Fighter Passes Away During Suppression Efforts At Bivens Creek Fire

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

A firefighter working on the Bivens Creek Fire on Sunday afternoon passed away after suffering a cardiac arrest while actively engaged in fire suppression efforts. According to reports, the firefighter was on the ground, working tirelessly to control the blaze when he experienced a sudden cardiac emergency.

Rapid medical assistance was provided by a line paramedic on scene, but despite efforts to revive him, resuscitation was unsuccessful.

Support services are being offered to those impacted by this tragic loss.

COATS MISSING GIVEN TO BARGAIN BASEMENT

Coats were given to the Bargain Basement by mistake. These coats are very sentimental and I would REALLY like to get them back.

There were two mens light nylon coats. The first one had a Critter Control logo on it. Black with white letters and the second had an Alpine Log Homes logo and was red with white letters. If you have seen or bought these coats I would really like go get them back! Call 406-865-0586 or contact Bargain Basement. Please help. Thank you!

River-wide closures go into effect Aug. 23 on Big Hole and Jefferson rivers

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks has closed fishing on the entire Big Hole and Jefferson Rivers due to low stream flows. The closure is effective starting at midnight Aug. 23.

The closures are in accordance with drought management plans on both rivers. On the Jefferson River, the drought plan allows for a river-wide angling closure when stream flows fall below 280 cubic feet per second (cfs) at Twin Bridges. On the Big Hole, the drought plan allows for a river-wide angling closure when flows fall below certain thresholds. Streamflows fell below 100 cfs at Wise River and 150 cfs at Melrose, prompting the closure.

"With no precipitation forecasted for either river, angling closures are a necessary step to protect the fisheries in both rivers," said Adam Strainer.

The closure on the Jefferson River is in place from the confluence of the Beaverhead and Big Hole rivers to where it hits the Missouri River. The Big Hole River closure is in place from Saginaw Bridge in its headwaters region to where it meets the Beaverhead River to form the Jefferson River.

Jaycee Park Woodchips Get a New Purpose — Volunteers Needed Sept. 6

On Saturday, September 6, 2025, the Friends of Jaycee Park are asking southwest Montana residents to help remove woodchips and make way for new ForeverLawn grass.

More than just cleanup, this is a full-circle moment for the community and MYCA cadets: back in 2018, cadets helped lay these same woodchips, and now a new group is stepping up to remove them. With a goal of 150 volunteers, organizers hope more neighbors will join those already committed.

Some woodchips will find a second life at Kid Country Daycare in Twin Bridges, where volunteers are ready to put them to immediate use. Identified as a need last spring, the timing of removal helps ease costs for a nonprofit working to stay affordable and sustainable. The daycare is grateful for the opportunity to share resources and for support from neighbors across southwest Montana.

Community connections continue to be key. Rick and Heidi Schwandt mentor MYCA cadets—Class 53 still has around 14 cadets in need of a mentor—and Rick, already helping with woodchip removal, is coordinating trucking to the daycare, highlighting how neighbors can help in many ways.

The results are meaningful: a safer, long-lasting play space, support for a rural daycare, and valuable service opportunities for young adults building brighter futures.

If the efforts and missions of these groups inspire you to provide support, contact: Volunteering at Jaycee Park: erinhughes@justserve.org Mentoring an MYCA cadet: michelle.nelon@myacademy.org | (406) 988-7028 Request MYCA cadet volunteers: seth.gillis@myacademy.org | (406) 960-4213 Financial support of the MYCA Foundation: foundation@myacademy.org | (406) 960-4424 Financial or in-kind support of Kid Country Daycare: Director, April Huss (406) 684-5353 Across southwest Montana, communities thrive when neighbors come together. Join us September 6 and turn a day of teamwork into a lasting gift for children and families.

New wolf regulations

The Montana Fish and Wildlife Commission finalized wolf hunting and trapping regulations during a lengthy meeting where commissioners heard passionate comments from people around the country. Check FWP website for all of the changes.

The Commission debated several amendments to the 2025/2026 Regulations. The central focus of the discussion was crafting a new set of wolf regulations.

