Katherine Sunwall

Katherine Sunwall is a 2007 graduate of the University of Montana Western, earning a Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education. During her time at Western, she excelled in the classroom, on the court, and in the community. A dedicated student-athlete, she graduated magna cum laude while competing in two collegiate sports, working in the campus cafeteria, and staying actively involved in student life. Katherine is most proud of how she balanced the demands of academics, athletics, work, and leadership—something she credits to her strong focus, determination, and faith.

Her fondest memories of Western include time spent with friends, taking courses from inspiring professors like Rita Moore, being involved in Chi Alpha, and sharing summers in Dillon with her roommate, Kayla Olsen.

Today, Katherine teaches kindergarten at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic School in Great Falls, where she has spent the past 13 years. She is especially grateful for the colleagues and mentors who shaped her career, including longtime coworker Tina Mitchell and Barby Judge, her student-teaching mentor at Parkview Elementary. Barby taught her the value of patience, kindness, and celebrating every holiday with her students—lessons that still guide Katherine's classroom today.

Katherine's favorite part of teaching is watching her students grow, learn, and experience those unforgettable "aha" moments. She feels blessed to work in a school where she can share her faith openly and create a classroom where every child feels loved and supported. She remains deeply grateful for the people and experiences at Montana Western that helped shape her into the educator she is today.

Jamie Courville

Jamie Courville, Class of 2002, is a proud graduate of the University of Montana Western and a lifelong advocate for education, leadership, and community service. He earned a Bachelor of Science in Health and Human Performance from Montana Western in 2002 and later completed a Master of Education in Educational Leadership in 2008.

Courville attended Montana Western from 1995–2002 as a student-athlete on a football scholarship and credits the mentorship of faculty, coaches, and staff for helping shape both his academic success and personal growth. He fondly remembers the camaraderie and lifelong friendships formed during his time at Western, often reflecting, "Once a Dawg, always a Dawg."

Currently, Courville serves as the middle school principal at Hellgate Elementary, a position he has held for 13 years, and is in his 18th year as a building principal. His career has also included roles as dean of students and athletic director for the Ronan School District, as well as leadership positions at Havre Middle School and Rocky Boy Jr./Sr. High School.

A proud member of the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes, Courville has spent much of his life on the Flathead Reservation and previously served on the Salish and Kootenai College Board of Directors. Outside of his professional work, he enjoys life with his wife, Jennifer, and their family, and they are active supporters of 4-H, raising cattle, pigs, and chickens together. Most recently, Courville was named the National Distinguished Principal of the Year for the State of Montana (Class of 2025).

Quinn Kelly

Quinn Kelly, a native of Cut Bank, Montana, graduated from Western Montana College in 1998 with a BS in Education. While on campus, he distinguished himself academically and through leadership roles, including serving as treasurer of the SkillsUSA Club, earning a spot in Who's Who in Colleges in 1997, graduating with honors, and serving as the lead woodworking student. Quinn enjoyed sharing his skills with fellow students, demonstrating proper power tool setups, and fostering skill development in the classroom.

After graduation, Quinn began a rewarding career as a 7–12 middle and high school shop teacher at Cut Bank Public Schools, where he instructs students in woodworking, carpentry, drafting, technology, electronics, and STEM. He also teaches woodworking classes for adults, sharing his expertise and love for the trade. His community involvement extends to helping Boy Scouts earn the traditional woodworking merit badge. For Quinn, teaching and mentoring both students and adults has been an enjoyable and deeply fulfilling part of his life.

Quinn has a long history of coaching athletics, including football, track and field, and wrestling, with the past 15 years spent coaching at the middle school level. His teams have achieved great success in track and field, reflecting his dedication as both a coach and mentor.

Some of his favorite Montana Western memories include fly fishing in southwest Montana, working in the wood and metal shops, admiring the silver maple trees on campus, benefiting from the small-college setting that allowed easy access to faculty, and enjoying pitchers of beer at the bowling alley.

Tricia Schumann

Tricia Schumann, originally from Anaconda, Montana, graduated from Montana Western in 1994 with a B.S. in Elementary Education and later earned an M.S. in Teacher Leadership in 2010. One of the experiences she is most proud of from her time at Western was serving as an ambassador for the Admissions Office, where she learned firsthand how to connect with prospective students and their families. She also worked in the Alumni Foundation Office alongside Tom Yahres, Arlene Williams, Henry Stish, Dona Wallace, and Wally Felt—an opportunity that gave her early practice in building relationships and representing the university.

