National Education Week November 18-22

Southwest Montana Retired Educators

After World War I, it was noted that 25% of our country's draftees were illiterate and 9% were physically unfit. The American Legion and National Education Association joined together with the intent to raise public awareness to the importance of education. In 1921 the NEA called for "An educational week to be observed in all communities annually for the purpose of informing the public of accomplishments and needs of the public schools and to secure the cooperation and support of the public meeting those needs."

Education should be given priority as one of our nation's greatest needs. As citizens, it is our responsibility to keep in touch with what is happening in our schools and make sure all needs are met in order to provide a sound base for learning. We need to give support for equal and unbiased education to every child in America, and not be afraid to question where and how our tax dollars are being spent. We need to be sure our students are safe, have no fear of going to school, and have a positive learning environment. Every student should be given the opportunity to develop to his or her potential without fear of suppression due to income, color, race, religion, or ethnic background. We need to support public education and stand strong to make sure each child receives the opportunity to excel to their potential without being bullied or pressured by others because of anger, jealousy, and hatred. We need competent and dedicated teachers and pay them a salary that is well compensated for all they are expected to accomplish in their classrooms. Classroom materials and supplies should not have to come from the teacher's pocketbooks. Positive goals develop each and every child to their potential of learning, and are accomplished through encouragement and positive support. Students need learning that develops their skills and talents with the curriculum that reaches to the fullest level of achievement. We need to make sure teachers are not overloaded because of class sizes and overcrowded classrooms. Class size and student/teacher ratio are very important for successful learning and teaching. Students must be challenged to develop each individual's potential.

Give support to education in order to develop a country of literate individuals who will take care of America and preserve it as a free country. Give thanks to all who are involved with education and who definitely make a difference in the lives of our country's future leaders. Join the American Legion, NEA, and many other organizations that support literacy in America. Celebrate Nov. 18th- 22nd, by first saying thanks, then give support to improving America's education.

Welborn Gets Historical Vote Count for PSC

Public Service Commissioner Elect, Jeff Welborn, a Republican has made Montana election history, by garnering more individual votes than any PSC Candidate ever, in Republican or Democrat, in any PSC District, as far back as records show.

With 124888 total votes cast, he received 77,200 or roughly 65% of the total count. In Beaverhead and Madison Counties, he received 80.25 and 77% respectively, of the total votes cast.

Welborn stated; "Any elected office is about listening to others, and working for the betterment of people. I ran my campaign in a civil and straightforward manner, and I want to thank Democrat Lenny Williams for doing the same."

"As I look forward to the important work at the Public Service Commission, I will continue to reach out, as I always have, to qualified folks, to help me better understand the complex issues the agency is charged with. Montanans can rest assured that I will look out for their checkbook, I will bring people together, and I will advocate for policies that keep Montana energy reliable, affordable, and abundant."

From Verse to Worse

Bryce Angell

I readied for the show and bought a brand new George Strait shirt.

I figured anything would help, for darn sure couldn't hurt.

I'd memorized my poems. They were imprinted in my brain.

But when I stepped up on the stage, not one word could I claim.

The rhymes were all forgotten and no rhythm for a beat.

My eyes were full of sweat from all the sunshine's glaring heat.

You see, the emcee of the program asked a month or so ago,

"Would you like to be a part of a cowboy poetry show.

I told her I'd be nervous but would give it my best try. She said,

"I don't mind nervous, just don't run off the stage and cry."

The audience was fidgeting. Their eyes were growing wide.

The crowd was prob'ly thinking, "This poor cowboy's gonna cry."

But one cowboy told me earlier, "Don't worry you'll forget.

Make sure your book is by your side. There'll be no need to fret."

Well sure enough my poems were laying right in front of me.

Someone had placed them all face up. Just right for me to see.

I cleared my throat. I stood up straight. My confidence was sure.

I stepped up to the microphone. My stage fright was no more.

But the first word from my mouth was almost Julia Child height.

So I brought it down and then I sounded just like Barry White.

I guess I should have practiced on my voice a whole lot more.

'Cuz my discontented audience was stepping out the door.

Right then I wondered if Shakespearians ever had stage fright?

Then someone from behind me said, "Please give it up tonight!"

I cut my cowboy routine short. I guess it had some flaws.

When I stepped down off the stage there was no one to give applause.

I finally saw a friendly face. My son had stuck around.

I thought I better ask him as he looked up from the ground.

"I guess I'm wondering how I did? At first I thought I croaked."

He looked at me and shook his head.

"Well Dad, I think you choked."

S&R Parke Scott Retires

This past month the Beaverhead Search and Rescue had one of its pioneer members retire from the unit. Parke Scott was one of the original members of this organization. He joined the group in 1979 putting him at 45 years of dedicated service. Parke is one of the greatest advocates of Search and Rescue you will ever find. He served as Vice Commander for two years and then as Commander for two years. Since then he has been on the board of directors for numerous terms. He also served on the equipment committee giving direction on what types of equipment the unit should be purchasing. He was also a strong supporter of our two fund raisers, the annual ice fishing derby and the unit's annual auction.

