Montana to receive nearly $4 million from opioid settlement with Kroger

Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced that Montana will receive nearly $4 million in a multi-state settlement with Kroger – a national grocery chain which operates subsidiaries in Montana, including Smiths and Loaf 'N Jug – to resolve the company's role in the prescription opioid crisis.

Montana will receive $3,850,671 of the total $1.37 billion national settlement that will be distributed among 29 other states. Payments to the states are anticipated to begin early next year. The settlement money will be used for opioid abatement which could include programs like opioid use disorder treatment, providing Narcan to emergency or first responders, and drug treatment courts for defendants with opioid-related substance abuse problems or histories.

"Those responsible for the opioid crisis in our country must be held accountable. Opioids have killed hundreds of Montanans and even more struggle with addiction," Attorney General Knudsen said. "This money will be put to good use to help us save lives."

The settlement resolves allegations that the company failed to properly oversee the dispensing of opioids at its pharmacies. In addition to monetary payments, Kroger has agreed to injunctive relief that requires its pharmacies to monitor, report, and share data about suspicious activity related to opioid prescriptions.

The opioid epidemic has led to hundreds of prescription overdose deaths in Montana over the last 20 years. These deaths—and the impacts on thousands of Montanans who have struggled with opioid addiction—have created considerable costs for our health care, child welfare, and criminal justice systems. More significant than the dollars and cents in damage to the state, the impact on opioid addiction, substance use, and overdose deaths have torn families apart, damaged relationships, and devastated communities.

Attorney General Knudsen has been combatting the opioid crisis in Montana since taking office. In September, he announced a program to put life-saving opioid reversal kits in middle and high schools across Montana. In February, he was part of national settlement in which the state received $1 million with Publicis Health to resolve investigations into the global marketing and communications in the prescription opioid crisis.

In 2022, he announced a massive $80 million settlement with the nation's three major pharmaceutical distributors accountable for their roles in fueling the national opioid epidemic and the harm it has caused. In 2021, Montana received $1.9 million from a settlement with McKinsey & Company, one of the world's largest consulting firms, regarding the company's role in working for opioid companies, helping those companies promote their drugs, and profiting from the opioid epidemic.

BLM January 2025 oil and Gas Lease Sale

The Bureau of Land Management Montana-Dakotas State Office announced an oil and gas lease sale scheduled for Jan. 22, 2025, to offer 13 oil and gas parcels totaling 1,324 acres in Montana and North Dakota.

The BLM completed scoping on these parcels in July 2024 and held a public comment period that closed in September 2024 on the parcels, and the related environmental analysis. A 30-day public protest period to receive additional public input opened and will close Dec. 6, 2024.

The parcels the BLM has analyzed, as well as maps and instructions on how to submit a protest are available on the BLM's ePlanning website at: <https://eplanning.blm.gov/eplanning-ui/project/2032675/510>.

The terms of federal fluid mineral leases will be consistent with the Fluid Minerals Leasing and Leasing Process Rule, which reflects Congressional direction from the Inflation Reduction Act and the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law, including a 16.67 percent royalty rate for production on any new leases.

Leasing is the first step in the process to develop federal oil and gas resources. Before development operations can begin, an operator must submit an application for permit to drill detailing development plans. The BLM reviews applications for permits to drill, posts them for public review, conducts an environmental analysis and coordinates with state partners and stakeholders.

All parcels that are included in a federal oil and gas lease sale include appropriate stipulations to protect important natural resources. Information on current and upcoming BLM leases is available through the National Fluid Lease Sale System.

STATEMENT BY MONTANA STATE AUDITOR-ELECT JAMES BROWN

James Brown released the following statement after being elected to serve as Montana's next State Auditor:

"To my fellow Montanans, I am deeply grateful for the faith you have placed in me to serve as your State Auditor.

I am humbled to see this high level of support for my candidacy from Montanans residing across the treasure state; and I am equally honored to have earned your trust as we work together to put Montana first! Montanans chose to have a rendezvous with destiny, a destiny guided by the small government principles of the Republican Party to keep our Montana, Montana.

As a fourth generation Montanan, my family and I have been blessed to live in this great state reaching back for more than a century. Through hard work and the grace of God, we have benefitted from all that the Treasure State has to offer. I am fortunate to have had the opportunity to be educated in Montana, to grow a business in Montana, and to serve my friends and neighbors as a public servant. I ran for this public office because I am dedicated not only to protecting the last best place, and our Montana way of life; but also to protecting my fellow Montanans who I strongly believe are the last, best, people on earth.

