Bob Marsh

Bob Marsh was born in Sheridan Montana on August 21, 1926, the third of three children.

Bob was born into agriculture, when he was young there were no tractors, all the farming was done with horses which he loved, especially his horse, Old Blue. Bob worked with his dad, later buying the ranch which he operated successfully for many years.

Bob married Beverly Odden, they had 3 children. Later Bob married Hazel Flynn creating a blended family which was blessed with many happy times. Bob and his son Jeff worked together on the ranch for many years. Bob is proof that being physically active and mentally engaged is beneficial. Life on the Marsh ranch was very straight-ahead agriculture. There was very little recreation but the family found great joy in working together. Beverly and Hazel were both great cooks, their round oak table was the site of many a happy meal.

Bob grew bountiful hay crops, he was a diligent flood irrigator, always getting at least his share of the water. In the 60s and 70's Bob built an admirable herd of Herford cattle. Bob always connected with people, finding new and old friends in any bar or grocery store. Bob was a great dancer and enjoyed Walkers Deluxe until they stopped making it, he had to switch to Makers Mark. Bob lived his life with passion and vitality. He passed at home on May 13, 2026.

Bob is survived by his son Jeff (Sarris), Daughters Janet (Brad), and Julie, 7 grand children and 7 great grandchildren. He was preceded in death by parents Glen and Maybelle, sisters Mildred and Marjorie and wives Beverly and Hazel.

A celebration of Bob's life will be held at a future date to be announced. Memorials can be made to Jackson's Garden.

Arrangements are under the direction of K&L Mortuaries. Condolences for the family may be posted online at www.kandlmortuaries.com

Beaverhead County took control early in the second inning when Burk delivered an RBI single and another two runs scored on a Lockwood error.

The Lady Beavers extended the lead in the third inning with RBI singles from Reese Jensen and Burk before erupting for eight runs in the fourth inning to put the game away.

During the big fourth inning, Bridget Lovaas added an RBI single, Maisy Hutchinson brought home a run with a sacrifice fly, Burk drove in another run with a single, and Mya Creighton capped the rally with an RBI hit.

Creighton earned the win in the circle, allowing four hits and two unearned runs over four innings.

The Lady Beavers were scheduled to continue play Saturday against the Stillwater Renegades.

Collaborative effort, grant funding fuels success of local school-to-work CDL students

A dozen high school students from Butte, Whitehall, Jefferson, and Dillon are enrolled in the Highlands College School-to-Work Commercial Driver's License (CDL) program this semester.

The School-to-Work program concurrently enrolled four Butte High students in the CDL program at Highlands College, allowing students to graduate high school with a valuable commercial driver's license. Students can also earn a 12-credit certificate in Commercial Truck Driving that emphasizes soft skills necessary to be successful in the workplace. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, heavy and tractor trailer drivers earned a media wage of $57,440 per year in 2024.

"This is an amazing opportunity for high school students to earn their Class A CDL while still in school," Highlands College Director of Community Education and Partnerships Kinsley Bennett said. "It's an in-demand, high-wage credential that will serve them for the rest of their lives. No matter where life takes them, they will always have the ability to find meaningful employment. It also demonstrates dedication and a commitment to lifelong learning."

Butte High was able to allocate Montana Advanced Opportunities grant funds toward the tuition and fees for several students. The Montana Advanced Opportunities Grant is a state-funded program that provides financial support for middle and high school students to take part in career and technical education courses, dual enrollment classes, industry-recognized certification programs, and other advanced learning opportunities that prepare them for college and the workforce.

"We are incredibly grateful for the Advanced Opportunities grant and the doors it opens for our students," Butte School District Curriculum Director Ron Ricketts said. "Being able to cover CDL program fees through Highlands College removes financial barriers and gives students direct access to meaningful career pathways, equipping them with real-world skills that will benefit both their futures and our community."

For students in the program, the grant has made a profound impact. Butte High student Franki Salusso enrolled with the future in mind.

"I would have still enrolled, even if I had to pay for it," Salusso said. "Getting a CDL is a valuable skill that opens up real job opportunities right after high school. It's something that can provide financial stability and independence, so I think it would be worth the investment."

Salusso plans to use her CDL to earn money while continuing her education. She intends to study biochemistry at Montana Tech, with an eventual goal of becoming a veterinarian. While it was challenging to learn the technical details, and remembering everything for inspections and driving procedures, Salusso said she feels well prepared to work on the road.

"The instructors are very knowledgeable and patient," she said. "They take the time to make sure everyone understands all of the hands-on driving skills. Overall, the program is well-structured and gives a good balance of learning and real-world experience."

For more information about the Highlands College School-to-Work program, contact Kinsley Bennett at krafish@mtech.edu or 406-496-4684.

Fourth season of black bear population and habitat study comes to southwestern Montana 2026 field work expands on multi-year research effort across much of Montana

This month, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks researchers will begin the fourth season of a multi-year study on black bears aimed at better understanding and estimating black bear populations across the state.

This year's effort will focus on the Gravelly Range southwest of Ennis. FWP staff will collect hair samples by placing up to 80 barbed wire hair corrals throughout the Gravelly Range. In addition, FWP staff will conduct live captures of black bears, six of which will be collared to collect GPS data.

