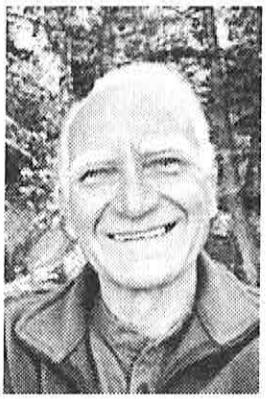
Craig E. Zaspel

December 1, 1947-December 21, 2025



Craig Edward Zaspel, age 78, passed away on December 21, 2025, after a long battle with cancer. He passed away at home surrounded by his loving family. He was born in North Saint Paul, MN, on December 1, 1947, to Edward and Joyce Zaspel, one of three boys. Craig is survived by Karen, his wife of 46 years; a daughter, Naomi "Zee" Zaspel (age 42); grand-daughter, Geneva Rosemary Jane Zaspel (25). He is also survived by two brothers and numerous nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his daughter, Corrie Jane Zaspel, and his parents.

He graduated from the University of Minnesota with a BS in Physics in 1969. Shortly thereafter, he moved to Bozeman, MT, where he earned a Ph.D. in Physics in 1975 from Montana State University. He also had a post-doc fellowship at the University of Zurich (Switzerland) during the 1977-78 academic year and returned with his family for several months in 1988 for research.

Dr. Z, as he was affectionately known, began his teaching career at the University of Southern Mississippi from 1982-84. Eager to get back to the mountains of Montana where he had spent the previous 15 years, he began teaching at The University of Montana Western (then Western Montana College) in 1984. During his academic career, he published more than 100 papers in internationally peer-reviewed journals. Craig was a world expert on micromagnets as well as the mathematics at the heart of the formation of spiral arms in galaxies. He also pursued research on cancer treatments at a cellular level. He remained a beloved colleague and teacher until his retirement in 2021.

Craig was a remarkable person with extraordinary interests and talents. During his youth in Minnesota, he was the State Ski Jumping Champion. After moving to Montana, he became an avid rock and alpine climber who was highly regarded by his partners for his exceptional talent and bold yet careful style, but also for his calm demeanor and accommodating personality. His wit was sharp but kind. A quiet person, he was also admired for his ability to not dominate a conversation, a wild understatement for those of us who spent days with him in the mountains. As a young man in Bozeman, he became a charter member in the locally famous (and infamous) Dirty Sox Club, a tight knit but somewhat rule free, ragtag group of young, active climbers. It was that group that dubbed him Dr. Z, the nickname that remained for life. He was a graceful backcountry skier, and skied and rock climbed well into his 70s even after his cancer diagnosis and treatment.

Dillon, MT Since 1991

As a teenager, he was a stunt pilot who purchased and refurbished his own plane prior to obtaining his driver's license. Craig was an officer in the Army Reserve and earned the rank of Captain. He made his own telescope and ground his own lenses by hand. Later in life, he found a passion for restoring vintage BSA and Triumph motorcycles.

Above all else, Craig cherished his family. He worked as a logger for several years after his Ph.D., and it was during those years that he met his wife, Karen, who was living in a tipi near Big Sky. In 1979, they were married on horseback. Together they built a two-story vertical log cabin and lived off the grid, raising a family there for several years.

His humor was clever, understated, and subtle. Craig was selfless, supportive, loyal, and caring. His twinkling eyes and easy smile left us all feeling more hopeful. Craig was the best of all of us.

A memorial service to celebrate his life will be determined at a future date. In lieu of flowers, please consider making a donation to the University of Montana Western Foundation to go toward a scholarship fund that will be established in the name of Dr. Craig Zaspel.

Thank You

The family of Justin Devers would like to express our deepest gratitude to all who called, sent cards, and attended his services. Your kindness and support have meant so much during this difficult time.

A special thank you to Brundage Funeral Home for your patience, understanding, and professional care. We are also deeply grateful to The Vineyard and Presbyterian churches for providing food and offering prayers.

The Little Food Pantry has been moved from the Vibrant Lives building on Bannack to the Dillon Public Library, in front of the parking lot.

