Tribute to Richard "Dick" Albert Coad, Jr.

Richard "Dick" Albert Coad, Jr., born on September 3, 1939, passed away on September 15, 2025. He will be remembered by all who knew him for his remarkable sense of humor and his generous spirit.

Richard, born in Ennis, Montana, was the middle child of three, with Viola Evans as the eldest and Edward Coad. (Cindy), as the youngest.

Richard's life exemplified a robust work ethic, a trait that continues to be a benchmark for today's workforce. In 1962, he enlisted in the Army and often spoke with pride about his tenure as a Crypto Equip Repairman, while stationed in Germany. The shared experiences in the German social scene with his brother Ed are fondly remembered. Regarding his military service, he would humbly state that it "didn't count because I never saw conflict." Despite our differing views, we recognize and value his service.

Additionally, he devoted several years to the Forest Service prior to starting a family. A noteworthy incident involved a near-fatal experience with a ruptured appendix, which he initially attempted to manage by "walking it off" but ended up in emergency surgery.

He was a lifelong member of Virginia City Elks Lodge #309, 58 years, and serving as Exalted Ruler twice. He was proud to be a member, working hard at the numerous fish fries, Rocky Mountain Oyster feed and other fund-raising events. Also, skinning critters for the "hide-drive" alongside his Dad, Richard Coad, Sr.

This remembrance would not be complete without giving attention to Ed and Richard's Bunz 'n Bro candy business. (To be clear, Richard was 'n Bro and Ed was Bunz.) Anyone who tasted their Almond or Pecan Roca left with a sweet memory. They took immense pleasure in making this candy, but they especially enjoyed selling it at craft and holiday shows.

Richard's family was at the heart of his life. He is survived by his first wife, Sally Smith, and their children, Carrie Rowley and Karla Fiscus (Lance). He was a loving grandfather to Kyle McAlpin (Delaina) and Kaylyn (Tyler), and a proud great-grandfather to Javen Barnes and Axion McAlpin. Later in life, when he found a life partner in Sherry Nyhart Smith, he took on the roles of husband, dad, foreman, engineer, and an all-around Jack of all trades. He also became a cherished figure to Heidi Woods (William "Bill"), Chad Smith (Dena), Dean Smith, Brian Smith (Claire), and a grandpa to Taylor Smith and Evan Smith.

When asked what he would like to be remembered for, Richard's answer was simple: "My sense of humor." Anyone who knew him understood this perfectly. He loved to laugh, and he loved sharing his home and his humor with family and friends. The ladies at his care facility often said, "he was quite a character," and his classic response to "How are you feeling?"—"With my fingers"—was a testament to his quick wit and cheerful nature. We, including Richard, are so very thankful to Renaissance Senior Care staff and Honeybee Hospice who cared and joked with him in his last days.

The stories of the shenanigans that happened on the numerous cow drives, whether he was riding along or providing grub, are probably too scandalous for any paper to contain.

Friends and family who knew Richard knew that everyone he met was a new friend, they just didn't know it yet. He was known for his dedication to brightening others' days, even if it meant "occasionally" being late for events, or scheduled engagements, or walking in late to a ceremony, or an a few hundred other occasions. However, when Dad asked someone, "how are you doing?", he genuinely wanted to know. Answering, "Fine" was not an option. You were going to have a conversation with someone who put people over time.

Richard's legacy is one of laughter, hard work, and deep love for his family. He will be deeply missed.

We will have an opportunity to tell him, "See you on the next trail", at 1:00 pm, October 25th, at the Twin Bridges Senior Center, 501 N Madison Street, Twin Bridges, Montana.

In lieu of flowers, please make donations to your local animal shelter or donor of your choice.

Montana Western Volleyball Faces Off Against (RV) Dakota State and #5 Bellevue

The Montana Western volleyball team (6-6, 4-1 FC) competes at (RV) Dakota State (7-3, 3-2 FC) and #5 Bellevue (8-2, 4-1 FC) Friday and Saturday.

