Lanie (Irma) Jones

Lanie (Irma) Jones passed away on May 21, 2026, in Dillon, Montana, surrounded by her loving husband and children, who cared for and comforted her through the years. Born on September 9, 1955, in Albany, Georgia, she was the daughter of Harold and Dorothy Oliver.

Lanie embodied kindness, compassion, and generosity. She treasured her roles as wife, mother, grandmother, friend, and devoted caregiver to the many animals she loved throughout her life. Her patient listening ear, warm hospitality, and home-cooked meals were the ways she expressed love and brought comfort to those around her.

At the age of sixteen, Lanie met the love of her life, Cecil, in Albany. Their journey together carried them across the country before they made their home in Dillon in 1984. Together they raised three children—Kelley, Clayton, and Katie—and celebrated fifty years of marriage last June. Their marriage was a true love story, built on friendship, devotion, and unwavering companionship. They were each other's favorite person in the world.

Being a mother was Lanie's greatest joy, and becoming a grandmother brought her immense happiness. She cherished every moment spent with her beloved grandson, Lawrence, whether teaching him to bake, conducting science experiments, or reading stories together. Her happiest moments were often spent outdoors—gardening, fishing, and caring for the many animals she adored. Through these passions, she cultivated a deep appreciation for the beauty of the natural world.

Lanie turned her degree in microbiology into a rewarding career as the Beaverhead County Health Inspector, serving the community for many years while also working with Madison County. She took great pride in helping new restaurant owners and entrepreneurs bring their dreams to life. Her curiosity, determination, and lifelong love of learning also led her to become an accomplished horsewoman and to earn a degree in Natural Horsemanship from the University of Montana Western.

Lanie's kindness and compassion touched countless lives, leaving the world brighter for everyone who knew her. As a loving wife, mother, grandmother, and friend, she leaves behind a legacy of warmth, generosity, and unconditional love. Though she will be profoundly missed, we are deeply grateful for the time we shared with her.

Lanie is survived by her husband, Cecil Jones; her children, Kelley Owenby, Clayton and Desiree Jones, her grandson, Lawrence Jones, and Katie and Nathan McBee. She was preceded in death by her parents, Harold and Dorothy Oliver, and her siblings, Gene and Anita Oliver.

In lieu of a formal memorial service, Lanie requested that everyone spend a day with their families, cherishing the precious moments they share together.

Mushroom series 4/5

Reishi~

Reishi has been called the "Mushroom of Immortality" in Chinese medicine for over 2,000 years and while I won't promise immortality, the science behind it is pretty remarkable. Reishi is best known as a calming, harmonizing mushroom: it supports deep, restorative sleep, soothes an overactive nervous system, and has been shown to reduce anxiety. It's also a liver supporter and a gentle anti-inflammatory, meaning it helps your body clean house and cool down chronic low-grade inflammation — the kind that underlies so many modern health struggles. Reishi is less of a supplement and more of a daily ritual, something you come back to again and again as a quiet act of self-care. Commonly available in teas, tinctures, powders and skin care be sure to check out the soaps and tinctures available at Might Oak Mercantile. If sourcing elsewhere, look for "fruiting bodies" listed on ingredients and choose organic suppliers who list all ingredients clearly, ideally with beta glucans > 20% and 3rd part verified to ensure quality.

Good health is built day by day, starting with real food.

FWP seeks proposals from conservation organizations for license auction

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is asking for proposals from conservation organizations interested in conducting a competitive auction or lottery for 2027 mule deer, elk, mountain goat, antelope and swan licenses, or a competitive auction for 2027 bighorn sheep and Shiras moose licenses.

This is the first year that antelope and swan licenses are available for auction and lottery after Gov. Greg Gianforte signed House Bill 330 during the 2025 Legislative Session.

Organizations that demonstrate a commitment to the conservation of the species may submit a proposal to the Montana Fish and Wildlife Commission for a license to be sold by auction or lottery.

Organizations must submit an independent species-specific proposal for each auction/lottery license requested. A proposal considering multiple species will not be considered by the commission. Proposals are limited to a maximum of five pages and must include the following:

- Statement of the organization's purpose;
- A description of the organization's previous involvement in the conservation of the species under the license requested;
- A description of the organization's previous experience in auctions or lotteries;
- A description of how the auction/lottery will be conducted including an estimate of potential revenue that will be generated; and
- A statement indicating whether the organization plans to retain up to 10 percent of the proceeds to cover reasonable auction expenses.

Each organization submitting a proposal must also submit a copy of its bylaws or articles of incorporation and a certificate of good standing as an addendum to the proposal.

All proposals must be received by the FWP Licensing Bureau on or before July 15. Electronic submissions to evan.klein@mt.gov by the deadline are acceptable as well. Note that large and/or sensitive files are best sent via the State of Montana File Transfer Service found at transfer.mt.gov/Home/Login.

The commission will select the successful conservation organizations at its Aug. 21 meeting. Attendance at the meeting by a representative of a proposing organization is not required but is recommended in case the commission has any questions. Selected organizations will be required to enter into a cooperative agreement with FWP prior to conducting any auction or lottery for the licenses. The commission reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

Attorney General Knudsen issues statement on Katie Lane's confirmation as federal judge for the District of Montana

Attorney General Knudsen issued the following statement today regarding the U.S. Senate's confirmation of Katie Lane to serve as judge on the U.S. District Court for the District of Montana:

"Congratulations to Katie on her well-deserved confirmation as Montana's newest federal judge. Katie brings a wealth of knowledge and integrity to the bench that will continue to make Montana a great place to live and raise a family. It's been a pleasure to get to know Katie since she first joined my office five years ago, and I look forward to welcoming her home to the Treasure state."
