Dr. Richard Leigh Wright

January 8, 1944-July 17, 2025

Dr. Richard (Rick) Leigh Wright (81) passed peacefully into Heaven from his Dillon home, attended by his wife Laurie on July 17, 2025. Rick was beloved for his charismatic and overwhelmingly kind personality, gifted to encourage and uplift all he met. When Rick said he believed in you, he made you believe you could do anything. He was passionate about the community college system as a means to serve humanity. That same passionate nature drove him to live life as an adventure, wherever he traveled he was sure to "get a guide" to experience local fly fishing.

Rick was born in Shelby, Ohio to Emma (Kotz) Wright and Louis E. Wright on January 8, 1944. He and brother Lynn were the local "Wright Brothers" in small town Shelby which provided an idyllic childhood for Rick, the all American boy active in Boy Scouting, baseball and most importantly fishing. Rick starred in football and track at Shelby High, graduating in 1962.

By 1968 Rick had earned both B.A. and M.A. degrees from Kent State University in Ohio. Next stop was University of Northern Colorado at Greeley earning a Ph.D in College Student Personnel Administration in 1971.

Life in Greeley, Colorado afforded Rick access to fly fishing paradise on the many lakes in Greeley. As Rick always said, "Fish live in beautiful places".

Accepting a position at Bakersfield College, Rick and his young family moved to Bakersfield, California in 1977. In 1983 Rick began tenure as president of Bakersfield College. At that time he was the youngest college president in the country. Completing 14 years as president, Rick accepted the position of Department Chair for the Behavioral and Social Sciences Division. While working administratively, he continued to teach psychology, up to 400 students per semester. Rick was honored with titles of Professor Emeritus and President Emeritus conferred upon him at retirement. Throughout the years at BC, Rick continued to pursue his passion for fly fishing there on the challenging Kern River.

The 1980s marked the beginning of a landmark tradition for Rick and friend group with their annual Memorial Day weekend fly fishing excursion to Montana and the beginning of a love for all things Montana.

In 2016, Rick's dream to live in fly fishing heaven was

Dillon Cubs Fall Short in High-Scoring Battle Against Butte Miners

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The Dillon Cubs showcased strong offensive firepower but ultimately fell to the Butte Miners in a thrilling 14-11 at Ray Lynch Park on Thursday.

Despite out-hitting the Miners 16 to 7, the Cubs couldn't contain the offensive surge from Butte, which collected seven hits but capitalized on key moments to secure the win. Dillon's hitters kept pace with seven players recording multiple hits, led by Trenton Moreni, Marcus Lagunas, and Jase Alvarez, each with three.

The game opened with an early spark from Dillon. Tristan Alvarez singled in the second inning to bring home the first run, and Jase Alvarez added another with a sacrifice fly in the third, giving the Cubs a 2-1 lead.

Butte responded swiftly in the bottom of the third, taking the lead with a walk by Colt Hassler and an error that scored three runs, putting the Miners in front 3-2. The tide turned dramatically in the fourth inning when Butte exploded for 10 runs on five hits, including a four-RBI single by Gunnar O'Brien to extend their lead to 13-3.

Cohen Hartman pitched for Dillon, surrendering eight runs over three and two-thirds innings while striking out seven. Matthew Donaldson took the mound for Butte, allowing six runs over five innings and striking out five.

The Cubs rallied in the later innings, with Moreni driving in three RBIs and Alvarez and teammate Andrew Bartlome adding multiple hits to keep the game competitive. Hartman and others kept fighting, but the Miners displayed patience at the plate, drawing 13 walks and turning the game's momentum their way.

Defensively, Butte turned a key double play, helping to stifle Dillon's late-inning rally. Overall, it was an exciting clash of offensive firepower, but the Miners' timely hits and disciplined approach edged out the Cubs for the win.

FWP releases Bear Relocation Dashboard
 In an effort to provide more insight to bear management and to keep local landowners and communities aware when black bears or grizzly bears are relocated, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks released a new online Bear Relocation Dashboard today.
 This new dashboard displays general relocations on an interactive map. FWP relocates bears for a variety of reasons and the interactive features allow users to click to see information about the relocation including the species of bear, general reason and the date of latest relocation.
 For years, FWP has posted relocation information on its website. This will continue, and the Bear Relocation Dashboard will simply be another resource for the public.
 This is FWP's third dashboard related to bear management. Along with the Bear Relocation Dashboard, FWP developed the Grizzly Bear Mortality Dashboard last year and the Grizzly Bear Conflict Dashboard earlier this summer.
 Not only do these new dashboards help keep the public informed, they provide insight into the reason that bear conflict occurs and tools that FWP uses to help landowners and communities reduce conflicts.
 The Relocation Dashboard provides general locations for areas where FWP staff have relocated bears. Details of each location can be found by clicking on "Table" at the top of the dashboard.
 Grizzly bears remain federally protected in the Lower 48 under the Endangered Species Act. This protection remains despite populations in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem (GYE) and the Northern Continental Divide Ecosystem (NCDE) growing well past recovery goals.

FWP is required by law to inform the county and tribal government within 24 hours of which the grizzly bear or black bear is to be relocated. Grizzly bears can only be relocated by FWP to sites approved by the Fish and Wildlife Commission. Under state law, grizzly bears that cause conflicts outside of designated recovery zones cannot be relocated by FWP staff. The dashboard only reflects bears relocated by FWP.
 For more information on grizzly and black bear conflict prevention and management, FWP has many web-based resources for communities, landowners and recreationists. A link to the Grizzly Bear Conflict Dashboard can be found on the grizzly bear management webpage.

BC/BS of Montana Awards $20,000 to Cancer Support Community Montana to Improve Access to Supportive Cancer Care

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Montana recently awarded a prestigious $20,000 Blue Impact Grant to Cancer Support Community Montana (CSCMT) to improve access to supportive cancer care throughout Montana.

Each year, BCBSMT supports communities throughout the state with grants and sponsorships with the overarching goal of improving access to and affordability of health care. All community giving at BCBSMT is designed to build healthier communities as part of an ongoing commitment to invest in partner nonprofit organizations to reach Montanans.

"We are extremely grateful for the support of BCBSMT. When someone has cancer, they deserve the very best care. This includes not only the direct medical services, but also the wraparound emotional and social support that is the gold standard for cancer care. With this funding, we will be able to reach more individuals and families who are affected by cancer," said Chris Darnell, CEO, Cancer Support Community Montana.

"We are inspired by the work CSCMT does throughout Montana and we're proud to support this initiative," said BCBSMT Plan President Lisa Kelley. "We strongly believe in the power of community and consistently engage with organizations like CSCMT to enhance access to unique and vital services for Montanans."

With more than 5,000 visits annually, CSCMT uplifts and strengthens people impacted by cancer by providing support, fostering compassionate communities, and breaking down barriers to care. CSCMT provides in-person and online individual and group counseling, nationally recognized education including our "Frankly Speaking about Cancer" series, travel assistance, resource navigation help, a wig program, cooking/nutrition and strength/exercise classes, and other healthy lifestyle and social opportunities, and, above all, Community and Hope. All programs and services are free of charge to participants across the state.
