Jodi Lynn Miner April 11, 1979 — July 15, 2025

Jodi Lynn (Clark) Miner was born April 11, 1979, in Deer Lodge, MT. After a brief stay in the hospital, she was taken home by her parents, Tim and Dawn Clark, to Rock Creek Cattle Co., where she began her lifelong journey of being a cowboy. A couple years after the birth of her sister Faye Anne, the family moved to Winston, MT to work on the family ranch. There she enjoyed a wonderful childhood of catching frogs, building forts, and learning about the ranching lifestyle. Jodi attended school first in Helena and then in Townsend until the 6th grade.

In 1991 the family moved to Dell to work for Canyon Ranch where she continued building her superior work ethic. When not in school, her time was spent working with the cowboy crew or riding fence and forest allotments with her sister. She also excelled in volleyball and basketball, and several of her teams helped to fill the trophy case. Many lifelong friendships were formed during those years. She graduated from Lima as valedictorian in her class in 1997.

After high school, she attended MSU where she pursued a degree in animal science and ag business. She maintained an active social life, and expanded her world knowledge by traveling to Australia, Argentina, and Mexico; the friendships she acquired and the lives she touched increased greatly.

On the 4th of July 2001 at the Ennis rodeo, she met a young cowboy that would eventually change her life forever.

Upon graduating MSU in the spring of 2003, she wanted to pursue more cowboying opportunities. Jodi was fortunate to work on some of the biggest ranches in Montana including the CA, IX, and J.B. Griegson Ranch. In the meantime, the young cowboy was pursuing her relentlessly. She finally slowed down enough the summer of 2003 to let him put an engagement ring on her finger, and later that fall they became man and wife. This started a 21 year fast paced roller coaster ride they thought would last forever.

The spring of 2004 was full of opportunity and young love. Calving cows for Dragging Y Cattle Co., a standing offer to go to the ZX anytime, and then a phone call job opportunity to work at Snowline Grazing. They decided to try Snowline for the summer. Little did they realize, that job would turn into a career.

The happy couple was first blessed with their first child, Myla Faye in November 2005. It didn't take long for their second daughter, Molli Jo, to arrive in July 2007. Jodi managed to juggle being a wife and a mother along with her Snowline cowboy job. After four years of wanting to complete their family, she finally convinced the cowboy into having another child. They got a firecracker! Ira Wesley arrived in September 2012. Now with her family complete, Jodi spent her time devoting herself to raising her children and working hard at her trade.

Her work ethic was impeccable. Whenever in her presence, other people tried harder; Jodi brought out the best in everyone. Between Snowline and being a local brand inspector, she didn't have much spare time but was always able to make time for her children. Every sporting event, 4-H activity, FFA, or rodeo, she was there cheering them on.

Jodi was diagnosed with breast cancer in April 2023. Unfortunately, she lost the fight two years later, on July 15, 2025. As was her character, she fought hard right up to her last breath. The list of words to describe what we lost when she took her Heavenly ascent is too great to put on paper.

There will be a memorial service Saturday July 26, 2025, at one o'clock in the Lima High School gymnasium. A reception will follow at the Miner Ranch; 2942 Little Sheep Creek Rd. Jodi's ashes will be spread later this fall when the colors change in Dutch Hollow.

In Lieu of flowers, the family is requesting memorial donations be made to the Jodi Miner scholarship fund at The Bank of Commerce. The money will be divided between Idaho District 1 High School Rodeo and Beaverhead County FFA.

82-Year-Old Motorcyclist Killed In I-15 Collision Involving Pickup Truck

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

On Thursday, July 17th, a fatal crash occurred on Interstate 15 at mile marker 62 at approximately 5:15 PM. The accident involved a Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck and two motorcycles.

The Silverado, driven by a 26-year-old male from Eureka, MT, was traveling southbound. In front was a motorcycle, and next to the truck in the passing lane was another motorcycle. As the driver of the Silverado attempted to overtake the motorcycle directly ahead, he failed to notice the motorcycle in the passing lane. Consequently, the back driver-side door of the Silverado collided with the motorcycle's sidecar.