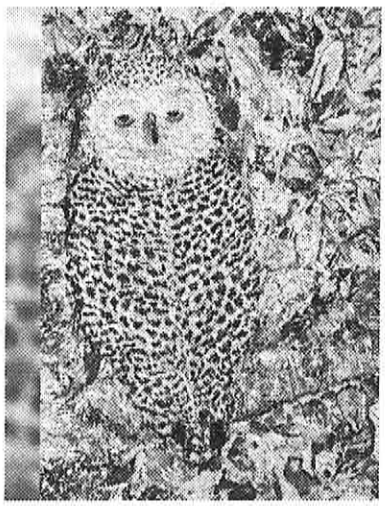
Montana Western Fine Arts Gallery Presents "Where Things Settle: The Space of Becoming"



The University of Montana Western Fine Arts Gallery is honored to present "Where Things Settle: The Space of Becoming" by UMW Students Lacey Boots, Samantha Carr, Emily Hansen, Racheal Hanson, Emilee Malcomb, and Granville Parham. The exhibition will open on Thursday, January 29, and will feature a gallery reception from 5:00–7:00 p.m. in the Fine Arts Gallery, located in Main Hall.

The "Where Things Settle: The Space of Becoming" brings together work by upper-level art students at a moment of transition. This show will show case the works of Lacey Boots, Samantha Carr, Emily Hansen, Racheal Hanson, Emilee Malcomb, and Granville Parham.

The exhibition reflects practices shaped through sustained inquiry—where material decisions, conceptual questions, and personal languages have begun to find clarity, while remaining open to change. These works occupy a space between resolution and possibility.

They are attentive to process, form, and intention, acknowledging that making is not only about arrival, but about learning where to pause, where to listen, and where growth continues.

Together, the exhibition offers a view of work that has settled enough to be seen clearly, yet remains in motion—holding space for what is still becoming.

"Where Things Settle: The Space of Becoming" will be on display in Montana Western's Fine Arts Gallery from January 29 to February 20. Gallery hours are Monday through Friday, 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. and 12:00 to 3:00 p.m. The January 21 gallery reception is open to all and will feature light refreshments. We look forward to seeing you there!

For more information, please contact Montana Western Fine Arts Gallery Coordinator Jennifer Boysen at jennifer.boysen@umwestern.edu.

Free Networking Lunch

If one of your quiet New Year intentions was to be a little more connected to your community, this is a pretty easy way to keep it.

Tomorrow, Thursday, January 15, from noon–1 PM, we're hosting a Free Networking Lunch at The Village (225 E. Reeder Street). Lunch promises to be delicious and on us; the time commitment is short, and the people are always worth it.

We'll be spotlighting Sweetwater Coffee and Murdoch's Ranch & Home Supply — two businesses that started local, stayed rooted, and have grown in thoughtful, values-driven ways.

Come hear their stories, ask questions, and make a few new connections along the way.

'First check with verification tool flags multiple voter records as potential non-citizens'

The Montana Secretary of State's Office has received preliminary results from its recent implementation of the Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements (SAVE) program to help ensure clean, accurate voter rolls in the Treasure State.

For the first time ever, Montana election officials were able to begin the process of verifying the citizenship of registered voters. Already, the federal government's SAVE tool flagged 23 voter records as potential non-citizens, most of which appear to have permanent alien status and no record of citizenship. Several of the flagged individuals had voter histories indicating participation in dozens of previous Montana elections.

It's illegal for a non-citizen to register and vote in Montana elections.

"Previous administrations ignored our requests for citizenship verification, while the Trump Administration has now provided this already existing tool to election officials," said Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen. "I'm committed to ensuring that Montana has accurate voter rolls and that Montana elections are decided only by eligible U.S. citizens."

Following November's local election cycle, Montana media published an articlehighlighting how often elections result in close races and even ties. According to national research on elections, thousands of contests have ended in ties or have been decided by just a single vote.

"It's simple, nonpartisan, and nondebatable – only eligible U.S. citizens should vote in Montana elections," said Secretary Jacobsen.

Gruhler Named Offensive Player of the Week

Montana Western men's basketball player Kyle Gruhler picked up his sixth Erck Hotels/ Frontier Conference Men's Basketball Offensive Player of the Week honor of the season.

Gruhler shined once again as he helped the Bulldogs to a home wins over MSU-Northern and Providence.

The senior averaged 23.0 points, 3.5 rebounds, 1.0 assists, and 1.0 blocks per game. He shot 51.7 percent (15-29) from the floor, 64.3 percent (9-14) from beyond the arc, and 87.5 percent (7-8) from the foul line. He posted a team-high 19 points, including 15 from distance (5-8 3-pointers) in Western's win over MSU-Northern.