As your State Auditor, I will actively and energetically embrace my responsibilities as your Commissioner of Insurance and Securities. I will apply my legal training to lead this important criminal justice agency charged with protecting Montana's consumers by ensuring transparency and fair access to the securities and insurance industries. I will build on the solid record of my predecessor, Commissioner Troy Downing, to promote consumer education and consumer advocacy, work to lower insurance costs by promoting competition, reduce the regulatory burden on Montana businesses, and hold bad actors accountable.

As one of the five Constitutional Officers charged with the responsibility to serve on the Montana Board of Land Commissioners, I will work with my fellow land board members to ensure the proper management and stewardship of state trust lands to meet the purpose set forth in the Montana Constitution—to support the full funding of Montana's public education system.

I especially want to thank the voters of Montana for expressing their faith in me and giving me this strong mandate to serve them in this important post. I am proud to have run a positive campaign based on my qualifications and my record of public service. My campaign has now prevailed by a wide

The election is now over. I want to make it clear now to all Montanans—whether you voted for me or not—I work for all of you. I will execute the duties of the office I am about to assume to the very best of my abilities and on behalf of all Montanans.

Again, thank you for the faith you have placed in me and may God continue to bless Montana!"

Terminus Distilling Company Updates

Katrina & Derek Lewis

Building: Derek and Callie have started pouring concrete footings that will support the wooden posts in the manufacturing space. The footings consist of a 10" thick 3'x3' square and a 12" diameter pier, all reinforced with rebar. Each footing needs to cure for a week. The concrete slab will be poured around the piers.

Locals, you may have noticed the concrete piled up on the Virginia St. loading dock. Pieces of the old ramp leading down from that doorway, in November, those concrete chunks and the loading dock itself will be removed, allowing street-grade access to the warehouse.

Bulldog Cross Country Closes Season
 The Montana Western cross country teams closed out their season at the Frontier Conference Championships in Billings, Mont. The Bulldogs competed hard, earning numerous personal records and an all-conference selection.

Olivia Steadman earned all-conference honors for the second time in her career, this time as a sophomore for the women's team.

"We had really strong performances on both the women's and men's side of the race. For our women, Olivia was able to place tenth earning all-conference while our two through four all ran season bests of over a minute," Head Coach Taylor Grove said. "Our men's team was able to work together, pushing each other to earn a lot of season PRs as well. It was a great way to finish the season and leaves me and the team excited for next season."

Results: The women's race saw the Bulldogs led by sophomore Olivia Steadman, running a race time of 23:27.8 and placing in 10th in the race with a season personal best time. Freshman Destiny Vogl followed behind, finishing in 18th with a time of 24:27.70 with her own personal best time. Sophomore Justene Santi set a personal record with her time of 24:33.20 and a 20th place finish. Freshman Ruby Smith and Olivia Canney rounded out the scoring team with a 23rd place finish and a 32nd place finish, with Smith recording her own personal record with a time of 24:46.60. Outside of the scoring five were Kylee Wyatt (35th, 21:41) and Lily Wickum (36th, 29:06.90). Wyatt also recorded a personal record in the race.

On the men's side, sophomore Harrison Silverio led the way for the Bulldogs with a time of 27:02.00 and a 20th place finish with a season personal record time. Sophomore Brody Henry came in next with a season personal record time of 28:15.30 and a 30th place finish. Junior Carlin Onstad and Noah Rovente were the third and fourth Bulldogs to cross the line. Put the Worry of Colon Cancer Behind You Schedule your colonoscopy screening today.

Colon cancer can be a life altering disease. However, early screening can help to significantly increase the survival rate. A colonoscopy is still the best tool to help you detect, treat, beat, and even prevent colon cancer entirely. Schedule an appointment with your primary care provider to start the conversation about this potentially life-saving screening. It could be the best decision you'll ever make.

Call 406-683-1188 to schedule a pre-colonoscopy appointment with your Barrett Hospital & HealthCare provider, or visit barretthospital.org for more information.

THANK YOU THANK YOU
THANK YOU.....

to each and every one..... You know who you are.....
who called, texted, sent notes, encouraged, hugged and PRAYED for our family during the difficult challenges and false accusations this past year. Your kindness was like water in a desert.

TRUTH has a way of emerging out of darkness.

We praise God for His faithfulness and appreciate all who stood with us. God Bless.
