CITY OF DILLON, MONTANA

Reimagining Rural Comes to Dillon

Reimagining Rural, a series focused on strengthening rural community vitality, will kick off on Tuesday, February 4. Developed and organized by Montana State University Extension's Community Vitality Program, Reimagining Rural brings small towns together for three evenings to learn from experts and other small towns. Jennifer Anderson, Extension Community Vitality Associate Specialist, and series organizer said,

"Reimagining Rural came from the idea that Montana's small towns, and even more so, the folks who call these places home, matter. These communities are special. People want more for their small towns but lack the capacity and resources to make positive changes. Reimagining Rural offers some much-needed help."

The series focuses on providing research-based information from rural experts and success stories from small towns across the state. In its fifth year, the program has grown and is appreciated by the communities. "The feedback we've received from past participants is that they appreciate hearing from other small towns. Probably the biggest takeaway is the relationship building between communities. They know they're not alone and can learn from each other; that's powerful," says Anderson.

Dillon is one of thirteen communities participating in the 2025 session slated from February 4, 11, and 18 from 6:00 - 8:00 pm. Locally, the program is being hosted by the City of Dillon and is meeting at the City Council Chambers at 125 North Idaho Street. "I'm thrilled to be part of Montana State University's Reimagining Rural program as it comes to Dillon. This initiative is a powerful opportunity to connect with like-minded individuals who are passionate about creating vibrant, resilient rural communities. By working together and sharing ideas, we can help ensure Dillon thrives as a place where people want to live, work, and visit for generations to come," states Kristina Abbey, Director of Operations for the City of Dillon and Community Coordinator for the program.

The sessions are free and open to the public. Community members are encouraged to attend. Contact Kristina Abbey at (406) 683-4245 or operations@dillonmt.org for more information.

BULL DURHAMBy "Swede" Troedsson*

In the spring of 1953, I was enrolled as a freshman forestry student in Louisiana State University, located in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

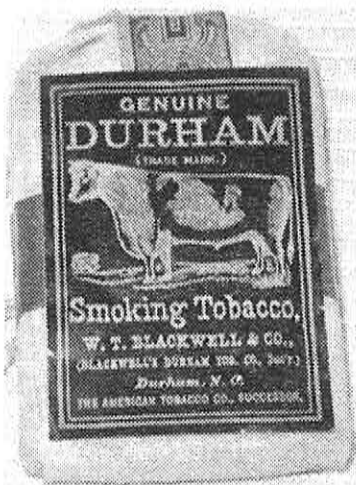

I accepted a 1953 summer job as a fire lookout on the Superior Ranger District in Montana.

At the end of the spring semester, I hitch-hiked from Baton Rouge to Superior in order to begin my employment as a fire lookout on the Marble Mountain Lookout. That remote lookout was located south of the Clark Fork River, between Superior and St. Regis, Montana.

The District horse packer, Tom Vann, packed my gear into the lookout. Later, Tom would pack a new supply of groceries and water into me every two weeks.

I was a cigarette smoker in those days. After a week on the lookout, I was already running low on cigarettes, so I requested that Tom bring me a fresh supply of cigarettes on his next trip.

When Tom arrived at my lookout, he mentioned my cigarettes were included in the grocery box.

After Tom left, I dug into the box of groceries for my new supply of cigarettes. I found cloth pouches of Bull Durham tobacco along with cigarette papers!

I had never rolled a cigarette! It took me a day to learn how to roll a cigarette so the tobacco wouldn't dribble out and the paper become consumed by fire!

The joke was on me! Tom must have chuckled all the way back to town!

We need Punxsutawney Phil

by Tom Purcell

Hey, Punxsutawney Phil, we sure need some of your levity right now.

It's so cold, Republicans switched their slogan to "Make America Warm Again."

It's so cold, Democrats have started lobbying for global warming. Three weeks ago, I wrote a column about my love of snow. That hasn't aged well.

Walking to my mailbox has become an Olympic luge event. My 4x4 truck — I nearly slid over the hillside yesterday — is useless on my icy private road.

I've got cabin fever so bad my AI apps have turned on me.

Alexa told me she needs some "alone time" — that she likes me only as a friend.

ChatGPT suggested I talk to the snowblower.

It turns out that what I love most about the snow is when it isn't snowing.

Which is why I'm eager for the playful distraction Punxsutawney Phil provides.

Groundhog Day 2025 is upon us, and you know the program: Every February 2, Phil emerges from his burrow in Punxsutawney, Pa. If he sees his shadow, there will be six more weeks of winter. If not, spring is just around the corner.

Groundhog Day — the holiday, not the 1993 Bill Murray movie — evolved from Candlemas Day, a Christian holy day commemorating the purification of the Virgin Mary.

In Germany, it grew into a tradition predicting weather, eventually involving a hedgehog. German immigrants brought it to Punxsutawney in 1887.

I have a special affection for Punxsutawney because it's where my yellow Labrador, Thurber, was born four years ago.