For the 2025/2026 wolf hunting and trapping season the Commission approved a 452 statewide wolf quota, which includes a sub-quota of 60 wolves in Region 3, and separate quotas of three wolves each in Wolf Management Units 313 and 316.

Archery wolf season opens Sept. 6. Trapping season will open Dec. 1, except within the geographic area identified by federal court order. Just like last season, trapping within the geographic area will be limited to Jan. 1 to Feb. 15.

MT Motor Vehicle Division mobile ID services

The Montana Motor Vehicle Division (MVD) launched Montana Mobile IDs, which allow Montanans to carry a digital version of their driver license or state-issued ID securely on their iPhone, Apple Watch, and Android devices, providing increased convenience, enhanced security, and greater privacy for users.

Montana Mobile IDs allow citizens to seamlessly and securely add their Montana-issued driver license or state ID to Apple Wallet and Google Wallet, and present their ID for verification using their devices. Mobile IDs allow users to prove their identity to access services online, in-app and in-person; and provide age verification to participating businesses without sharing any additional information such as name, address, or birthdate when making an age-restricted purchase.

Mobile IDs can only be used at businesses and organizations choosing to participate, which may not include all states, retailers, or federal agencies. Currently, mobile IDs are accepted at MVD exam stations equipped with a check-in kiosk and more than 250 TSA airports across the country. Users are also able to present their ID in select apps and online.

As the technology is not accepted everywhere, users should also always carry their physical license. The adoption of mobile IDs is continuing to grow. For example, the Montana Highway Patrol anticipates having the ability to verify mobile IDs before the end of the year.

Montanans can add and use their license to their digital wallet in a few easy steps. When adding an ID to a digital wallet, MVD only receives the information it needs to approve or deny the request.

For more information about Mobile IDs or the Montana Mobile ID Verifier App, please visit, www.mvdmont.gov/mobile-id

by CHARLES STAUFFER

This holiday season lists a long tradition of remembering our special time for thinking old friends, old times and old places which are forever treasured. With this 1987 Christmas publication, the Printing Place remembers two outstanding individuals--Ari Saito and Matt Orr--each of whom authored exceptional contributions to our community.

MATTHEW J. (MATT) ORR

One of this area's most respected and revered educators, Matt Orr was honored last fall as the initial selection for the "Education Memorial," established in conjunction with this city's Community Outdoor Recreation Project, a four-acre athletic complex now awaiting completion of an adjunct to Parkview Schools.

COO spokesman Tom Welch said the $1,000 memorial contribution was presented by the honoree's widow, Mrs. Evelyn Orr Doran. "These donations," Welch explained, "allow families and friends to recognize individuals who have occupied principal roles in developing this area's educational facilities."

A Dillon native, Matt Orr was a descendant of Beaverhead County pioneers. His grandfather, W.C. Orr, established the famed P & G Ranch southeast of Dillon in partnership with Philip Reinhardt.

Following graduation from Beaverhead County High School, Matt Orr served four years with the U.S. Marines, including 30 months in the South Pacific Theatre during World War II. Upon returning to Dillon, he earned Bachelor and Master degrees in Education from Montana State College and initiated his teaching career in 1952 at Dillon's historic Huxley School.

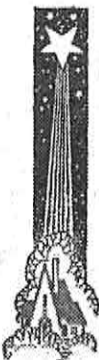

He served as principal at Huxley and Parkview Schools from 1956-66 and was named superintendent of School District 10 in 1968, a post he retained until ill health forced his retirement in 1973.

Matt Orr was a community leader, maintaining active roles with the Dillon City Council, American Legion, Elks Lodge, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Montana Education Association and Sons of Montana Pioneers.

He married Evelyn McMonis in 1941 and his survivors also included two sons, Matthew, Claude and William Frank.

Following his death on March 12, 1975, trustees of School District 10 adopted a memorial resolution which, in part, read:

"Matt Orr will long be remembered by his colleagues, his students, and the community as a humble, quiet, inspiring man of work habit, who gave unselfishly of himself, his art of teaching, and his ability to transmit that art to the educational, administrative and academic fields."

