Signed off -30- from the Dillonite April 14, 2000.
In short, -30- means "the end" in the news paper world.

Martha Ann Troth, 90

Martha Ann Troth, 90, of Dillon, Montana passed away unexpectedly on Saturday, March 28, 2026. She was vibrant and engaged with life through her final days. She was found deceased in her home, having fallen from a heart attack.

Born on December 31, 1935, in Charleroi, Pennsylvania, Martha was the daughter of Mary and George F.
Manandise. She was married to Alfred Carl Troth of Monessen, PA on June 15, 1957. Both were graduates of the California State Teachers College in California, PA. The young couple moved from south of Pittsburgh to the Williamsport area of north-central Pennsylvania where they taught for 15 years.
They moved permanently to Dillon in 1973 with their son, Eric.

Martha became a Title I tutor in the Dillon school system, spending most of her years in the earlier grades at the Mary Innes School. After retiring, she worked as a volunteer in the gift shop at Barrett Memorial Hospital. Martha was passionate about sewing and crafts. She made clothing and outdoor gear for the family in the early years, knitted socks, hats, and scarves, crocheted scrubbies, and made gift cards. She enjoyed gardening, reading, and puzzles. Her cooking and recipes were renowned. In spite of being on full-time oxygen at the end of her life, Martha remained physically active, pushing her walker around the neighborhood and attending water classes at the YMCA.

Martha actively shared her talents as a mentor to a number of younger women. She was cheerful, generous, and kind, beloved among her circle of friends and all those who met her. Her son was blessed to have spent time with her daily throughout her final years, including taking local walks and scenic drives around southwest Montana.

Martha is preceded in death by her parents, brother Merle Manandise, and husband Alfred Troth. She was a loving and devoted caregiver for her mother, brother, and finally her husband, who suffered from Parkinson's and dementia in his

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

Despite out-hitting their opponent, the Beaverhead County Varsity Lady Beavers fell 16-6 to the Hamilton Varsity Broncos on Friday.

The Lady Beavers finished with 11 hits compared to Hamilton's nine, with Bridget Lovaas, Maisy Hutchinson, Kaitlyn Konen, and Tymber Barnes each collecting two hits on the day.

The Lady Beavers struck first in the opening inning when Kaitlyn Konen singled to bring home a run and give Beaverhead an early 1-0 lead.

Hamilton turned the game in the top of the third, erupting for nine runs on four hits to take control. The inning was highlighted by a three-run home run to center field by Hayleigh Savage, putting the Broncos firmly ahead.

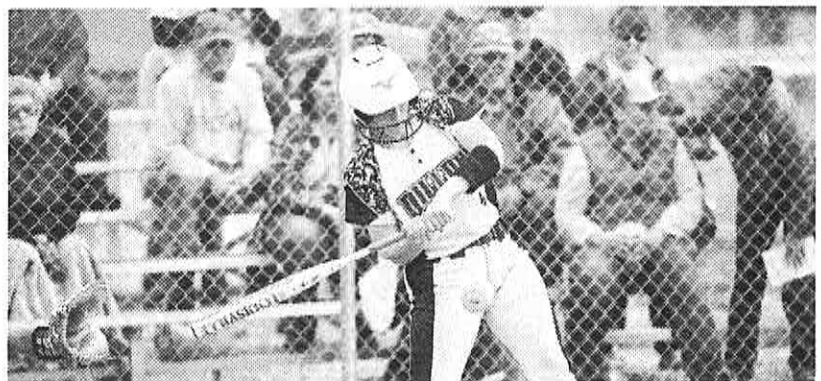

The Lady Beavers answered in the fifth inning, cutting the deficit to 12-6. Maisy Hutchinson delivered a two-run single, and Bridget Lovaas followed with a two-run home run to center.

Mariah Johnson earned the win for Hamilton, allowing six runs on 11 hits over seven innings while striking out 13 and not issuing a walk.

Tymber Barnes took the loss for the Lady Beavers, while Mya Creighton provided relief work in the circle.

Lovaas led the Lady Beavers with two RBIs, going 2-for-4 at the plate, as the team also turned a double play defensively.

For Hamilton, Hayleigh Savage powered the offense with five RBIs while going 3-for-4. Both Savage and Brooke Savage recorded three hits, and the Broncos showed patience at the plate, drawing 13 walks in the game.

2026 Colt Sale Raises $290,000 for Natural Horsemanship Program

The University of Montana Western's annual Colt Challenge and Sale, held March 27-28, 2026, at the Montana Center for Horsemanship, generated $291,900 for the UMW Natural Horsemanship Program.

The Natural Horsemanship Program, which educates students to work with horses as part of a broad range of equine and academic studies, is a joint program between the University of Montana Western and the Montana Center for Horsemanship. Each year, as part of the Colt Sale course, UMW students train young horses to be sold at a live auction the following spring. All of the horses are donated by respected regional ranches and feature strong bloodlines. The event attracts buyers from across the country, with proceeds supporting scholarships, facility improvements, and other program needs.

The sale again included the Alumni Horse Sale, where past Colt Sale students showcased their horsemanship skills and post-graduation success. Alumni participants included Jacob Christenson, whose two horses—ZIPPO LIL BUDDY and GEMS SECRET CODE—each sold for $20,000, and Nicole Forbes, whose horse JAYCEE DONE DUNNIT sold for $5,500.

The two-day event began with the Colt Challenge on Friday, March 27. Students demonstrated their training through a variety of ranch tasks. Vivian Mayers earned first place riding SLD SKIPPA BET, donated by Roaring Springs Ranch.

Mayers was awarded a $2,500 scholarship from CHS; a custom saddle from Stockman Bank and Frecker's Saddlery; a saddle rack from Ken and Linda Farms; a buckle from Nancy Chesterfield of ASA Publications; a

More on ACEs, these DMS 8th grade students shared poems they wrote about perseverance and resilience. Please read and enjoy!

Perseverance

As in Pushing through Going back
Trying again

Pushing through

You keep going when times are hard
You don't stop after the bad days
You know that you can go 100%

As in

When you have to push through After getting brought down, words attacking you
You could just quit after one try
With the opportunity to give up, which you won't

(Unless you don't believe in your self) (Unless you beat yourself up over one thing)

(Unless you let your mind take over) (Unless you stop working)

And you let the thoughts control you
When you pass the ball
When you go to serve
When you go up to block
It's your thoughts.
Don't let them take over.

As in

Thinking about the days you want to give up,
But you look at the people who fought for their rights to vote and even to live freely on this Earth.
The times they couldn't control
Fear Unfairness
Anger Sadness

But

From unfair treatment
From Fear
Comes FEAT
And instead of giving up
And instead of being controlled And instead of the other people's words bring you down
You. Keep. Going.

As in Going the extra mile

Taking a bad situation and turning it around Bethany Hamilton, Surfer, injury survivor.
"I don't need it easy, I need it possible"
Taking the extra steps to make you better

Better

Perseverance
Get up
Try again
And persevere
-Emeri M.
