Bulldogs Overcome Turnovers in 27-14 Win

The Montana Western football team (8-1, 6-1) took down the no. 14 ranked and previously undefeated in conference play Carroll College (7-2, 6-1) in a 27-14 victory at Bulldog Stadium. After a strong defensive stand by the Bulldogs forced the Saints to punt on their opening drive, the Saints responded by pinning UMW deep in their own territory. The next drive for the Bulldogs set off a chain of unfortunate events, as the Saints defense made a pair of huge plays, forcing a fumble that Braeden Orlandi returned for a touchdown. Carroll would take the first lead with 12:36 on the clock.

Once again, the Bulldogs would fumble on their next drive handing the ball back to the Saints in less than 25 seconds. Despite the grim start, James Ochs sacked Carroll's quarterback Jack Prka on fourth and one to shake alive the Bulldogs.

UMW's defense held Carroll to a mere 167 yards of total offense, with just 36 yards coming on the ground. Palandri threw for 239 yards and a touchdown, despite being sacked five times in the win. He also led the Bulldog ground game with 89 total rushing yards. Gibson impressed on the ground, rushing for 48 yards and two touchdowns. Nourse led with 114 yards in the air and a touchdown. Muffich led the defense with seven tackles and an interception which he returned for 29 yards.

Beavers Fall To Lewistown Golden Eagles

Jeremy Crawford

Southwestern Montana News

The Dillon Beavers' hopes for a repeat state title were dashed on Saturday afternoon as they faced a formidable opponent in the Lewistown Golden Eagles during the Class A semifinals. In a hard-fought battle on their home turf, the Beavers ultimately fell to the Golden Eagles with a final score of 21-13.

From the outset, the Golden Eagles had their sights set on victory, and it didn't take long for them to strike first. Madden Norslien made his mark early in the first quarter, intercepting a pass from Beavers' quarterback Canin Christiansen and returning it for a touchdown. This explosive play set the tone for the Eagles, who quickly built a commanding lead.

Despite the Beavers' efforts to regroup, they found themselves trailing 0-14 by halftime, struggling to find their rhythm against an aggressive Golden Eagles defense that capitalized on every mistake. The Golden Eagles' relentless pressure resulted in a staggering six turnovers throughout the game, a statistic that proved to be the deciding factor in the contest.

In the second half, the Beavers fought back valiantly, showing resilience and determination. However, their attempts to turn the tide fell short, and they were unable to close the gap significantly. The Golden Eagles maintained their composure and secured their place in the Class A finals with a hard-earned 21-13 victory.

Dazzlin' Doris

Bryce Angell

My Chevy truck had been with me since 1989.
She'd worn a little haggard, but was paid for. She was mine.
My good wife named her Doris. Seemed a strange name for a truck.
But Doris was dependable and never gave bad luck.
I could load her up with gravel, in the summer haul the hay.
We'd hauled more loads of firewood than I ever cared to say.
Her seats were torn and sunken in, right where I set my rear.
Old Doris needed TLC. That never was more clear.
One August afternoon when the sun was beating down.
I was thirsty as a cactus so I drove on into town.
I must have been an eye-blink from a soda fountain stool, when Mosey Moe came driving in his BMW.
Mosey always figured he was better than the rest. W hen Mosey opened up his mouth your patience was a test.
He waved then gave a belly laugh. "Your truck looks all worn out."
I half smiled then admitted, "She's had better days no doubt."
Well Doris got her feelings hurt. Her engine wouldn't start.
So the Mrs. towed us home. I swear it almost broke my heart.
We started with a tune-up and then we sprayed the engine clean.
We were gonna change our Doris to a well maintained machine.
I drove to Harlan's Wrecking Yard and found a matching seat.
I talked him down on tires and rims. A deal you couldn't beat.
We sanded, blasted, filled the holes, and pounded out the dents.
A coat of paint, a new windshield and blew out all the vents.
Old Doris was a beauty. You could hear her motor purr.
The rhythm sounded like we'd hired an auto connoisseur.
It must have been a week or two while driving down the road.
I saw a broke down Beamer with its driver Mosey Moe.
So, I asked ole Mosey if he might just need a tow today?
He looked down at his loafers, didn't have a word to say.
I hooked my weathered tow rope to his BMW.
Then Doris pulled to town and dragged down main a few times too.
Doris held her hood up high when she dropped 'em off in town.
Ain't it kinda funny how Karma turns the tables 'round.

