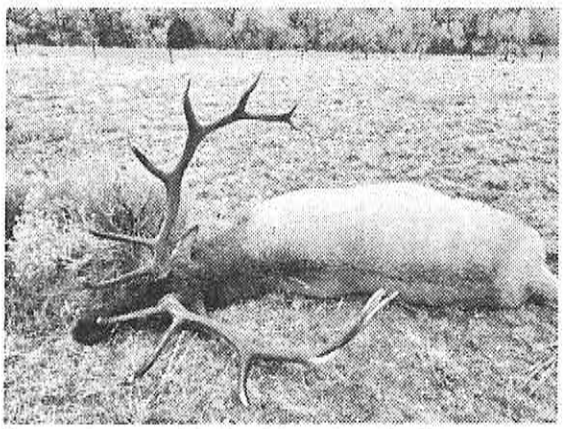
FWP game wardens seek information on bull elk killed south of Boulder

Game wardens with Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks are seeking information related to a bull elk that was found dead and unclaimed on Saturday, Oct. 25.



The bull was found on private land about 7 miles south of Boulder along Lower Valley Road. It's unclear whether the elk was shot at and killed at that location, or if it was initially shot and wounded on another adjacent property.

Anyone with information on this incident is asked to contact Boulder game warden Jacie Vonada at 406-502-8581 or visit tipmont.mt.gov. Informants may be eligible for a reward of up to $1,000.

Montana Wildlife & Transportation Partnership accepting project proposals through November 30

The Montana Wildlife & Transportation Partnership (MWTP) is accepting applications for projects from the public proposing collaborative, stand-alone wildlife accommodation projects that can help reduce wildlife vehicle conflict (WVC) and enhance wildlife connectivity within the state's highway infrastructure.

MWTP is a collaborative group of representatives from the Montana Department of Transportation (MDT), Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks and Montanans for Safe Wildlife Passage (MSWP).

This public-private partnership program addresses the need for transportation projects dedicated to accommodating wildlife and improving motorist safety on Montana state highways by leveraging capacity and capital investment with stakeholders.

Starting Nov. 1, the application form will be is available online at mt.accessgov.com/mdt/Forms/Page/mdt-tp/mwtpprojectapplication/. Applications will be accepted through midnight Nov. 30. After applications are received, MWTP will evaluate project proposals and support selected applicants through the feasibility study and project development phases.

Beginning in 2026, the call for project proposals and the application form will be open year-round. Smaller, less complex projects that are determined not to require a feasibility study (e.g., signing, fencing, minor retrofits) will be reviewed by MWTP as they are received. MWTP will review larger, more complex project proposals requiring a feasibility study prior to implementation once a year beginning in April. Project selection will occur annually by June 30.

The four projects currently underway through MWTP are in western Montana. Project applications of all sizes in all regions of the state will be considered. MWTP encourages project consideration and applications in central and eastern Montana to address wildlife and transportation needs in those areas as well.

Collaboration is essential to focus public-private resources as groups prepare applications for the project program. The application process requires coordination, time and investment. Please visit the MWTP webpage at www.mdt.mt.gov/pubinvolve/mwt/ to view application guidance documents and additional resources. Potential applicants are encouraged to contact MWTP members through the Contact Us link (mdtmwtp@mt.gov) on the website or send an email to mdtmwtp@mt.gov to ask questions and seek assisance specific to their project proposal and application.

MWTP is eager to receive your project applications. Consult with local FWP or MDT biologists and focus on partnerships, information sharing and finer scale data gathering to support the purpose, need, proposed solutions and expected benefit in your application. Working together to leverage information, capacity and resources will encourage more good work through collaboration to address wildlife and transportation challenges in Montana.

Whitebird Fishing Access Site reopens to motorized vehicles

The Whitebird Fishing Access Site (FAS) is now open to motor vehicle traffic. The FAS closed to motorized access on Oct. 10 so that Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks' staff could repair damage to the bridge structure along the sole access road. The damage was causing a public safety risk for vehicle access.

FWP anticipates further repairs to the bridge in 2026 after the bridge is evaluated by structural engineers.

For more information on fishing closures and restrictions, go to fwp.mt.gov/news/current-closures-restrictions.

Annual Witches Ride Brings Halloween Magic to Downtown Dillon

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

Downtown Dillon was filled with laughter and a bit of spooky fun Thursday night as the annual Witches Ride took to the streets. The event, held each year on Halloween Eve, has become a beloved community tradition.

Witches, warlocks, ghouls, and goblins gathered at Depot Park to begin the evening's festivities, forming a circle around the bubbling cauldron as the witches read from their "ancient scrolls." After a round of spirited cackles, the group mounted their bikes and rode through downtown Dillon, spreading Halloween cheer with every turn of the pedals.

Adding a touch of elegance this year, a few witches opted to trade in their broomsticks for a horse-drawn carriage, delighting spectators along the route.

The Witches Ride once again proved to be a charming and whimsical way for the community to celebrate the Halloween season.
