Clara Gerringa, 92

Clara Gerringa, born Clara Mae Bracken on January 16, 1934, passed away on April 4, 2026, surrounded by her family at St. Luke's Medical Center in Ketchum, Idaho. Clara recently celebrated her 92nd Birthday.

William ("Homer") George Allen

Heaven became a brighter place on Sunday, April 5, 2026. William ("Homer") George Allen passed away in Dillon, MT. Saying Bill was one-of-a-kind is an understatement.

He was born on October 10, 1957, to Bill and Donna Allen.

Bill was the oldest of three, having two younger sisters, Debbie Fross and Dawn Allen. If he wasn't tormenting his sisters there was definitely something wrong.

Our home was next to Stephen's Greenhouse in Dillon. At three-years old he told the then-owner of Stephens, Burl Stephens, that when Burl passed away he would run the business. He solidified his fate at that moment. Bill, in fact, did become the owner of Stephens Greenhouse with his wife, Jennifer. He later sold that business and owned Allen's Landscape for a number of years. His landscaping designs were featured in national magazines which included Architectural Digest, Cowboys and Indians, and In Doors. He worked for many of the rich and famous that have purchased property in Montana.

Bill went through the Dillon school system where he excelled in sports, both basketball and football. He went on to play football for Western Montana College, majoring in Biology with Botany and Chemistry minors. After college, Bill married Jennifer Brown (later divorced in 2000) and they were blessed with two children, Adrienne and Jeff. Along with his children, Bill was instrumental in the lives of his nieces, nephews and friend's kids. He was always the fun Uncle. He could talk his nephew, Corey Eisenzimer, into doing just about anything (not always a good thing!) Bill had a love for life that not many could match.

In 2017, Bill married the love of his life, Teresa Moad. His family grew by three beautiful daughters and eight grandchildren. He loved traveling to visit them and corrupting a new generation. In their short nine-years of marriage, they enjoyed traveling and exploring the great outdoors. They enjoyed giving each other a bad time and playing endless games of gin rummy and Marbles and Jokers. Bill, being Bill, kept track of how many times he won and lost.

Bill was also known for his love of the great outdoors. His father, Bill Allen, Sr., was one of his best friends and they spent countless hours hiking into all the 'hidden lakes', along with snowmobiling, motorbiking, and camping. Bill's lifelong best friend, Steve Cottom, was with them on a lot of those trips.

Bill will be missed for his ability to tell stories, his love for family and friends, and most of all for his love for life. It was truly admirable watching him maneuver through the horrible journey of cancer. His positive, up-beat attitude kept him going when others would have given up. Life will not be the same without Bill by our side. His friends and family will cherish all the fun and special memories we had with him while wishing he was still here with us.

Bill is preceded in death by his mother and father, Bill and Donna Allen; grandparents George and Evelyn "GaGa" Krause; Perk and Alice Allen; Aunt Julie Krause and grandson Corbin Kenison. He is survived by his wife, Teresa Allen; children Adrienne Kenison and Jeff (Kalli) Allen; stepchildren Michelle Roberts, Micaela (Matt) Hitchcock, Angela (Matt) Groves; grandchildren, Aiden, Nick, Olivia, Hadley, Anja, Mason, Garrison, Adaline, Trysten, Avah, Quinn, Makenna; sisters, Debbie (Cole) Fross and Dawn Allen (Bruce Parker); as well as numerous nieces, nephews and cousins.

His Celebration of Life will be held on Monday, April 27, 2026, at the Lewis and Clark room at Western Montana College in Dillon, MT from 11:00 - 2:00 pm. Keeping with Bill's wishes, a portion of his ashes will be scattered at Long Creek in the Blacktail.

In lieu of flowers, the family is asking for contributions to be sent to Beaverhead County High School for a Bill Allen sports scholarship. If you are interested, please send to: BCHS, Bill Allen Scholarship, 104 North Pacific, Dillon, MT 59725.