Parke was one of three members to attend a week-long class called "Managing the Search Function". It was held in Columbus, Montana back in the early 80's. He brought back with him valuable information on just exactly how to search for a lost individual. It became a science. This included using topography to limit the search area and contain the individual, knowing how different classifications of individuals respond when lost, as well as many other methods used to find lost people. He helped put Beaverhead Search and Rescue on the map as being one of the top search units in the state. Since that time, he has attended other "Search Management" courses and is retiring as one of the units top ICs (incident commander).

Parke also attended numerous other trainings. One of these was "Man Tracking" put on by Ab Taylor, a renown man tracker. He attended the class held in Boulder, Mt and then another man tracking course put on up Birch Creek. He has been through avalanche trainings, swift water trainings, ATV trainings, and on and on. Parke takes with him a wealth of knowledge that will be deeply missed by the unit. And his knowledge of Beaverhead County is unmatched by anyone else in the unit.

Thank you, Parke, for your years of dedication and service to this outstanding organization. You and your experience will be greatly missed. Please give Parke a hardy thank you when you see him out and about. You can bet if the unit gets in a tight bind, we'll be calling.

Bulldog Women Hang Tight

Montana Western women's basketball (1-3) faltered to the no. 14 Mayville State Comets in a tight contest that led up to the final minutes of the game on Friday evening. The Comets pulled through in the final minutes to take the game by a final score of 80-76.

Trinidie Nichols had an outstanding night, going 7-10 from the field and a perfect five for five from the charity stripe to lead the Bulldogs with 24 points. Keke Davis provided a push needed on the boards, racking up 12 rebounds with three on the offensive side of the ball. The matchup was the first between the two schools in their history. As a team, the Bulldogs shot 42.4 percent from the field and hit 14 three pointers in the game.

Joelnell Momberg impressed, hitting five three-pointers on her way to a 19-point night.

Nichols not only led with 24 points, she also led UMW with four steals on the night aiding in Western's 14 points off of turnovers.

Bulldogs Win Two, Advance to Conference Tournament

Montana Western women's volleyball team (22-8) opened day one of the Frontier Conference Tournament with a five-set win over the Rocky Mountain College Battlin' Bears. They then took on the Montana Tech Orediggers and won in a 3-1 battle with the Orediggers to advance to the tournament championship set.

The Bulldogs defeated the Skylights in a five-set win by scores of 18-25, 25-18, 25-19, 24-26, and 15-9. In the second match, the Bulldogs took the Orediggers down, winning in a 3-1 match by scores of 21-25, 25-8, 28-26, and 25-22.

"The team did an amazing job stepping up to the challenge of playing two phenomenal teams," Head Coach Katie Lovett said. "Rocky played extremely well and it was tough to put a ball down. I was really impressed with our determination in the 5th set to take control early."

With the win over Montana Tech, it marks the third year in a row that the Bulldogs have advanced to the tournament championship game and have ended the Orediggers' tournament run.

UMW's second set 25-8 win over Montana Tech was MT's biggest set loss in a set this season.

Western racked up a whopping 15 service aces between the two matchups.

Smith led the Bulldogs in both matchups, totaling 15 kills against RMC and 18 against Montana Tech.

Snowy Conditions Cause Multiple Incidents on Montana Roads

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

Monday morning commuters in Montana were met with a blanket of snow, leading to hazardous driving conditions across the region. First responders have been busy attending to several accidents resulting from the slippery roads.

At approximately 11 A.M., emergency services were dispatched to a wreck on I-15 Northbound near mile marker 43. Fortunately, no injuries were reported in this incident.

Shortly thereafter, another call came in regarding a rollover accident on MT 41 near mile marker 11. In this case, a van had slid off the road and ended up on its side. As of now, the Highway Patrol has reported that the extent of injuries from this crash remains unknown.

Road crews are actively working to clear the roads, but drivers are urged to exercise caution and reduce their speed in these wintry conditions. As snowfall continues, staying safe on the roads should be the top priority for all motorists.

Bulldog Volleyball Falls in Tournament Final

After going up 2-0 in the opening sets of the Frontier Conference Tournament Championship match, the no. 19 ranked Montana Western fell 3-2 in a tough battle with the no. 13 ranked University of Providence.

Jazi Smith led the Bulldogs in the effort, totaling 16 kills and 23 digs in the match.

The Bulldogs had another notable serving performance in the game, serving up six aces in the game as a team. They were led by Kaylee Fritz who had three total. Martin totaled 12 kills and four blocks in the effort. Taylor Petersen and Fritz combined for 43 assists in the game, good for 8.6 assists per set. Madisyn Frazier and Kelsey Goddard combined for 48 digs in the game.
