Bookstore – Author Christmas Stroll Amy Layne Litzelman

Award winning author Amy Layne Litzelman will be featured at The Bookstore during the Christmas Stroll on Friday, December 5th. Litzelman a Dillon author, journalist, singer-songwriter, musician, foodie, Mom and grandma will be signing books from 5:00-7:00. She is author of 7 books including: "Details: the Poetic Language of God," "Diving Boards and Trampolines, Volumes I & II" these two books contain meditations to launch you into purposeful living, "Pray Forward" is a collection of short prayers. Her 7th book "Beloved Road: A Journey of Revelation and Worship" (2nd edition) won the 2025 Christlit award in the devotional category. This unique collection of essays explores encountering our Creator in simple but profound ways. In the mundane and the celebrations, in the pain and questions, in discouragement and excitement—you can learn to hear God's laughter, receive His wisdom, witness His power, and recognize His astonishing love, joy, and beauty. Amy is also a contributor to the online woman's magazine, LivingBetter50, "for women with spirit"

Amy has learned the joy of allowing God to be profound in her simplicity. Through the ups and downs, she has discovered a Creator who wants to be seen in the details, known in the mysteries, and trusted with every breath. She is grateful to have traveled to teach and lead worship in churches, conference centers, recovery ranches, prison gymnasiums, campgrounds, restaurants, homes, theaters, tents and barns across the western United States and in the Philippines and China. She and her husband Matt live near Dillon.

As an author, teacher, and worship mentor, Amy shares personal stories and practices from her journey. If you have any questions or would like to reserve copies of Amy's books call 683-6807 rehabilitate single-family residences throughout the County. Andrew Chanania, principal at Slate Capital Partners in Billings, said, "We've syndicated a number of developments across Montana that have depended on HOME, HTF and CDBG funds. These funds are critical gap financing that enables us to help preserve existing and create new, affordable housing opportunities that Montanans can afford. Without these programs, many projects would be unable to move forward."

With funding from the HOME Investment Partnerships Program, GL Development is finishing construction on a new affordable housing complex for families in Billings. Mitchell Court, with 32 one-, two- and three-bedroom units, was also funded with Low Income Tax Credits and equity provided by Glacier Bank, a city Tax Increment Financing grant, HOME funds from the City of Billings and loans from the Montana Healthcare Foundation and Commerce's Coal Trust Multifamily Homes Loan Program. Two of the complex's five buildings will be ready for occupancy by the end of November, with the other three ready in January 2026.

Slate Capital Partners also syndicated a 60-unit senior living complex in Hamilton. With HOME, HTF and CDBG funds, as well as 4% Tax Credits with equity and permanent financing provided by Glacier Bank, and Brownfields Program funding from the Montana Department of Environmental Quality, the late-70s-era complex known as The Manor is undergoing restoration work to make it a comfortable, safe place to call home. The complex will offer affordable housing for tenants who also benefit from project-based rental assistance from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Montana Motor Vehicle Division launches new driver licenses and IDs

The Montana Motor Vehicle Division (MVD) unveiled today a redesigned and more secure driver license and identification card featuring elements to help reduce driver license fraud and identity theft, making it one of the most secure credentials in the nation. The new cards will be issued beginning December 2025. Currently issued cards will remain valid until their expiration dates. The long-lasting polycarbonate design features recognizable Montana state landmarks on the background while making it difficult to replicate with black and white laser engraved images, multi-color ink, color shifting elements, ultraviolet designs, and raised tactile features.

The new credentials will feature up to three icons: a white star with a black circle indicating a REAL ID, a black eagle-in-flight U.S. citizenship marker, and a black organ donor symbol consisting of a black heart with a Y inside surrounded by a circle.

"Protecting Montanans' identity is important, and the new security enhancements strengthen the protection of personal information," MVD Administrator Laurie Bakri said. "Attorney General Austin Knudsen and I are proud to bring Montana's credentials into a more secure and modern era, as it has been nearly a decade since the last license redesign."

All Montana licenses and IDs also feature encoded elements such as one and two-dimensional barcodes and security backgrounds designed to help reduce driver license fraud and identity theft.

Schedule an appointment at MVD or renew your license here: <https://mvdmt.gov/>.

Our library is receiving a special gift! We're one of about 1,280 Carnegie Libraries across the United States that will receive a $10,000 gift from Carnegie Corporation of New York in celebration of America's 250th anniversary.

More than a century after philanthropist Andrew Carnegie helped fund the construction of 1,681 libraries nationwide, we are still serving our community. Our Dillon Public Library was Montana's first Andrew Carnegie out of the 17 Montana libraries to open its doors on December 27, 1902