Food Is Medicine: Apples

We've probably all heard the saying "an apple a day keeps the doctor away" and while it might sound a little old-fashioned, there's actually some real wisdom tucked into it. Apples are one of the overachievers of the fruit world. They're about 85% water (hello, hydration), naturally high in fiber, and loaded with antioxidants—especially in the peel, which is a good reminder not to toss the best part. What's really interesting is how something so simple can quietly support your body in big ways. That fiber helps keep blood sugar more steady, supports healthy cholesterol levels, and even plays a role in calming inflammation (a key driver behind many chronic diseases). And because of that combo of fiber and water, apples tend to make you feel full, a surprisingly satisfying snack that doesn't leave you rummaging through the pantry an hour later. If you want to get the most out of them, eat them raw and keep the skin on. Slice one up and dip it in your favorite nut butter and now you've got fiber, healthy fats, and a little protein all working together—simple, balanced, and very enjoyable. There are over 7,500 varieties of apples. Some tart, some sweet, some crisp...each with its own personality. So if you've ever thought "I don't really like apples," you might just not have met the right one yet. Even in Greek mythology, apples were seen as something special—symbols of vitality, with stories like the golden apple representing beauty and something almost magical. It turns out both tradition and modern research point to the same idea: these simple fruits can be a surprisingly powerful way to support your health—enjoy.

*When it comes to sourcing, the Environmental Working Group often includes apples on its "Dirty Dozen" list, meaning they may carry higher pesticide residues. Choosing organic when possible can be a helpful way to reduce exposure.

Good health is built day by day, starting with real food.

Are you a member of a service club or nonprofit organization in Beaverhead County?

If so, we would like your input!

You're invited to participate in a focus group conducted for Beaverhead County Public Health and Barrett Hospital & Healthcare to evaluate community perception of local healthcare services and to identify important health issues. Your comments will help determine the awareness of local programs and services, as well as satisfaction or dissatisfaction with local services, providers, and facilities.

Whether you have used local providers or not, this is your opportunity to give us your ideas to help guide us in planning responsive and high-quality local healthcare services in the future, and to understand where the gaps are in health services.

Your identity will not be in the focus group report, and your individual responses will be kept confidential. The questions and discussion at the focus group will be led by staff of the Montana Office of Rural Health, which is assisting in this project.

We invite you to participate in the following focus group:

The Obit Project highlights Pit the Elephant

The Beaverhead County Museum is pleased to share with the community "The Obit Project," a podcast series featuring stories about the lives of real Montanans told after they are gone. Created by young journalists from the University of Montana School of Journalism, this project reimagines the traditional obituary—exploring universal truths, legacies, and the ways we remember those we love.

The story of Pit the Elephant will be featured in the third episode, airing April 16. You can listen to "The Obit Project" wherever you get your podcasts and on Montana Public Radio.

Written and produced by journalist Jacob Baynham, the episode draws on interviews with several Dillon residents to bring this unique piece of local history to life.

Known throughout the region, Pit's remarkable story includes being struck by lightning and laid to rest at the fairgrounds. In this episode, Jack Kirkley and other Dillon residents share personal memories and reflections, vividly bringing Pit's story back to life.

The series premiered April 2 and offers thoughtful, often moving reflections on the people and histories that shape our communities.

Join us in celebrating the story of Pit—and the memory that continues to live on!

Upcoming Dillon Public Library program

Dillon Public Library invites the Public to attend upcoming 2026 Child Abuse and Neglect awareness programs: Strengthening Families, Safeguarding Futures: A Community-Based Approach to Preventing Child Abuse and Neglect

April 14 at 6 p.m. Maria Emmer-Aanes:

Helping Kids Thrive: The Power of Protective Factors

Join us for a community conversation about the supports that help children and families thrive. Together, we'll explore the protective factors that build resilience, strengthen families, and create a healthier future for kids.

These are presentations in conjunction with a grant received from Montana Children's Trust Fund. The grant allows authority figures to present information that brings awareness of Child Abuse and Neglect to our community. The public is welcome to attend, and there will be light snacks provided. An activity will be available for children that come with parents/guardians.

- Your new home is waiting for you at 214 Beaverhead Lane in Dillon, Montana — where small-town charm meets the space and freedom to truly make a place your own, while enjoying the privacy of a large lot that gives you room to garden, play, or simply enjoy wide-open views and peaceful evenings under big Montana skies. The home itself is generously sized with 4 bedrooms and 2 bathrooms, providing ample space for family, guests, or hobbies. The well appointed kitchen includes pull out shelves in the cabinets and a gas range for gourmet cooking. Both an informal dining area and a dining room with deck access make this perfect for entertaining.
