General season ends with mild weather, mixed hunter harvest rates in southwestern Montana

Hunter harvest rates in southwestern Montana were mixed during the general deer and elk hunting season, according to data gathered by Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks biologists. Mild weather during much of the general season made it challenging for hunters to find game at some lower elevations.

The general season was held over five weeks and six weekends from Oct. 26 through Dec. 1. During that time, FWP staff operated game check stations at various times and locations in southwest Montana, including stations in Alder, Cameron, Canyon Ferry, Divide, Gallatin Canyon, Silver City and Toston. Collectively, they met with 6,966 hunters who harvested 48 white-tailed deer, 168 mule deer and 406 elk.

Biologists use check stations to collect data on hunter participation and success, as well as the species, sex and age class of the animals harvested. Check station data captures a portion of hunting activity on weekends in specific areas. Hunter numbers and harvest rates can be influenced by weather, changes in hunting regulations from one season to another, and other factors. Biologists also rely on information collected through hunter harvest phone surveys each year.

The Alder check station was open on the first, third and sixth weekends of the general season. Over those three weekends, wildlife staff met with 812 hunters who collectively harvested 16 white-tailed deer, 35 mule deer and 88 elk. The hunter harvest rate for the final weekend was average at 21 percent, an increase from the 9.7-percent harvest rate over opening weekend.

Biologists operated a check station at Canyon Ferry on the first and final weekends of the general season. They met with 338 hunters who harvested 6 white-tailed deer, 11 mule deer and 16 elk. Hunter harvest was 3.9 percent on opening weekend and 8.3 percent on the final weekend.

The Cameron check station was open each weekend during the general season. Wildlife staff there met with 2,935 hunters who harvested 14 white-tailed deer, 60 mule deer and 192 elk over the six weekends. Hunter harvest rates ranged from 6.5 percent on Nov. 2-3 to 10.6 percent on Nov. 23-24. Overall harvest numbers were average for elk, above average for mule deer and below average for white-tailed deer. Snow levels were high enough to make high-country travel difficult for hunters, but not enough to concentrate elk on winter ranges. This, combined with above-average numbers of hunters, meant that individual hunter harvest rates in this area were below the average range.

The Divide check station was also open each weekend during the general season. Biologists there met with 1,406 hunters who harvested six white-tailed deer, 43 mule deer and 63 elk over the six weekends. Hunter harvest rates ranged from 6.4 percent on Nov. 16-17 to 13.4 percent over the previous weekend. This area also saw relatively mild temperatures and snowfall, with minimal elk movement during the general season. The overall hunter harvest rate at this station was 8.7 percent this year, up from 7.8 percent in 2023 but still below the 10-year average of 9.3 percent.

The Gallatin check station operated during the first, second and sixth weekends of the general season. Wildlife staff there met with 500 hunters who harvested one white-tailed deer, five mule deer and 20 elk. Hunter harvest rates ranged from 4.4 percent over opening weekend to 6.5 percent the following weekend. Overall, this season had average numbers of hunters and mule deer harvested and below-average numbers of elk harvested.

The Silver City check station operated on opening and closing weekends of the general season, with hunter harvest rates of 4.4 and 3 percent, respectively. Staff met with 902 hunters who harvested one white-tailed deer, eight mule deer and 27 elk over the two weekends.

The Toston check station was open on Nov. 9, which brought 73 hunters and a harvest rate of 8.3 percent. Those hunters harvested six mule deer.

Building

All nine concrete footings have been poured and are curing! This week, the permanent posts will be put back in place. We're hoping to pour the slab for the manufacturing space before Christmas. It will take two weeks to cure.

This month, Northwestern Energy connected both electricity and natural gas back to the building. It's been years since either has been active. To get power, we needed new transformers installed on our pole, new service lines run underground to the meter, and Cody Hansen from Beaverhead Electric installed a new meter and ran power into the building itself.

Locals, this coming week you might see R.E. Miller outside our building, pulling off the old loading docks and trenching in our new water main. A 2" water line will give us what we need to fill our 500 gallon tanks as well as provide water for the rest of the building as we get started.

Business / Community

We attended the fall Montana Distiller's Guild meeting and Distiller's Festival. Dacia English, a representative from the Montana Department of Revenue, reported that Montana distilleries are 4% of all spirit suppliers sold this last fiscal year. If you're interested in more statistics, check out the Alcohol Bureau Control Division (ABCD) annual report. We also discussed potential initiatives for the upcoming legislative session, two of which we were particularly interested in.