School Safety Crisis Response Team Intruder Drill

School safety is a topic that is constantly on my mind. I want you to know that our District Crisis Response Team, a team made up of administrators, teachers, paraprofessionals, custodial staff, trustees, and others, is working hard to make sure that your children and school staff members are safe while at school by practicing several drills throughout the year including fire, earthquake and intruder drills. The goal of the Crisis Response Team is for our students, staff, and community emergency personnel to be prepared in case of an emergency. We hope we never have to put our training to use but in the event we do we want to be prepared. Practice helps accomplish that goal and we want to make sure we are doing everything we can to protect our most precious resource. Our staff members do a great job preparing students in the event of a disaster at school. Additionally, staff are trained in various safety features such as first aid, CPR/AED (automated external defibrillator) training, intruder training, and bullying and suicide awareness and prevention. We continue to work hard to make sure we are prepared for any emergency.

To enhance school safety, Dillon Elementary School District #10 recently participated in an active shooter response training on the afternoon of November 6th, 2024. This training was a collaborative effort between the Dillon Elementary School District, Dillon Police Department, Beaverhead County Sheriff Department, Disaster of Emergency Services, Beaverhead EMT's, Barrett Hospital, and Jason Grimmis, Director of Crisis and Emergency Management at the University of Montana Western.

The training focused on different aspects of an active shooter response from a variety of different perspectives. It focused on providing staff and law enforcement with the skills necessary to respond to an active shooter threat.

Dillon Elementary staff have participated in a variety of lock down drills, but the drill conducted on the 6th included exposure to the sounds of actual gunfire from a variety of locations. Staff were instructed on how to secure classrooms and how to assist law enforcement as they navigated throughout the building when possible. The training personnel instructed staff in the importance of addressing each situation individually and provided them with options if quick decisions needed to be made in high stress situations.

Our District Crisis Response Team and I would like to thank Jason Grimmis, Director of Crisis and Emergency Management at the University of Montana Western, Montana Tech, and Helena College of Technology; Tom Wagenknecht, Beaverhead County Disaster and Emergency Services; Mike Reid, Chancellor at the University of Montana Western; Dillon Police Chief Jeremy Alvarez; Beaverhead County Sheriff Dave Wendt; other participating law enforcement officers; Dillon Fire Chief BJ Klose; our local EMT's and Barrett Hospital personnel as well as Beaverhead County Health Officials for their collaboration and expertise. A big thank you also goes out to Mrs. Channon Williams, Co-Chair of the District Crisis Response Team; Joel Rogers and Greg Fitzgerald, Administrators in the District; all District Crisis Response Team Members; and all District staff members, who are all first responders in any emergency in the school until other first responders arrive.

Bulldog Women Win Home Opener

The Montana Western women's basketball team (1-1) opened their home slate with a payback win over the Dickinson State Blue Hawks (3-3) for their home opener.

The Bulldogs combined for an impressive 21 steals in the game, feeding 33 points off of turnovers in the 76-50 win.

As a team, the Bulldogs combined for 33 points off of turnovers after picking up a combined 21 steals. UMW's bench totaled 31 points in the game, outscoring DSU's bench by 25 points. Joelnell Momberg led the Bulldogs in scoring, totaling 12 points after hitting 4-10 from the field. Keke Davis led the Bulldogs with an impressive six steals while also scoring nine points in the game. Maddy Moy led with six rebounds. She also added eight points to the tally.

Men's Basketball Bounces Back With Win

The Montana Western men's basketball team (3-1, 0-0) got back on track as they defeated Northwest University (0-2) by a final score of 84-65.

UMW combined to shoot 48.5 percent from the field. The Bulldogs had four score in double digits, with Stepney leading the way with 18 points and a four-six performance from the arc. Gruhler followed with 15 points and a team high seven rebounds. He also dished out a pair of assists and grabbed a steal. As a team, the Bulldogs were able to convert 14 points off of turnovers.

Bulldog Women Struggle to Contain Fire

The Montana Western women's basketball team (1-2) lost in a nonconference matchup to the RV Southeastern University Fire (5-1) by a final score of 79-46.

The Bulldogs struggled from the field, hitting just 29.0 percent and hitting 50 percent from the charity stripe.

The Bulldogs are now 1-1 in the series with Southeastern, with the series beginning last season. Western struggled behind a team total of 23 turnovers in the game. Kyla Momberg, Hagy, and Lund each totaled nine points in the game. Momberg also dished out four assists. Keke Davis led the Bulldogs with nine boards, with three on the offensive side of the ball.
