Ken Heberling - Military Honors

We will be conducting Military Honors for Ken Heberling on Thursday, June 12th at 2 pm at Mountain View Cemetery.

Ken passed on August 21, 2024 and the Military Honors ceremony was postponed due to the wildfire smoke.

June 12th is Ken's birthday, so we thought it appropriate to hold it now.

All are welcome to attend.

City of Dillon Streets Closed

The City of Dillon Street and Alley Department will have the following streets closed to all parking starting at 8:00 am on Tuesday, June 17th: Barnett Street between Vine and Chestnut; Kentucky Avenue between Virginia and Oliver; and Thomsen Avenue from Atlantic to Oliver. We ask that all boats, trailers, and extra vehicles be moved ahead of time and all necessary vehicles moved by 8:00 am that morning, so that the streets can be thoroughly swept and cleaned in preparation for a street preservation project that will begin taking place the following week on June 23rd, 2025.

Any vehicles or trailers that remain after 8:00 am on Tuesday June 17th will be towed at the owner's expense so that the project can be completed in a timely matter. We apologize for any inconvenience that this may cause. If you have any questions please contact Kristina Abbey, Director of Operations, at 683-4245.

Dillon Garden Club June Workshop

The Dillon Garden Club will be offering a Bonsai Tree workshop on Monday, June 23, at 6:00 pm. The event will be held at 442 Kentucky Avenue (in the alley behind the High School Gym).

Our wonderful hosting club member has kindly offered to provide the soil and wire needed to repot and begin training your bonsai at this hands-on event.

Please bring the following items:

- $10 instruction fee
- Bonsai tree (available at Roxi's Greenhouse or any woody stem plant)
- Small Bonsai container (available at Roxi's Greenhouse or online)

James Brown, Montana State Auditor, Announces Multi-State Settlements with Major Broker-Dealers

James Brown, Montana Commissioner of Securities and Insurance, in coordination with securities regulators from Alabama, Iowa, Massachusetts, Missouri, Texas, and Washington, announced national settlements with five major broker-dealer firms—Edward D. Jones & Co., L.P. (Edward Jones), LPL Financial LLC (LPL), RBC Capital Markets, LLC (RBC), Stifel, Nicolaus & Company, Inc. (Stifel), and TD Ameritrade Inc. (now part of Charles Schwab)—resolving allegations that these firms charged unreasonable minimum commissions to retail customers on small principal equity transactions in violation of state securities laws.

The coordinated investigations of the states are ongoing with regard to several additional firms.

“These coordinated settlements send a clear message both that excessive commissions on small trades by main street customers are unacceptable and that investor protection remains a top priority for state securities regulators,” said Montana Commissioner James Brown.

BACKGROUND AND FINDINGS

A multi-state task force, which included the Montana Auditor’s Office, launched investigations in July 2023 after identifying patterns of minimum commission charges that often exceeded 5% of the principal amount on small equity trades. The investigations found that, between 2018 and 2025, the five firms collectively charged excessive commissions on hundreds of thousands of retail transactions, resulting in millions of dollars in aggregate overcharges to main street investors nationwide.

Key findings include:

- Edward Jones: Approximately 781,240 transactions resulting in excessive commissions totaling $11,287,504 from May 2020 to April 2025.
- LPL Financial: 127,045 transactions resulting in excessive commissions totaling $2,486,739.20 between April 2020 and April 2025.
- RBC Capital Markets: 89,900 transactions resulting in excessive commissions totaling approximately $3,400,000 from May 2020 - May 2025.
- Stifel, Nicolaus & Co.: 45,352 transactions resulting in excessive commissions totaling $885,480.13 from May 2020 to April 2025.
- TD Ameritrade (Charles Schwab): 84,618 transactions resulting in excessive commissions totaling $913,223 from June 2018 to June 2023.

SETTLEMENT TERMS: Without admitting or denying the findings, all five firms have agreed to the following terms:

• Restitution: Affected customers will receive restitution equal to the amount of commission charged in excess of 5% of the principal trade amount, plus 6% interest, for the relevant period in each settlement.

• Fines & Costs: The firms will pay administrative fines ranging from $795,000 to $5,300,000; this amounts to fines ranging from $100,000 to $15,000 per state, depending on the firm. The firms will also pay investigative costs to the lead states, including Montana, ranging from $5,000 to $35,000 per state.

• Policy Changes: Each firm must certify that it has reviewed and revised its policies, procedures, and compliance systems to ensure commissions on equity transactions do not exceed 5% of the principal amount and that all transactions are monitored for excessive commission charges.

• Cease and Desist & Censure: The firms are censured and must permanently cease and desist from charging unreasonable commissions and from failing to supervise commission charges.

• No Disqualification: The settlements are not intended to serve as a basis for disqualification from registration or membership with securities regulators or self-regulatory organizations.

The settlements will result in millions of dollars in restitution to retail investors who were overcharged on small equity trades. Customers eligible for restitution will be contacted directly by their broker-dealer with information about their payment.

Commissioner Brown said of the settlements, "I have directed this important state agency to be a strong advocate for Montana's consumers, and the excellent outcome of these settlements is evidence that my directive is being met. Investment companies must act responsibly and must act in the best interests of their customers".

The Montana Securities Division is committed to protecting investors and ensuring compliance with state securities laws.

DOJ'S OCP Alerts Montanans to Text Scams

The Montana Department of Justice's Office of Consumer Protection (OCP) is warning Montanans of fraudulent text messages from scammers claiming to be from the Montana Motor Vehicle Division (MVD) and asking the recipients to pay fines or traffic tickets. MVD does not send texts asking for money for unpaid tickets or toll road fees.

To pressure recipients into providing their personal information and/or money, the scammers are sending urgent text messages with fake payment deadlines and, in some cases, threatening increased fees and suspension of vehicle registration. To stay vigilant, be on the lookout for texts that originate from a phone number outside the United States and claim to be from a department with an incorrect and unofficial name.

Keep these tips in mind:

- Verify Sources: The official Montana MVD does not request payments via text links. Contact the MVD directly at (406) 444-3933 or visit <https://mvdmt.gov> to confirm notices.
- Avoid Links: Do not click or copy links from unknown texts; report them instead.
- Recognize Red Flags:
- Report Suspicious Messages:

Montanans can report any phone, email, or mail scams to the Montana Department of Justice's Office of Consumer Protection at contactocp@mt.gov, or 406-444-4500 (toll-free: 800-481-6896), or online at <https://dojmt.gov/office-of-consumer-protection/>.
