Thomas Louis Hough

Thomas Louis Hough, 81, was surrounded by family when he passed on May 25, 2025, with complications from Parkinson's. Tom was born on February 2, 1944, in Weed CA, and lived most of his life in Mount Shasta where he graduated from Mount Shasta High School and worked for many years as a heavy equipment operator for the Siskiyou County Road Department.

Tom was fun-loving and welcoming to everyone he met. He enjoyed watching and supporting the local sports teams, especially basketball and baseball that he played in high school. His greatest joy, however, was being outdoors hunting and fishing in his preferred area - the Eddy's. If he didn't get a buck or some Fawn Creek fish, he always had his chainsaw under the tarp so he could cut up some firewood. Never came home with an empty truck! He co-authored a book, Skinnin' & Grinnin' - Buck Tales from Mount Eddy, that is filled with stories about the good old days hunting there with his family and friends.

With hunting bigger game in mind, Tom and Patty moved to Dillon, Montana in 1995 for a grand adventure. While there they made many friends, were members of the horseman's club, volunteered for the local food bank, did some ice fishing and bagged quite a few elk. Tom worked parttime grading and maintaining roads in the backcountry for the U.S. Forest Service in the summer, keeping the winter open for hunting! They returned to California in 2023 to be closer to family due to Tom's declining health.

Tom is survived by his wife of 30 years, Patricia (Patty) Soletti Hough; sons Darren Louis and Cory Thomas Hough/wife Darla (mother, Dorrae Chinca); daughter Monica Hough Gavaldon/husband Martin (mother, Anita Pelletier); and sister Sandy Hough Shepard. He leaves six grandchildren: Trenten, Natalie, Katelyn, Paige and Peyton Hough and Devin Gavaldon; three great-grandchildren: Sadie, Savanna, and Khloe, and many cousins, nieces and nephews. He was pre-deceased by his parents George and Florrie Kidwell Hough; brother, George Lonzo Hough and sister, Pearl Hough Lamb.

Tom, we all wish we could have one more day sitting on the couch, eating chocolate ice cream and watching those old western movies with you. You will be forever in our hearts.

There will be a private family memorial service.

Attorney General Knudsen issues statement following SCOTUS decision in gun manufacturers case

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen issued the following statement Thursday following the Supreme Court of the United States' (SCOTUS) decision in Smith & Wesson Brands, Inc., et al., v. Mexico. Attorney General Knudsen led an amicus brief in support of the firearms manufacturers in December.

"This is a win for gun manufacturers and gun owners across the country. The Protection of Lawful Commerce in Arms Act makes it clear – American firearms manufacturers should not and do not have to answer for the actions of criminals. Today, the Supreme Court unanimously agreed. Mexico's dangerous gun policies are to blame for their own gun violence crisis, not American gun manufacturers following the law."

The Mexican government wrongly claimed that firearms manufacturers should be held liable for the gun violence occurring south of the border since the companies know some of their products are unlawfully trafficked into the country. However, Congress enacted the Protection of Lawful Commerce in Arms Act of 2005 (PLCAA) to balance Americans' Second Amendment right with the need to keep guns away from criminals while protecting firearms companies from being held liable for crimes committed with their products.

Attorney General Knudsen led amicus briefs in support of the gun manufacturers at nearly every stage of the case. Most recently, in December 2024, he led a 28-state coalition asking SCOTUS to reverse a lower court's ruling and keep other nations, like Mexico, from using American courts to limit the rights of American citizens.

FWP seeks proposals from conservation organizations for license auction

Proposal deadline is July 15

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is asking for proposals from conservation organizations interested in conducting a competitive auction or lottery for 2026 mule deer, elk, mountain goat, antelope and swan licenses, or a competitive auction for 2026 bighorn sheep and Shiras moose licenses.

This is the first year that antelope and swan licenses are available for auction and lottery after Gov. Greg Gianforte signed House Bill 330 during the 2025 Legislative Session.