The collision forced the motorcycle into the median, ejecting its rider, an 82-year-old male from Draper, UT. Unfortunately, he sustained fatal injuries as a result of the crash.

Authorities do not consider speed to be a contributing factor in the incident; however, they are investigating the potential involvement of drugs and/or alcohol. The identities of those involved are being withheld pending family notifications.

Hail the heroic hot dog

by Tom Purcell

July is National Hot Dog Month, a time to honor one of America's most beloved, misunderstood and delicious foods.

On July 4 alone, Americans consumed an estimated 150 million hot dogs, according to the National Hot Dog and Sausage Council — and that was just in my backyard!

The origin of the hot dog goes way back. Sausages were mentioned in Homer's Odyssey. The Germans perfected them, bringing frankfurters and wieners to America in the 1800s.

Early sausages were called "dachshund sausages," due to their resemblance to the long-bodied pup.

As the story goes, a cartoonist at a 1901 baseball game couldn't spell "dachshund" and labeled them "hot dogs" in his cartoon instead.

The hot dog became iconic at Coney Island in 1871, when German immigrant Charles Feltman began selling sausages in buns from a cart. He eventually built an upscale, full-service restaurant.

It was a former employee of that restaurant, Nathan Handwerker, who truly revolutionized the dog.

In 1916 Nathan opened a humble stand on the boardwalk and sold all-beef, kosher-style hot dogs for a nickel.

Customers were suspicious of their low cost — cheap hot dogs had a reputation for being unsanitary — so Nathan hired men in white coats to pose as doctors to "vouch" for their health benefits.

That stand became Nathan's Famous.

Nathan's is now a national brand and home to the world-famous July 4 Hot Dog Eating Contest, where Joey "Jaws" Chestnut just reclaimed his mustard belt by downing 70.5 hot dogs in 10 minutes.

Is there anything more American than "athletes" competing to see who can stuff more food down their gullet?

Nathan changed the hot dog's reputation, and its popularity blossomed from there.

Between Memorial Day and Labor Day, Americans will consume more than 7 billion hot dogs — about 50,000 every minute.

But no beloved American food can exist without some Americans using their First Amendment rights to attack it.

Nutritionists warn us about nitrates, sodium and saturated fat — and claim one hot dog might take 36 minutes off your life.

Fact check: It's not that you gain 36 minutes every time you don't eat a hot dog — your life just seems longer!

Food activists — particularly PETA — claim hot dogs are made with "mystery meat," such as snouts, lips, hearts and other unmentionables.

PETA also claims they may contain "glass, plastic, metal, bone, rodents and other miscellaneous ingredients."

That sounds like a Harry Potter recipe — and a very tasty one, so long as the dog is grilled to perfection, slathered with mustard and washed down with an ice-cold beer.

Look, the American hot dog is the working-class hero of summer food.

It's portable, cheap and brings people together at ballparks, cookouts and roadside diners.

It was an affordable way for people to feed their families during the high inflation of the past four years.

In these partisan times, we can't agree on much. But here's one thing we should agree on: Americans should never put ketchup on their hot dogs!

The great Chicago newspaper columnist Mike Royko, writing from America's hot dog capital, made that point loud and clear.

To paraphrase Royko, putting ketchup on a hot dog is disgusting and perverted — hey, why not use toenail clippings and cat hair while you're at it?

Well said, Mike.

Now if you'll excuse me, I have a couple of dachshund sausages to tend to on my Weber grill!

A Reminder of the Past - by Bette Hull

23 North Idaho Street, Dillon, Montana

The Roberta Theater was originally the Hartwig Theater built in 1919, when silent moving pictures were shown on a screen by a projector, music was furnished by a pipe organ.

About 1950, the theater was remodeled and re-named the Roberta Theater. The movie featured on the marquee is Stalag 17 which was first released in the United States June 6, 1953.
