Gene was gifted at farming. During high school he was awarded the state championship as Future Farmer of America (FFA). But he also liked mining, and worked in his early years as an open pit miner for Tri-State Minerals Co mining talc near Dillon, Minerals Engineering Co mining tungsten near Glen, MT and J.R. Simplot Co mining halloysite in Idaho. He worked as an underground miner for the Anaconda Company for copper in Butte.

Between jobs, Gene took college courses at Dillon Western, Helena Carroll, and Butte School of Mines. Gene graduated from the University of Idaho as a Geological Engineer with a minor in Mining Engineering in 1959. During this time, the Army recognized him as a leader, promoted to Sergeant first class M-41 tank commander in the Army Ready Reserve (National Guard).

As a geologist, Gene discovered a major buried iron deposit for the Standard Slag Co and expanded kaolin reserves for the Huntley Industrial Minerals Co. The odds of finding new mines from grassroots exploration are minuscule, but many of his colleagues have marveled that Gene has a unique ability to be able to stand on an undiscovered ore body and instinctively know it's there. He was one of the first geologists to recognize what ultimately became the Gold Quarry Mine near Carlin, and the Paradise Peak Mine near Gabbs, Nevada. But these properties did not fit corporate strategy in those days. Gene found out that it takes wise management to develop a mine. And so began his quest into management.

Gene's career took off when he joined Union Carbide Corporation's Tungsten Division as a field geologist where he was quickly recognized for his natural leadership ability. He was soon promoted into his own exploration office in Missoula as NW District Geologist. Through success of exploration development, his supervision progressed over all the district offices ultimately as Exploration Manager of North American Tungsten from Alaska to California.

Pioneering new exploration methods, within 5 years Gene found and drill-developed the two best new tungsten deposits in the United States. Following this success, he also became Manager of South American Tungsten where he identified major tungsten reserves in Mexico. Next, Gene managed teams that developed major tungsten reserves in South Africa.

But in mining, timing is everything. Declining metal prices signaled an end to many great mining companies including Union Carbide. But Gene quickly rebounded back with gold exploration. He became President of several new companies that he formed such as Horizon Resources, Nelson Associates, and Yellow Band Inc where he developed a 100,000 oz gold reserve. He also formed his own public company on the Vancouver BC stock exchange, Blue Ribbon Resources LTD which identified huge gold anomalies in the wild and remote upper Amazon jungle.

When gold prices fell, the environmental movement brought Montana exploration to a halt with the cyanide ban. Resiliently, Gene formed Apex Abrasives Inc to produce water-jet garnet and tungsten while reclaiming an abandoned tailings pond.

Gene was the last original charter member of the Western Montana Mining Association (now called the Montana Mining Association) which has been instrumental in defending one of Montana's most important base industries: mining. In 2007, he was awarded the prestigious Uno Sahinen Award from Montana Tech for significant contributions to Montana's mining industry.

As a boy, Gene admired a young ranch girl named Elsie Rebich who raced around magnificently on a horse that looked far too big for her. They have been married for 66 years. They raised four children; Dirk, Julie, Rodney, and Erik. They settled in Missoula but also hold property in Dillon and Argenta. Gene did not have many hobbies aside from hunting and fishing as his career in mining was all consuming right up to his death. But he did love to read and study history which enabled him to intelligently converse within a huge range of subjects. He was also a member of the Dillon Knights of Columbus and Elks Club for over 50 years.

Gene is preceded in death by his parents, Ernest Charles and Martha Josephine (Roth) of Dillon. He is survived by his wife, Elsie Ann (Rebich) of Missoula and sister, Helen Kay Leybold of Portland, OR. Children are Dirk Eugene (Norlynn Marie Bruce) of

BLM to review proposed Helena to Three Forks natural gas pipeline

The Bureau of Land Management announced plans to conduct an environmental review for the proposed 74-mile Helena to Three Forks natural gas pipeline under an accelerated 14-day environmental review process, initiated in response to the national energy emergency declared by President Donald J. Trump.

If approved, NorthWestern Energy, could construct the pipeline to boost natural gas capacity in western Montana and enhance domestic energy infrastructure. The route includes approximately seven miles of BLM-managed public lands and would follow an existing utility corridor to minimize new ground disturbance and ecological disruption. The proposed 16-inch buried pipeline would be constructed in phases between spring 2026 and fall 2029.