SCHEDULE

Friday, Sept. 19 at (RV) Dakota State – 4:30 p.m. MT

Saturday, Sept. 20 at #5 Bellevue – 12 p.m. MT

The Bulldogs had a successful home weekend, earning sweeps over both Dickinson State (25-16, 25-18, 25-19) and Bismarck State (25-17, 25-17, 25-21).

Against Dickinson State, Kennedy Lingenfelter tallied a game-high eight kills while Dani Brown, Maxine Hoagland, Antonia Duncan, and Jordan Olson each had six. Hoagland hit an error-free .462 to lead all players. Megan Hardman paced UMW in assists with 17. Lingenfelter also topped the team with a season-high 8.0 total blocks. Taylor Ketchum registered 25 digs to lead the Bulldogs.

In the match against Bismarck State, Hoagland, Olson, and Jaiden Perez shared the team-lead with eight kills each. Hoagland once again led the team in hitting percentage at .583. Hardman earned a double-double with a team-high 18 assists and 13 digs. Perez led the defensive efforts at the net with 5.0 total blocks while Ketchum covered the back row with 18 digs.

Montana Western has tallied 471 kills, 442 assists, 657 digs, 92.0 blocks, and 63 aces service aces on the year. The team's best tally in kills (60), assists (59), and service aces (13), came in its five-set victory over Arizona Christian (8/30). UMW earned season highs in digs (83) and blocks (13.0) in its 3-1 win at Valley City State (9/5). They recorded a season-best hitting percentage of .298 against Bismarck State (9/13).

Jordan Olson ranks first on the team in kills (106), kills per set (2.65) and total attacks (289). Kennedy Lingenfelter (82) and Dani Brown (62) sit second and third in kills, respectively. Brown paces the team in hitting percentage (.262) followed by Lingenfelter (.259). Megan Hardman runs the court with 141 assists (4.55 assists/set) with Taylor Petersen in second at 118 (4.72 assists/set). Hardman and Taylor Ketchum have both landed a team-best eight services aces.

Defensively, Ketchum has registered a team-high 153 digs, followed by Savana Warburton (93). Ketchum also leads the Bulldogs in digs per set (3.83). Jaiden Perez has tallied 43.0 blocks to lead the team, with Lingenfelter (42.0) Olson (37.0) sitting second and third.

Maxine Hoagland hit a career-best .583 clip against Bismarck State. She is now tied for fifth-highest hitting percentage in a single game in the league.

Three other Bulldogs hit over .380 against the Mystics; Jaiden Perez (.412), Dani Brown (.400), and Kennedy Lingenfelter (.385).

Megan Hardman has recorded two double doubles in her last three matches. At Montana Tech, she earned 12 assists and 10 digs and against Bismarck State she tallied 18 assists and 13 digs. She was one dig shy of going 3/3 last week, posting a 17-assists, nine-dig performance against Dickinson State.

Three Bulldogs are ranked in the top 10 in the Frontier Conference in blocks per set. Jaiden Perez sits fourth (1.10), Kennedy Lingenfelter is fifth (1.08), and Jordan Olson ranks 10th (0.93).

UMW ranks second in the league and tied for 13th nationally in blocks per set with 2.3 (92.0 total blocks)

The Bulldogs sit fifth in the FC in service aces at 1.58 per set. The Trojans lead the nation in kills per set (15.72) while ranking eighth in assists per set (14.06), 13th in hitting percentage (.272), and 14th in digs (18.59).

The Bulldogs 1-0 all-time against the Trojans, with their only matchup coming in 2019 and resulting in a 3-2 victory for UMW.

Montana Western is 1-1 all-time against Bellevue. The most recent matchup between the two sides was in 2022 and saw the Bruins take the 3-0 win.

Following the weekend, the Bulldogs continue their away stand with matches at Rocky Mountain (9/25) and Carroll College (9/26).

James Brown, Montana Auditor and Commissioner of Securities and Insurance, Saves Montana's Insurance Consumers Millions
by denying unjustified policy rate increases.

Brown announces that some $21.6 million in premium rate increases were disapproved by the State Auditor's Office during the last year.

Between July 1, 2024, and June 30, 2025, the Montana Auditor's Office, also known as the "CSI", protected tens of thousands of Montanans from unwarranted insurance premium increases by carefully reviewing and, in turn, denying unsupported insurance rate filings. During this year-long period, the CSI Insurance Rates Bureau reviewed and closed 3,551 rate filings.