- The first was instituting a practice called 'warehouse receipts,' which would allow customers to purchase a barrel of aging spirits before it is ready to bottle (currently, making this kind of purchase is considered an investment in the business inventory and means that the purchaser has an ownership stake and thus everyone has to do a lot of complicated paperwork).

- The second was regarding Catering Licenses for Tasting Rooms. A catering endorsement on an alcoholic beverage license allows "the catering and the sale of alcohol to people attending a catered event at a place not licensed to sell alcohol. This may happen at a special event."

Special events include farmer's markets. So, anyone who is interested in our presence at the Dillon Farmer's Market including Bloody Marys and Montana Mules (alcoholic or non-alcoholic) might support this initiative.

Distillery

We hope you all had a wonderful Thanksgiving. As we head into the holidays, we are crafting recipes on two fronts: shrubs and eggnog.

Fall and winter shrubs tend towards comforting and familiar flavor profiles. Apple cinnamon cardamom, plum pear spice, and cranberry citrus are all melding in bottles right now. Lovely to sip on straight or with some sparkling water, they are also nice to combine with some applejack, pear brandy, vodka, or any number of whiskies.

As we decorated our tree, freshly cut from the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest, we opened the first bottles of our small batch aged eggnog that we make for our family and close friends. It is exactly the kind of slow-sipping, 'worth the wait' eggnog we hope to make for everyone someday. Katrina has started experimenting with recipes for pasteurizing non-alcoholic eggnog so that in future years we can offer a rich, creamy, and smooth drink to keep you warm during the holiday season.

Bulldogs Make History, Sweep William Carey in NAIA National Championship Pool Play

The no. 16 seeded Montana Western women's volleyball team (24-9) made history after they defeated the no. 24 seeded William Carey (Miss.) in a statement sweep to win their first ever NAIA National Championship final site game.

"I was really impressed at how poised and confident they were. We had a good balanced offense and served tough against a really solid William Carey team," Head Coach Katie Lovett said.

The win marks the first time in school history the Bulldogs have won a game at the NAIA National Championship final site. This win comes just one year after the Bulldogs recorded their first ever postseason victory.

The Bulldogs served up eight aces in the victory, a mark reached just three times this season. Smith led the Bulldogs with 10 kills and 12 digs. She also added a pair of service aces. Taylor Petersen served. The Bulldogs also totaled seven blocks in the game, led by Danyel Martin who had four blocks in the game.

BEST OF THE WEST PROPERTIES

Dear Community Members, Friends, and Colleagues,

We wanted to take a moment to thank you for your continued support and trust in Best of the West Properties—it truly means the world to us! We also wanted to let you know about a few changes happening here at the office.

First, we are absolutely thrilled to announce that Corinne Welborn has returned to the role of Owner/Broker. With 40 + years of experience under her belt, she has a deep knowledge of Beaverhead County and the surrounding areas, and she's seen firsthand how the local market has evolved over the years. Her expertise is unparalleled, and her ability to guide clients through even the most complex real estate transactions is something we all admire. Corinne is not only an incredible professional but also a wonderful leader who deeply cares about the community and the people she works with.

We're also proud to have Angela Macdonald as part of our team. While Angela has only been in real estate going on two years, she has quickly proven herself to be a standout agent. Her passion for helping clients find their dream homes is evident in everything she does. She takes the time to understand each client's unique needs and goes above and beyond to ensure they have a seamless and stress-free experience. Her warm, approachable demeanor and attention to detail make her an absolute pleasure to work with. Angela has already built a strong reputation for her dedication to her clients, and we have no doubt that she will continue to make a lasting impact on the community.

We're also excited to share that Cassidy Thorn will remain with us as our Executive Assistant. She has been with Best of the West for going on three years now, and her attention to detail and organizational skills are truly invaluable to the team. She helps keep everything running smoothly so we can focus on providing the best possible service to our clients.

We wish Laramie the best as she has stepped away for personal reasons and is no longer affiliated with Best of the West Properties. We are in the process of expanding our office and will update you as these changes materialize.

Our commitment to serving you with the same level of care and dedication that has defined our 35 years of real estate service in Beaverhead County and the surrounding areas remains stronger than ever! We are here for all your real estate needs, and we look forward to continuing our work together. Please feel free to stop by the office anytime—we'd love to see you! Wishing you and your family a Merry Christmas and many blessings this holiday season.

Your Best of the West Team—Corinne, Angela, and Cassidy

IT'S NOT A WIN, UNLESS IT'S A WIN-WIN!
