Unruly Individual Arrested After Struggle With Officers at Dillon Town Pump

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

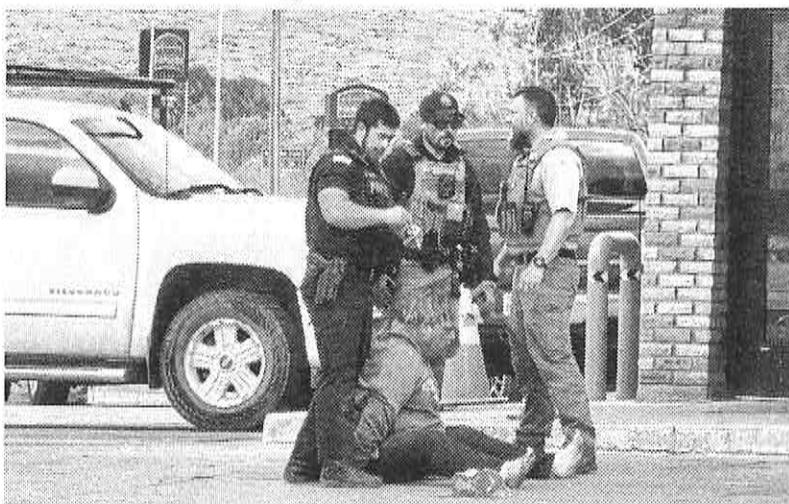

Wednesday morning, law enforcement officers responded to the Town Pump on North Montana Street in Dillon following reports of an unwanted and disruptive individual. According to scanner traffic from the scene, the individual had reportedly been inside the store earlier, where he was allegedly throwing items at a cashier. Store staff asked the person to leave the property, but he remained in the parking lot and continued behaving in a disruptive manner.

When officers with the Dillon Police Department arrived to speak with the individual, he allegedly became combative and began fighting with law enforcement.

A Dillon police officer, assisted by two Beaverhead County Sheriff's deputies, struggled with the suspect as they attempted to take him into custody. During the altercation, a Taser was deployed.

After several moments, officers were able to restrain the individual and place him into custody. Emergency Medical Services evaluated the suspect at the scene before he was transported to the Beaverhead County Jail.

No information regarding potential charges or the identity of the suspect has been released at this time. The incident remains under investigation.

Ride Into Act of Generosity

University of Montana Western graduate and rodeo student-athlete Gavin Knutson is no stranger to success in the arena, but it was his actions outside the arena this past weekend that left a lasting impression.

Competing at the Dutton Ranch Darby Xtreme Bareback event in Darby, Montana, Knutson earned a $10,000 bounty after successfully riding Pop the Cork of Red Eye Rodeo, the event's challenge bull. Rather than keeping the prize money for himself, he chose to donate the entire amount to a young girl battling cancer.

The gesture quickly gained attention, but for those who know Knutson, it came as no surprise.

A recent Montana Western graduate with a degree in Business, Knutson has built an impressive rodeo résumé during his time as a Bulldog. He is a four-time College National Finals Rodeo qualifier in bull riding and will make his first appearance at the CNFR in team roping this June. Last year, Knutson finished as the CNFR Reserve Champion Bull Rider and is the 2026 Montana Professional Rodeo Circuit Bull Riding Champion.

While his accomplishments in the arena are noteworthy, those closest to him say his character is what truly sets him apart.

"This gift was a true testament to Gavin's character, and we're so fortunate to have this type of individual representing not only Montana Western Rodeo, but the sport of rodeo itself," said Montana Western Head Rodeo Coach JT Robbins. "As coaches, we hope our student-athletes leave a legacy that goes beyond wins and championships. Gavin has done exactly that."

Throughout his time at Montana Western, Knutson has earned a reputation as one of the top competitors in collegiate rodeo and has put together one of the most successful careers in recent program history. Yet despite his success, he has remained grounded and focused on representing his family, teammates, and Montana Western with class and humility.

As Knutson prepares to compete in both bull riding and team roping at the College National Finals Rodeo, June 14–20 in Casper, Wyoming, and begin the next chapter following graduation, his impact continues to extend far beyond competition results. This weekend served as a reminder that some of the most meaningful victories happen outside the arena.

Veteran's Corner Update #568

By Mike Lawson

Veteran News Updates:

• Our three day Department of Montana DAV Convention was held at Big Sky, Montana. This area caters to the "Rich and the Famous" and is well above my pay-grade, for sure. It was a good Convention and a lot of veteran business was completed. The food was good and our banquet had amazing steaks, with all the trimmings. Montana is a big cattle producer and some of the best steaks in the country are from local ranches. I worked at Big Sky 54 years ago when it was first being developed and there wasn't much there. I was totally blown away to see all the multimillion dollar homes/condos/hotels/etc., that went the 20 plus miles to the upper ski areas of the mountains. Some say it is like Aspen, Colorado's ski area. It is beautiful country with many chairlifts and ski slopes. For those who can afford it, it is a paradise. Next year we'll be in Billings, Mt., Montana's largest city.

• Driving our DAV vans, we see a certain number of Veterans who are losing a limb for a variety of reasons due to Diabetes, poor circulation, etc.. The VA has streamlined the process of purchasing prosthetic limbs for those Vets in need of these. More than 45,000 Veterans rely on the VA each year, for major limb loss care. For more information you can contact the following: 1) VA Amputation Care Services 2) VA Orthotic, Prosthetic & Pedorthic Clinical Services. 3) VA Prosthetic & Sensory Aid Services

• There's proposed congressional legislation to expand former service member's access to dental care. Right now it's very limited to those with a 100% disability rating, former POWs' or some homeless Veterans. The proposal is for the VA to cover all those enrolled in VA health care. This is important as oral health is critical in staying healthy. All our Veteran's Organizations are supporting this legislation. One statement said, "Oral health is an essential component of comprehensive medical care and should not be treated as an optional or secondary health benefit for veterans. I agree and hope it gets passed.

Flag Day is next Sunday and a celebration of the adoption of our country's flag. Display our flag, if you are able, as a tribute to this wonderful country we live in and call our own.

Until next time, take care.
