake City.

"We will not tolerate violence against children in Montana. I'm proud of our prosecutors who secured justice in the case — they did excellent work. As attorney general, I will ensure that we continue to fight to keep our communities and families safe and hold criminals accountable," Attorney General Knudsen said.

Polakoff initially told law enforcement that the child fell off a futon two days prior. Doctors, however, identified the injuries as the result of two separate force events. A treating doctor noted that the two severe skull fractures and retinal hemorrhages in both eyes were consistent with a child "violently slammed into something causing an acceleration/deceleration injury with impact."

Polakoff also instructed the victim's mother and aunt not to tell law enforcement that he had been alone with child.

Assistant Attorney General Selene Koepke prosecuted the case with the assistance of Carbon County Attorney Alex Nixon and the rest of the Carbon County attorney's office. The case was investigated by the Red Lodge Police Department.

FWP announces 414-acre addition to Isaac Homestead WMA along Yellowstone River

On Thursday, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks announced a 414-acre addition to the Isaac Homestead Wildlife Management area bringing the WMA to approximately 1,532 acres of native wildlife habitat and cultivated farm ground.

"We are grateful for our relationships with our agricultural families who have been our partners in the Hysham area for many years," FWP Region 7 Supervisor Brad Schmitz said. "Their willingness to work with FWP, not only on this purchase but with habitat renovations and farming practices on the WMA over the past decades have helped the department with our conservation mission, while also keeping us viable in the local agricultural community."

Located west of Hysham, the WMA originally comprised two separate units. The west unit is accessible by county road and the east unit can only be accessed by the public via the Yellowstone River. This purchase restores access to what was lost between the two parcels of land more than two decades ago during a large flood and erosion event on the Yellowstone River establishing one contiguous WMA.

In addition to establishing one contiguous WMA, this acquisition:

1. Conserves Yellowstone riparian, wetland and sagebrush-steppe habitats
2. Expands public recreational opportunities along the Yellowstone River
3. Enhances opportunity for a cooperative farming lease in partnership with local ag producers.

"This new acquisition has some great prairie grassland and seasonal wetland habitat along with some wintering range for our bigger game, which produces even greater hunting opportunities for hunters across the state," FWP Wildlife Biologist Steve Atwood said.

FWP's stated management goal of this property is to "protect existing riparian habitat and maintain a mosaic of native and cropland habitat for the benefit of white-tailed deer, pheasants and turkeys. Thereby providing recreational opportunity for sportspersons."

At the announcement on Thursday, Governor Greg Gianforte took advantage of his time at the Isaac Homestead's new addition, taking some time to enjoy the upland bird habitat the new acreage has to offer.

"As we work to increase public access across the state, we enhance and protect our Montana way of life," Gov. Gianforte said.

"We'll continue to expand public access to our public lands for hunters, anglers and outdoor enthusiasts to enjoy for generations to come."
 The Isaac Homestead WMA was purchased in 1969, by what was then known as the Montana Fish and Game Department using hunting license dollars and Pittman-Robertson Wildlife Restoration funds. Subsequent additions to the WMA occurred in 1970, 1973, 1982 and 1983. The Montana Outdoor Legacy Foundation purchased this parcel through the Montana Fish and Wildlife Conservation Trust to help bridge the acquisition for the department.

On Friday, we will be dressing as our future career. Students are encouraged to wear clothes to look like doctors, teachers, lawyers, business professionals, ranchers, artists, astronauts, engineers, etc.

Also on Friday, November 1st, DMS Student Council will be throwing the first Quarter School Dance! The theme is Wild West, so students will saddle up in their best cowgirl and cowboy outfits and have a night of dancing fun. Students MUST be eligible to attend, so students, make sure to keep up the good behavior at school and to turn in assignments to keep grades up.

Friday, November 1st is the end of Quarter 1. Students, make sure to turn in missing assignments by Tuesday so teachers have time to update your grades. Parents, look out for report cards that will be sent home with students on Friday or the following Monday.
