A Celebration of the Life of Craig Zaspel

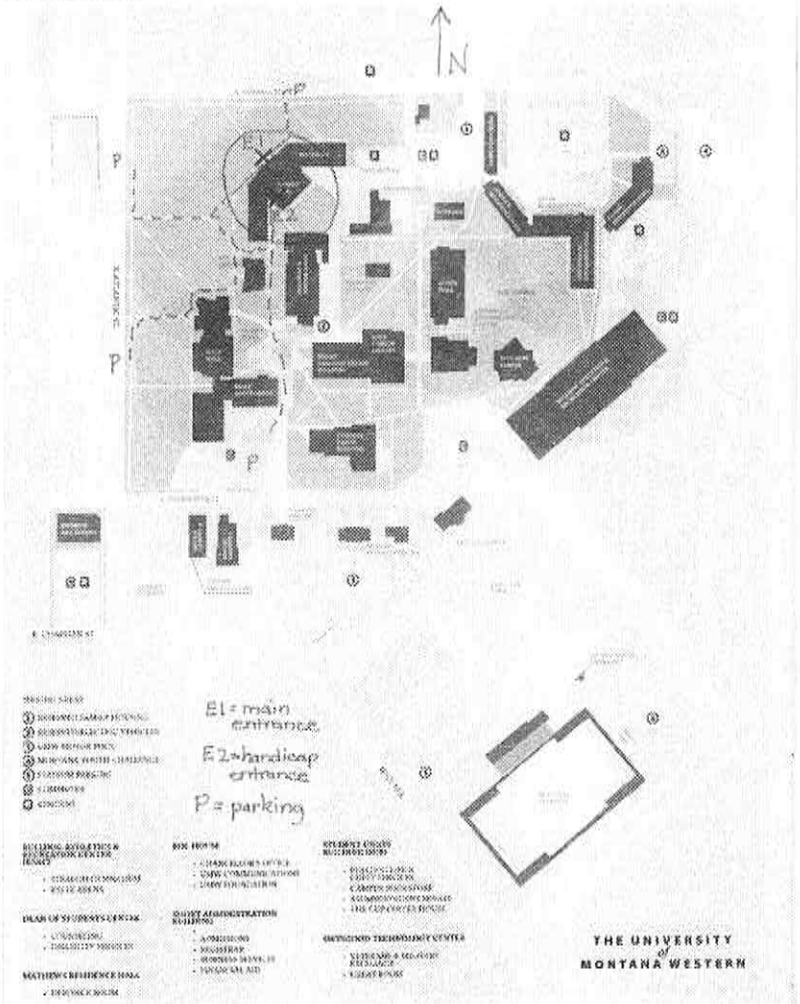

A celebration of the life of Dr. Craig Zaspel will take place on Saturday, February 7th at 10:00 a.m. in the Lewis and Clark Room at the University of Montana Western. All are invited to attend this event to celebrate Dr. Zaspel's life and the impact he had on all who knew him.

In lieu of flowers, the family invites memorial contributions in support of a research fund to be established at Montana Western. Donations may be made through the UMW Foundation Office by calling 406-683-7305.

The Lewis and Clark Room is located in the center of Mathews Hall. Parking is shown at several locations and should be readily available as the campus will be on a short break so students will mostly be gone. Also, there should be plenty of parking on a Saturday.

The front entrance is the best one to use although the map also shows a handicap entrance that has an elevator to the Lewis and Clark Room.

There will be a light luncheon available as part of the celebration.

Community Invited to Attend TEDx University of Montana Western on March 21

Community members are invited to take part in a full day of ideas, conversation, and connection at TEDx University of Montana Western, to be held Saturday, March 21, 2026, on the University of Montana Western campus. Designed with rural communities in mind, the event will explore how resilience can be built around complex and challenging topics through talks, workshops, and shared experiences. Attendance is open to the public, with tickets available while space allows.

Hosted by Montana Western's Theatre and Environmental Sciences departments, TEDx University of Montana Western will feature eight filmed TEDx talks that will later premiere on YouTube, giving attendees the opportunity to be part of a live studio audience. In addition to the talks, participants will have opportunities to engage directly with speakers, attend interactive workshops, enjoy live performances, and take part in a provided lunch during the day-long conference.

TEDx University of Montana Western aims to strengthen academic culture on campus, encourage critical thinking, and promote collaboration across disciplines. Sponsored by the Fund for Experience One, the event provides a multidisciplinary forum for sharing ideas that reflect Montana Western's mission and values while fostering dialogue between the university and the broader community.

Speakers selected for the event are either connected to the local community or address topics that support the university's academic focus. Together, they represent a range of perspectives and lived experiences that highlight the importance of adaptability, innovation, and collaboration in rural settings.

TEDx is a program of local, independently organized events created in the spirit of TED's mission of spreading ideas. While TED provides general guidelines for the TEDx program, each event is independently organized and reflects the community in which it takes place.

Scheduled speakers include:

Beth Bennett, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Sociology, Idaho State University

Lori G. Byron, MD, MS, Board Chair, Montana Health Professionals for a Healthy Climate

Cody Ferguson, Ph.D., AICP Candidate, New Market Lead, Houseal Lavigne

Nicole Jarvis, MS, Founder, Bee Haven Gardens

Montana Ballet Company, Sleeping Beauty

Montana Ballet Company (MBC) continues its 2025-26 season with the romantic, classic story ballet, Sleeping Beauty, in collaboration with the Bozeman Symphony conducted by Norman Huynh, at the Willson Auditorium on March 7 & 8, 2026.

Sleeping Beauty represented the first collaboration of the French ballet master Marius Petipa and Pyotr Tchaikovsky. Still one of the most beloved and enduring ballets of all time, this production offers a special opportunity to experience MBC's interpretation alongside Tchaikovsky's iconic score, performed by a full Bozeman Symphony Orchestra under Huynh's direction.

"We are deeply excited for this collaboration with the Bozeman Symphony and grateful for the artistry and generosity the musicians bring to the stage. Having Norman conduct our dancers for the first time—together with the full symphony—is an exciting and meaningful milestone for MBC. The expanded orchestra creates a rare and powerful opportunity for ballet and live music to meet in their fullest expression." Said MBC Artistic Director, Melissa Bowman.

"I'm really looking forward to this production and to collaborating with the artistic team at Montana Ballet Company," said Bozeman Symphony Music Director Norman Huynh. "What excites me most is the expanded pit, which allows us to bring a larger orchestra into the performance."

In addition to MBC's professional company, more than two dozen Academy dancers will perform alongside the company in this production.

Sleeping Beauty will run for three performances, Saturday, March 7 at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. and Sunday, March 8 at 2 p.m.

Reward increased to $31K for information on wolf killed out of season

The monetary reward has increased for information on a wolf that was killed illegally near Gardiner last month.

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks initially offered a $1,000 reward for information. The Large Carnivore Fund and Wolves of the Rockies together have offered an additional $30,000.

The investigation began when officials received a mortality signal from a collared wolf in the Jardine area. They found the collar had been cut off and thrown into a tree, but they did not find a wolf carcass. This area is in wolf management unit 313, which closed to wolf hunting on Nov. 16. However, game wardens believe the collared wolf was killed around 10 p.m. on Dec. 25. No further details are available.

Anyone with possible information is encouraged to visit tipmont.mt.gov to provide details.