Through the diligent oversight and enforcement of Montana's laws and regulations by the Auditor's Office, Montana's hard-working families and businesses owners were saved millions in proposed rate hikes. Specifically, Brown denied some $21.6 million in proposed insurance rate increases —directly saving Treasure State residents millions in higher insurance costs. In minimum of 77,314 Montana policyholders benefited from these blocked rate hikes, ensuring families, ranchers, and small businesses kept more money in their pockets.

Montana State Auditor James Brown said of the consumer savings, "One of the most important responsibilities of my office is to protect Montana consumers from unfair or unwarranted rate increases. I want to applaud the work of the outstanding and dedicated professionals in our Rates Bureau. This Bureau processes and reviews thousands of insurance rate proposals every year with an eye toward making sure any rate changes are actuarially sound." Brown added: "Montanans should know that my office is doing its best to protect Montana consumers in keeping with what I pledged to do upon being sworn into this important position. My office will continue to block unjustified rate increases and fight for common-sense reforms to make insurance more accessible and affordable to my fellow Montanans.

The agency reviews proposed insurance rate increases based on state law that prohibits rates from being excessive, inadequate, unjustified, or unfairly discriminatory. Rate review criteria include ensuring rates are not unreasonably high or low for the benefits provided, are supported by sufficient documentation to justify increases, and do not lead to unfair discrimination among policyholders. The CSI also assesses compliance with state and federal network adequacy laws and handles consumer complaints related to these rates.

Brown's analysis comes in advance of the comprehensive report he will provide on October 1, 2025 to the Legislature and the public, detailing the agency's operations during fiscal year 2025. Brown will report that the agency, operating on a taxpayer friendly budget of $11 million, collected $155 million in revenue for the state's general fund in fiscal years 2025. Brown will also note the agency successfully expanded grant payments in the amount of $38.5 million to the Montana Reinsurance Association, established by the 2019 Legislature to stabilize the individual health insurance market, promote competition, and lower premiums for Montanans from Dillon to Plentywood. Such agency efforts are part and parcel of Brown's efforts to put Montanans first by keeping Montana affordable for all.

Bozeman Symphony and MSU Present
Conservation Panel Exploring Music, Science, and Storytelling

The Bozeman Symphony and Montana State University's Montana Institute on Ecosystems invite the public to Symphony, Storytelling, & Science. This dynamic panel discussion blends music, science, and storytelling to highlight the vital roles of honey bees, wolves, and buffalo in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem.

The free event takes place Thursday, Oct. 9, from 2-3:30 p.m. at the Museum of the Rockies' Hager Auditorium.

Panelists include:

- Dr. Jill Falcon Ramaker, MSU Assistant Professor of Indigenous Food Systems and Land Practices; Director, Buffalo Nations Food Systems Initiative
- Dr. Michelle Flenniken, MSU Professor, Department of Plant Sciences & Pathology; Co-Director, Pollinator Health Center
- Mike Phillips, Executive Director, Turner Endangered Species Fund
- Stephanie Ann Boyd, composer of Carnival of the Nearly Extinct Animals

The conversation will be moderated by Norman Huynh, Music Director of the Bozeman Symphony.

This panel is presented in conjunction with the world premiere of Boyd's Carnival of the Nearly Extinct Animals during the Symphony's upcoming concert, Nature's Wonders: Beethoven's Pastoral Symphony, on October 11 and 12 at the Willson Auditorium in downtown Bozeman.

In her new work, Boyd brings 13 endangered species to life through the orchestra, weaving together the sounds of their environments to create a vivid and deeply human musical journey. Both celebratory and urgent, the piece sheds light on threats such as pollution, habitat loss, and climate change—urging audiences to reflect on nature's fragility and resilience.

Concerts are Saturday, Oct. 11, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 12, at 2:30 p.m. Tickets start at $30 for adults, with discounted tickets available for students. Purchase at www.bozemansymphony.org/beethovens-pastoral-symphony or by calling 406-585-9774.