Tricia remembers Montana Western as a place with a strong feeling of family and shared purpose, especially among students preparing to become educators. A few standout memories include representing Western on recruiting trips and serving as a Spur under the guidance of Dona Wallace, whose leadership left a lasting impression.

Tricia recently retired after a long and meaningful career in education, most recently serving as the Alternative Education Teacher and Director at Mineral County High School in Nevada. Throughout her career, she held roles such as District Literacy and Learning Specialist, served on the UniServ Council of Nevada and the NSEA Board of Directors, and earned the NSEA Bernard J. Anderson Dedicated Educator Award in both 2018 and 2024. She continues to stay involved through the NSEA-Retired group and the Elizabeth Brown Scholarship Committee. Beyond the classroom, she started a community mobile bike parade for Armed Forces Day and created a third-grade bike program through a partnership with the local Sheriff's Office. She and her husband, Rick, live in Hawthorne, Nevada.

Bulldog WBB Makes No Mistake, Defeats Carroll 63-51

The Montana Western women's basketball program (8-12, 6-10 FC) earned a near wire-to-wire win over (RV) Carroll (15-7, 13-3 FC) 63-51 in Helena.

The win marks the Bulldogs' first road win over the Fighting Saints in exactly six years, with the last victory in Helena coming Jan. 31, 2020.

Western Men's Basketball Falls to Carroll 80-60

The Montana Western men's basketball program (14-8, 9-8 FC) was clipped by Carroll (15-6, 13-3 FC) 80-60 Saturday.

Turnovers were a difference maker in the ball game as the Bulldogs uncharacteristically committed 22 compared to just eight from the Fighting Saints.

Montana Western Volleyball Hires Assistant Coach

UMW Volleyball has strengthened its coaching staff with the addition of Payton Spoja as an assistant coach, head coach Katie Lovett announced Monday.

"We are really excited about Payton joining our staff," Lovett said. "She had a great playing career at multiple levels, has connections within Montana and the surrounding region."

Spoja joins the Bulldogs after two seasons at NCAA DII member Concordia Irvine.

In her time with the Golden Eagles, she coached one first team all-conference player and four second team all-conference athletes.

Spoja was a collegiate volleyball player who finished her career at the University of Saint Katherine (2021-22).

Prior to Saint Katherine, she had a lot of success and the College of Southern Idaho (2018-19).

She began her collegiate athletic career at the University of Montana, where she played for one season (2017).

Born in Bozeman, Spoja has deep Montana roots. She grew up in Boise, Idaho and returned to Montana during high school. Her dad and brother both played basketball for the University of Montana.

Veteran's Corner Update #346

By Mike Lawson

Veteran News Updates:

• I officiated 5 funerals recently. The last one I did was for a Korean War Veteran who lived to be 94 years old. Our local SW MT. Honor Guard Detail did a ceremony which included a three round rifle volley, taps and folding of the American Flag. He had been a faithful member of this Honor Guard for many years and it was an honor and tribute to do this for him.

• The VA in Montana has seen the building of a number of new VA Clinics called CBOCs, meaning Community Based Outpatient Clinics. With Montana being so rural with an area of 147,040 square miles and a population of 1,122,867 people, many Veterans have to travel great distances to get VA medical care. These VA CBOC Clinics are opening out across our state for in-need Veteran areas. Last week I was privileged to attend the grand opening of the new VA CBOC Clinic in Kalispell, Montana. It's much larger than the previous one, close to the Flathead Indian Reservation, and in the center of one of the most rapidly growing population areas in the state. This VA facility will be able to treat many more Veterans with the latest treatment options that the medical field can provide.

• I talked with a lady recently who was frustrated because she wanted to learn more about her father who was a Marine in the South Pacific. She knew he had been in combat on a number of island landings. I told her that I had gone to a VA Representive, filled out some forms and later received both my Dad's WWII military and medical records. He had been on Iwo Jima and Guam. It was fascinating to follow the ships he was on, the places he went and how long he was in those places. His medical records were also interesting from the time he went into Boot Camp until he was discharged. See a VA Representive and start the process.

• As our Veterans age, many develop disabilities due to exposures of long ago experiences with agent orange, burn pits, or falling down and breaking bones. The point is that many have to go into a nursing/rest home for care. We have a very good VA home in Butte and there are good ones all over our country. If you or a loved one who is a veteran who needs this type of care, give one of these Vet Homes a consideration.