The Bureau of Land Management is responsible for overseeing the extraction of critical minerals on federally managed public lands needed for technologies like data centers and defense applications, and for authorizing the development of traditional energy sources, such as oil, gas, and coal. By managing public lands for responsible mineral extraction, the BLM ensures a stable supply of these essential resources. Through permitting, land management, and environmental oversight, the BLM helps reduce reliance on foreign minerals, bolstering the nation's energy security and supporting the continued operation of key industrial sectors.

Additional information is available at the BLM National NEPA Register. For more information, please contact BLM Project Manager Claire Romanko at 406-329-3823.

Veteran's Corner Update #312
By Mike Lawson

Veteran News Updates:

- The next special day many of us will be participating in is our US Flag Day ceremonies. Flag Day is a celebration of the American Flag each year on June 14, the anniversary of the flag's official adoption. On June 14, 1777, during the Revolutionary War, Congress made the Flag Resolution of 1777. "The flag of the United States shall be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, with a union of thirteen stripes of white on a blue field..". Our flag has a rich history that is well worth reading. There are many sources for this history, but I really enjoyed reading the "Old Farmer's Almanac" which did a great job of explaining it's history.

- I just read an article about a "Prescription for VA Virtual Care Tools". Our world has changed so much from when many of us were younger in our 20s, 30s, 40s and even our 50s. I'm talking about communicating. We're now in the virtual world of the internet on our computers and smart phones. The VA has numerous tools to expanding "Veteran Access to Care Through Virtual Technologies". It's amazing what they have that our younger Veterans, who have grown up using the internet, can understand and get help from. The apps can be found, that may meet your needs, by browsing mobile.va.gov/appstore. Many of these apps can be found on Apple App Store and Google Play, but there are some that can only be accessed on the VA App Store through a desktop version. If you need help with any of these tools you can call the Health Resource Center Help Desk at 877-651-3180.

- The VA has been doing research on Marijuana and it's effects. The questions of whether it's safe to use in regard to both our mental and physical health are being researched. VA providers are not able to prescribe marijuana products. They can answer questions about using a marijuana product for a medical condition and discuss what the most appropriate treatment is for the individual. The research on marijuana by the VA is ongoing and some of the results are interesting, to say the least. If you have questions, contact your VA provider or health care team.

As I wind this up and schools are out, or soon to be out for the summer, I think about the kids running around doing the many activities in which they're involved. Please drive with care and be friendly to them. A kind word and a smile can make their day. Have a great week, wherever you are.

Bitterroot Red Sox (A) Hand Dillon Cubs 17-2 Loss in Big Inning Comeback

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The Bitterroot Red Sox (A) exploded offensively in the third inning, scoring 10 runs to secure a dominant 17-2 victory over the Dillon Cubs 2025 on Tuesday.

The Red Sox jumped ahead early in the third inning with a flurry of scoring. Jackson Lubke launched a three-run homer to left field, and Cash Lockhart singled home two runs. Following that, singles by Brady DeMoss and Cash Lawrence contributed to the onslaught, along with walks from Lubke, Boedy Tadvick, and a single from Reese Earp that drove in runs.

In the fourth inning, Bitterroot continued their offensive surge, scoring seven runs on four hits. Hunter Harness hit a solo home run to center field, and errors allowed multiple runs to cross the plate. Reese Earp led the team at the plate, going 3-for-4 and driving in multiple RBIs, while multiple players, including Harness and Lockhart, contributed with multi-hit performances.

Joe Hixon earned the win on the mound, allowing just four hits and two runs (one earned) over five innings, with one strikeout and three walks. Trenton Moreni took the loss for Dillon, pitching 2 1/3 innings and surrendering three runs on four hits.

Andrew Bartlome led Dillon with two hits in three at-bats, and drove in a run. The Cubs' offense managed only four hits in the game.

The Bitterroot Red Sox (A) finished with 13 hits and played solid defense, turning one double play during the contest.

The Dillon Cubs will host the Butte Miners on Thursday for their next game as they look to rebound from this tough outing.