The Vancouver, Wash., native followed that with a game-best 27-point outing (8-of-13 from the field and 4-of-6 from the 3-point line) in the win over Providence.

MT Highway Patrol begins accepting MT Mobile IDs

The Montana Highway Patrol (MHP) announced today troopers will begin accepting Montana Mobile IDs and other mobile IDs from across the country during routine traffic stops. This provides motorists with more choice, offering them another easy, secure, and private way to present a driver license. Montanans are not required to have a Montana Mobile ID and will always be able to continue using a physical driver license for verification.

The announcement follows the Montana Motor Vehicle Division's (MVD) launch of Montana Mobile IDs last year, which allow Montanans to carry a digital version of their driver license or state-issued ID securely on their iPhone, Apple Watch, and Android devices.

UMW's "On the Rocks" Series to Host Speakers Cam Carstarphen and Mathew Smith

The University of Montana Western's Environmental Science Department is excited to host Montana Bureau of Mines and Geology (MBMG) hydrogeologists Cam Carstarphen and Mathew Smith as part of the "On the Rocks" lecture series. Carstarphen and Smith will present "Using Geochemistry to Answer Natural Resource Questions" on Wednesday, January 21, at 4 p.m. in UMW's Lucy Carson Library.

Cam Carstarphen has worked in Montana and with the Montana Bureau of Mines and Geology for more than 30 years. While her interests span all geology subdisciplines, her academic focus has been in sedimentology. Her work at MBMG integrates her appreciation for landscape, geology, problem-solving, study design, analysis, and outreach. She has particularly enjoyed applying these skills to understanding and mapping Montana's aquifers.

Matthew Smith is in his final year of graduate study at the University of Kansas, completing a Master's degree in Environmental Geology with a focus on hydrogeology. He works as a hydrogeologist with the Montana Bureau of Mines and Geology, based out of the Billings field office. Smith previously served in the U.S. Marines and retired after 10 years of service. He lives near Roundup in central Montana, where he maintains a small ranch. His geological interests are broad, with a particular emphasis on the use of aqueous isotopes and ion chemistry to understand system processes and sources.

The "On the Rocks" series is an excellent opportunity for students, faculty, and the public to engage with experts in the earth sciences and learn more about developments in hydrology and geomorphology. Each presentation will be preceded by a social gathering at 3:30 p.m., offering light refreshments. We look forward to seeing you!

For more information, please contact UMW Professor of Environmental Sciences Dr. Spruce Schoenemann at spruce.schoenemann@umwestern.edu.

Veteran's Corner Update #343

By Mike Lawson

Veteran News Updates:

• Many of our Veteran organizations have different indoor functions/activities that help keep the boredom of winter at bay. One of those in Butte is at Post #1 of the American Legion. On the 3rd Wednesday of every month we have a dinner for $12.00. One of our members is a great cook and never disappoints us. Our Auxiliary will bring desserts and salads, which compliment what our chef has prepared. If you're in Butte or the Butte area, it's open to the public and you can't beat the price. The address is 3201 Wynn Ave., in Butte. The welcome mat is out.

• I got on the website funeral.com as I was searching for information on VA Burial Benefits. It was a great source and explained Burial Allowance, Headstones, Flags and reimbursement basics. We all have a time that we'll pass-away and for the Veteran and their family it's important to know what death benefits are available before hand. There's a lot of good information and it is a good idea to make sure you're signed up for these benefits to help with costs associated with a death, funeral, and burial. A good place to start to get the VA's official overview is with the VA burial benefits and memorial items hub and the VA's page on Veterans burial allowance and transportation benefits. Those two pages lay out the core categories of assistance and provide the most current eligibility and filing guidance. This is well worth checking out, if you're a Veteran. It could bring peace of mind to you and your family.

• Some good news for all service-connected Veterans: Purple Heart recipients, former prisoners of war (POW), and individuals approved and designated as primary family caregivers of eligible Veterans under the Department of Veterans Program of Comprehensive Assistance for Family Caregivers (PCAFC) can now use commissaries, exchanges, and Morale, Welfare and Recreaction (MWR) retail facilities, in-person and on-line. This is a big big deal. For information on these privileges and access to military installations, check out http://www.militaryonesource.mil/expandingaccess