Plaques to Honor Educators

Plaques honoring Mr. Orr and others continue from the educational fields will be placed on permanent display at the COO complex, Welch said. Information concerning these "Education Memorials" is available from Welch at Attorney Carl Davis.

The generous athletic field project originated last spring following lengthy study. The $28,000 complex, scheduled for completion in spring of 1988, will feature a football field, two baseball diamonds and a circular track, along with capabilities to accommodate soccer, tennis.

MRS. ARI SAITO

From 1937 until her death in 1987, Mrs. Saito chronicled the history of this area through the lenses of her cameras.

During that half-century as a professional photographer and co-owner of the Dillon Portrait Studio, she served this area in a manner truly unique for excellence, accommodation and congeniality. She was, in every sense, a true professional in her field.

Born September 2, 1917, at Ucon, Idaho, she married A. Saito in 1942 and the couple owned and operated the local photography business. Following his death in 1974, Ari continued the business while specializing in family and wedding photography.

She treasured her affiliations with the First Presbyterian Church, Sister of Eastern Star, and the Montana Montana College Associates of which she was a charter member.

Ari's generosity was a legend listing few parallels. She contributed time, money and services to schools, organizations, churches, and civic projects in amounts which are questionable throughout that long business career.

She harbored a never-ending concern for young people and assisted them in numerous routes to educational achievements. She sacrificed extensively to insure professional careers for her own children Joanne, now a medical doctor at Greenville, S.C., and George, a computer physicist with Westinghouse Corporation in Richmond, Va.

Remembered as this city's "Queen of the Sun" in 1975, Mrs. Saito was cited as a citizen who "dully" set examples in honesty, integrity, and dependability. Beyond her status as a valued member of the business community, she was a treasured friend to thousands of Beaverhead residents--young and old."

Farmer's Share Day at the Beaverhead County Fair, Friday, Aug. 29th from 11am-2pm!

Upcoming Farmer's Share event Aug. 29 highlights growing imbalance in food system.

An upcoming Farmer's Share Day event hosted by Montana Farmers Union during the Beaverhead County Fair from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., Friday, Aug. 29, offers a powerful real-time lesson that highlights the growing imbalance in the food system that favors powerful corporations over family farmers and ranchers.

"Farmer's Share events highlight what portion of our food dollar actually gets back to the producer. This is a stark realization for most. If we can educate folks about this, it is a step in the right direction to building food supply chains that are fair for both consumers and producers," MFU Ambassador Samantha Ferrat said.

According to the latest periodical "Farmer's Share of the Food Dollar" report from National Farmers Union, family farmers and ranchers receive less than 16 cents per food dollar, with the remainder going to off-farm costs, including marketing, processing, wholesaling, distribution and retailing.

The numbers translate to Montana producers receiving roughly 75 cents per cheeseburger – something Montana Farmers Union is highlighting during Farmer's Share Days at various county fairs this summer, including the Beaverhead County Fair event.

During the Aug. 29 event, fairgoers can experience the Farmer's Share firsthand when they receive a coupon at the MFU booth to purchase a cheeseburger for 75 cents at the 4-H food booth. MFU then covers the difference of the actual cost.

MFU, alongside NFU, is actively addressing the monopoly crisis in food and agriculture through the Fairness for Farmers campaign, advocating for stronger antitrust enforcement and greater transparency to increase fairness for farmers and transparency for consumers. Learn more about the Farmer's Share today by visiting www.montanafarmersunion.com.

Roommate/discount rent

8/13-29 BILL

Looking for a kind, responsible person to live with my aging mother in town. Rent would be based on level of care, ideally free for the right tenant. Her needs are simple - food outside of meals on wheels, medication check and keeping the house tidy, maybe light errands. The home is 3 bed, 1 bath, newly remodeled top to bottom, all new appliances, W/D. It has a yard and storage. Starting Sept 1st. must provide references and be willing to have a background check. Please call 307-699-7200.