Hair corral sites will be surrounded by bright orange warning signs to prevent human safety issues, and all sites will be removed before the fall archery season begins. Trapping locations for GPS collaring will be marked by closure signs, and members of the public should stay out of these areas due to increased safety risks.

This black bear monitoring program will ultimately help FWP gain an accurate and timely understanding of black bear populations, accounting for regional differences, to better inform management decisions. The study will provide estimates on bear abundance and distribution and provide insights on how they use available habitats.

Biologists will also better assess how hunter harvest and habitat quality and availability are impacting black bear populations. Managers will be able to make more informed season adjustments and recommendations based on monitoring results. The study will also provide insights on survival rates and causes of mortality.

Montana is bear country. If you are recreating or working outdoors in Montana, it is always a good idea to carry bear spray in case of a surprise bear encounter.

Montana election officials warn of increased potential for long lines on Election Day following court order

Election officials across the state are warning Montana voters of potentially long lines on Election Day, June 2nd, after a District Court issued a preliminary injunction against Senate Bill 490, barring election officials from implementing it.

The bill, which was signed into law over a year ago, amended Montana's late registration procedures, opening a late registration period from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the Saturday before Election Day (Saturday, May 30th) and allowing federal voter registration activities through noon on Election Day.

Montana media outlets noted that supporters of the law stated that "long Election Day registration lines around the state have put strain on elections staff and voters alike," (MTN News), and that the law was a compromise that allows Election Day registration while minimizing the impact of long lines.

During the 2024 General Election, some counties reported lines lasting until midnight and beyond, including one county where the last voter left around 4 a.m.

Montana media outlets reported that voters waited in line for 8-plus hours (MTPR), which was one of the main areas SB 490 was enacted to alleviate.

For months, the Montana Election Team has been conducting statewide outreach and education for voters that registration and voting would be available on Saturday, May 30th. With the unexpected change occurring while the Primary Election is already underway, election officials regret any confusion it may have caused voters about the availability of expanded registration.

Voters wishing to avoid potentially long lines on Election Day may register, update their registration, and cast their vote in person through their local county election office. Contact information for county election offices is available online at <https://sosmt.gov/elections/election-administrators-contact-list/>.

Beaverhead Animal Shelter Welcomes New Executive Director

The Beaverhead Animal Shelter Board would like to welcome Katy Banick as our new Executive Director. Katy brings years of experience in animal care and a positive energy to leading teams.

Katy's love for animals began in early childhood. Known for bringing home animals in need and often having strays follow her home from school, she was always eager to help any animal she could — cats, dogs, frogs, rabbits, and more. Of course, begging her mom to adopt that skinny, rough-looking cat she fell in love with... which she had for twelve years! That passion became the foundation for a lifelong career in animal care.

Today, Katy Banick brings more than 20 years of experience in the animal care field. Her background includes working as a veterinary assistant, veterinary receptionist, manager of an urgent care veterinary hospital, veterinary reactivation specialist, and owner of a successful grooming and dog wash business right here in Dillon — along with many other roles throughout her career.

To say Katy is passionate about animal care and welfare would be an understatement.

Katy shares the mission of Beaverhead Animal Shelter by helping provide animals with a safe, positive, and compassionate environment while they await their new homes. She is equally dedicated to supporting pets and their families within the community by providing resources, guidance, and care.

In addition to helping animals find loving homes, Katy is deeply committed to maintaining clean, safe, and comfortable living environments for pets during their transition period at the shelter.

She believes in prioritizing animal health, compassion, safety for both pets and staff, positive community engagement, and continual staff education and training.

Katy is beyond excited for the opportunity to share her knowledge, experience, and love for animals with Beaverhead Animal Shelter. She hopes to make a meaningful impact on the lives of pets who find themselves in difficult situations and need a soft place to land while awaiting the next chapter of their lives.

The Beaverhead Animal Shelter Board and staff are looking forward to supporting Katy as she works to further our mission!

Cancer Support Community Montana Board of Trustees Approves Full Chapter in Helena

With recent approval from its Board of Trustees, Cancer Support Community Montana (CSCMT) is continuing to expand in Helena, Montana.

Starting as a chapter-in-development, the roll-out has occurred in stages. With the vote to now be a full chapter, the plan ultimately is to establish a physical location where those impacted by cancer can come together in a safe place for emotional relief and support, to receive resources, education, and assistance to optimize health and wellness, and to build a community, so no one faces cancer alone. The CSCMT team will now officially be pursuing a physical location and adding to the team in Helena.

According to recent data, almost 600 people per year in the Helena area receive a cancer diagnosis. A cancer diagnosis impacts a person on every level – physically, mentally, socially, professionally, financially – and impacts their family, caregivers and community. The effects can be far-reaching and staggering.

Research shows that the very best cancer care includes social and emotional support, and CSCMT knows this reality well and provides programs and services including professionally led support groups, individual counseling, educational workshops, healthy lifestyle classes (such as strength training, yoga and stress management), travel assistance for care, help with navigation of resources, a wig program, lectures by experts in the field of oncology, and social gatherings.

"In working together, we have support from so many dedicated and passionate community members, St. Peter's Health, and others, and while it will take some time to find the best physical location, we know we can enhance cancer care and support in the greater Helena community. We look forward to engaging and developing programs and services beyond the current virtual and in person options. Helena will continue to show that community is stronger than cancer!" Stated Kashia Herring, CSCMT's Development Manager in Helena.