Organizations that demonstrate a commitment to the conservation of the species may submit a proposal to the Montana Fish and Wildlife Commission for a license to be sold by auction or lottery.

Organizations must submit an independent species-specific proposal for each auction/lottery license requested. A proposal considering multiple species will not be considered by the commission. Proposals are limited to a maximum of five pages and must include the following:

- Statement of the organization's purpose;
- A description of the organization's previous involvement in the conservation of the species under the license requested;
- A description of the organization's previous experience in auctions or lotteries;
- A description of how the auction/lottery will be conducted including an estimate of potential revenue that will be generated; and
- A statement indicating whether the organization plans to retain up to 10 percent of the proceeds to cover reasonable auction expenses.

Each organization submitting a proposal must also submit a copy of its bylaws or articles of incorporation and a certificate of good standing as an addendum to the proposal.

All proposals must be received by the FWP Licensing Bureau on or before July 15. Electronic submissions to payton.schild@mt.gov by the deadline are acceptable as well. Note that large and/or sensitive files are best sent via the State of Montana File Transfer Service found at transfer.mt.gov/Home/Login.

The commission will select the successful conservation organizations at its Aug. 21 meeting. Attendance at the meeting by a representative of a proposing organization is not required but is recommended in case the commission has any questions. Selected organizations will be required to enter into a cooperative agreement with FWP prior to conducting any auction or lottery for the licenses. The commission reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

Why Flag Day matters

by Tom Purcell

Flag Day, celebrated every June 14, is one of America's lesser-known holidays, but my father never forgot it.

June 14 marks the day in 1777 when the Continental Congress officially adopted the Stars and Stripes as our national flag. Though President Woodrow Wilson established Flag Day by proclamation in 1916, it wasn't made permanent until 1949, when President Harry S. Truman signed it into law.

For my father, born during the Great Depression, Flag Day was never just a footnote.

We got him a tall flagpole for his 65th birthday, shortly after he and my mother moved into a new house. He mounted it in concrete at the center of his long front yard. He maintained many flags over the years, replacing them as needed — until three years ago, when, at 89, he passed away.

As a boy, he grew up in a country rallying to defeat mighty foes in World War II. Drafted at the tail end of the Korean War, he served for two years. When he returned home, America was a place full of optimism and promise.

He and my mother married and raised six children. He worked hard for decades at the phone company and retired just shy of 60.

He ended up enjoying retirement for more than 30 years

— something he never imagined. He once told me he didn't expect to live past 70, let alone nearly 90. And he never expected to enjoy all of the material blessings he had.

He loved his country not because it was perfect — we've made many missteps in our history — but because it was always striving to improve. To my dad, the flag was a symbol of our constant striving.

In his view, America is exceptional because its people are free to speak, worship, create and build as they pursue their own happiness.

But somewhere along the line, the flag has become divisive in some circles — as though honoring it means ignoring our flaws or endorsing a particular political agenda.

My father knew that the opposite was true. He knew that preserving our freedoms requires vigilance and respect from every generation.

When he was young, people stood still when the national anthem played. Hats came off. Hands covered hearts. Nobody giggled through it. Nobody scrolled.

Now, too often, people are distracted — unaware of what the flag truly symbolizes.

In today's divided times, we could use more subtle reminders of what unites us. The flag should be one of those reminders — not of politics, but of principles: freedom, responsibility, shared purpose and a continuous desire to improve.

I admit I never thought much about the flag when I was younger. It was just there — something I saluted by rote in school or saw at parades.

But over the years, as I watched my father quietly care for his flagpole and replace each worn flag with reverence, I began to understand what it meant.

My father taught me that patriotism isn't about loud declarations — it's about quiet gratitude, responsibility and doing your small part.

I am 63, nearly the age he was when we gave him that flagpole. It's my turn to carry on.

I'm going to mix some concrete this weekend to erect a flagpole in my front yard — a pole that will proudly display the flag I inherited from my father three years ago.