As a dog lover and fan of all critters — except deer ticks, gosh, I hate deer ticks! — I think People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) is overplaying its hand again.

PETA annually argues that dragging Phil from his burrow under bright lights in front of a crowd disrupts his hibernation and stresses him out.

Their solution? Replace Phil with an AI-powered animatronic groundhog, a weather-reveal cake, whatever that is, or a simple coin flip.

I told Thurber about PETA's thoughts — being from Punxy, he, too, has Phil's special powers — and he said he'd happily dress up as a groundhog if it meant he could enjoy Phil's perks and royal lifestyle.

"I may get overly excited around people and crowds, but I'd only work one day a year and live a life of luxury the rest of the time," Thurber told me.

To be sure, the Inner Circle — the local dignitaries plan the events every year and are responsible for the feeding and care of Phil — provides him with climate-controlled accommodations at the Punxsutawney Memorial Library, plus a gourmet diet and top-notch veterinary care.

He's even provided with three female companions to keep him company.

That's right, ladies and gentlemen, Inner Circle members are so committed to Phil's happiness, they're even willing to traffic in "woodchucks of the night."

Critics such as PETA question Phil's captivity, but the Inner Circle argues he enjoys a pampered, celebrity life that most woodchucks can only dream of.

PETA does some good work addressing serious animal-abuse issues. But I hope it focuses its full attention on those and leaves Phil alone, so he can live out his days like a prince and help us survive this unpleasant winter with his entertaining folklore.

Because it's so cold outside, Thurber has stopped fetching his ball and only retrieves firewood.

Dillon Elementary School District #10

2025 Technology Levy

By the Numbers

 $150,000 Technology Fund increase to protect student and staff data, purchase student learning software, improve parent communication tools and maintain and replace instructional devices.

 10 year term for levy

If approved, the technology levy would remain in place until 2035.

 $50,000 - $1 million

Monetary losses to school districts following a cyber incident ranged from $50,000 to $1 million according to the U.S. Government Accountability Office.

 141%

Increase in technology-related costs over the last 7 years ensuring students and the district can keep pace with technological advancements essential for modern education.

 14.7% less per-pupil

Dillon Elementary School District spends 14.7% less per-pupil than Montana's per-pupil average. SD #10 spent $11,388 per pupil, in contrast to Montana's state average of $13,346, as reported in the 2022-2023 school year.

 23 years

Number of years since Dillon Elementary School District has requested technology funds, despite growing demand. Currently, the district has a $50,000 annual technology levy.

 $275,000 current shortfall

Current technology costs exceed the existing $50,000 technology levy by $275,000. A new technology levy would increase funding and allow general funds to be reallocated to support our students, teachers, staff, and community.

Learn more at <https://www.dillonschools.org/page/2025-technology-levy> or scan the QR Code.

Dillon Elementary School District #10

2025 Technology Levy

Dillon Elementary
School District #10

Why is Dillon Elementary asking for a technology levy increase?

Dillon Elementary School District #10 is asking for voter approval of a $150,000 technology levy increase in the May 2025 election to help maintain and update critical educational technology. This additional funding will support the following:

- Protecting Student and Staff Data
- Purchasing Student Learning Software
- Improving Parent Communication Tools
- Maintaining and Replacing Instructional Devices

How much would this cost me?

Tax Increase Estimate
$8.01 per year	Estimate for a home with a market value of $100,000
$24.02 per year	Estimate for a home with a market value of $300,000
$48.03 per year	Estimate for a home with a market value of $600,000

Please visit the website below for additional tax estimates and information.

The Dillon Elementary School District technology levy will provide sustainable funding to maintain a safe learning environment, ensure reliable access to educational resources, purchase parent communication tools and digital learning platforms as well as maintain and replace instructional devices.

Protecting Student and Staff Data and Privacy:

Annual threat response and cybersecurity subscriptions are vital in protecting student and staff data and maintaining a safe learning environment. In 2023, 22% of all data breaches involved the education sector, highlighting the significant risk and need for effective data protection measures.

Purchasing Student Learning Software:

Annual software fees for student assessment and learning tools are essential to the success of our students. The variety of educational resources provides personalized learning experiences, allowing students to progress, addressing their individual needs in an effective and enjoyable way. Additionally, it offers valuable data and insights to help us track progress, identify areas for improvement and tailor instruction to better support student achievement. Technology directly impacts our students' success.

Improving Parent Communication Tools:

Effective parent communication technology is crucial for fostering a supportive school community focused on student success. These funds will enable timely updates and the purchase of tools that enhance collaboration between parents and educators, improving student outcomes. Additionally, communication technology supports both administrative functions and the diverse needs of students.

Maintaining and Replacing Instructional Devices:

Maintaining and replacing instructional devices is crucial for keeping technology up to date and supporting effective teaching. Annual IT support contracts help our small school manage technical issues, maintain a productive learning environment, and allow educators to focus on student success. We also need repairs for devices used in state-mandated assessments.
