Renee "Sasso" Doreen Klakken

December 27, 1959 - June 6, 2026

Renee Klakken passed away with a respiratory illness in Bozeman Hospital on June 6, 2026 with her husband and sister by her side. She was born on December 27, 1959 in Dillon, Montana to John Jr. and Beverly (Peterson) Hren and had one older sister, Cheryl.

In the early stages of her life, she was raised on the family ranch south of Dillon with her grandparents, parents and sister. Living in a house right next to her was her parental grandparents John and Catherine (Rebich) Hren. She spent a lot of her pre-school time taking care of the farm animals helping her grandmother. This time instilled a lifelong love of all animals.

Renee went to the local schools, graduating at Beaverhead County High School in 1978. It was near the end of this time that she met the love of her life, Michael Klakken. The two decided together to attend Montana State University, her in accounting and him in Physics. After one year in college, they decided to consummate their relationship and they got married on September 8, 1979. After they both graduated, Renee with a Bachelor of Science in Accounting and Mike with a Bachelor of Science with major in Physics and minor in Mathematics, Mike attended graduate school in Pullman, Washington with Renee in tow. While Mike was in school, Renee obtained a job in the accounting department at WSU.

After Mike graduated from WSU, he obtained a position in Salt Lake City at a rocket manufacturing company previously known as Hercules. Renee started out being a house wife but after a short time, she found her accounting background calling and went to work for the State of Utah surplus department and later in the State accounting department.

Renee and Mike returned to Dillon in 1998 to make their home and Renee helped care for her Grandmother and later both her parents. She also became active doing accounting in their business named Aces Inc. for a few special customers until her death. Sasso was also a member of BASS and the Dillon Elks.

She is survived by her husband Mike Klakken, sister Cheryl Hren and her husband Jeff Nelson, her aunt Joan Bowman, first cousins Richie and Randy Bowman and good friend Raymond Graham. She also loved her numerous animals (mainly dogs and cats but once a school of fish to taunt the cats) always by her side.

Per Renee's wishes there will be no service but a gathering will be held at a later date which will be announced later. Any remembrances can be made to BASS for Meals on Wheels or the Beaverhead Humane Society.

Join us for our monthly meeting on June 18! Beaverhead Trails Coalition

Join us from 5:30-7:00 pm June 18th at the Sheriff's Annex Conference Room to discuss current projects, grants, and general happenings of BTC. We have a lot happening right now from building a bike skills park to the BLM trail expansion proposal to "in town" trail connections. This is a great opportunity to learn how to become more involved through committee work or volunteer events.

Montana Western Launches Land, Water and Sky Center to Advance Experiential Learning and Natural Resource Stewardship

The University of Montana Western is proud to announce the creation of the Land, Water and Sky (LWS) Center, a new interdisciplinary hub for experiential education, undergraduate research, and community-based natural resource stewardship.

The LWS Center builds upon Montana Western's nationally recognized Experience One (X1) model, where students and professors are immersed in one course at a time for concentrated, experiential learning. Classes and student projects are tied to collaborative projects with agencies, organizations, and landowners to enhance working and wild lands and headwater river systems across southwest Montana. In doing so, the Center builds capacity for long-term research and stewardship.

The Land, Water and Sky Center represents an evolution of experiential education at Montana Western. "Our students want meaningful opportunities to learn, contribute, and build careers in the landscapes they love," said UMW Associate Professor Dr. Arica Crootof. "What better way to do this than engage students in existing on-the-ground projects while also filling needed monitoring, evaluation, and research gaps?"

The LWS Center supports interdisciplinary projects across ecology, education, environmental sciences, humanities, and mathematics. Students are working on applied research and service-learning projects, including stream restoration, wildlife and vegetation monitoring, watershed education, animal behavior modeling, habitat enhancement, regenerative agriculture, environmental literacy, and geospatial data analysis. Students work on these projects in different classes as well as across their four years of college, so they are involved in all stages of research—from grant writing and data collection to data analysis and report writing, to sharing results with academics, partners, and public audiences.

"Our goal is to create a collaborative hub where academic knowledge and community knowledge work together," said Dr. Anderson. "We see an opportunity to coordinate efforts and leverage strengths across our community to build capacity for landscape-scale stewardship. At the same time, we are preparing students to become the next generation of scientists, managers, educators, and leaders."

The LWS Center is designed to meet local needs, including workforce shortages and increasing complexity in resource management. Through long-term partnerships, applied research, and workforce development, the Center aims to help Southwest Montana plan, prepare, and respond to changing environmental conditions such as drought, wildfire, and invasive species.

Current projects include:

- Assessing ecological and hydrological impacts of stream restoration projects in collaboration with The Sagebrush Partnership, Big Hole Watershed Committee, and Montana Conservation Corps.
- Investigating how "Dark Skies" impacts wildlife and tourism in Southwest Montana.
- Co-developing criteria for whitebark pine friendly

- ranching with the U.S. Sheep Experimental Station. Funding from Sustainable Agricultural Research and Education (SARE).
- Examining surface water-groundwater interactions at Medicine Lake National Wildlife Refuge in partnership with Montana Bureau of Mines & Geology and U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service.
- Documenting wildlife with the Smithsonian's Snapshot USA Lewis & Clark Resurvey: A 250th Celebration of American Wildlife
- Testing whether literary artifacts—e.g. oral histories, children's stories, interpretive signage—can serve as durable intervention infrastructure that simultaneously addresses food security, social connection, and intergenerational knowledge transfer in rural settings in partnership with Early Childhood Coalition, Beaverhead Conservation District, and The Good Food Network. Funding provided by Montana INBRE Pilot Planning Grant.
- Mathematically modeling how western harvester ants, Pogonomyrmex occidentalis, affect their environment. Students submit articles to our student-run Hogsback Journal. To date, 536 students, 34 classes, and 12 professors have been involved in this research project.
- Assisting with pre- and post-project monitoring of the Piedmont Wetlands Restoration site near Whitehall, Montana. This project is 20 years in the making and involves 25 different private, city, county, state, university and non-profit partners.

The LWS Center enhances opportunities for students to graduate with professional experience, technical skills, and project portfolios that make them competitive for careers in natural resources management, graduate research, and public service. By integrating classroom learning with community-driven projects, the LWS Center reflects Montana Western's commitment to innovative undergraduate education and community engagement.

We invite the public to a presentation at the Depot Theater in Dillon, MT, on Thursday, June 25. Dinner is provided by the Beaverhead Conservation District at 5:30 p.m., with the presentation beginning at 6 p.m.

More information about the Land, Water and Sky Center can be found at lwscenter.org/.

To learn how you can support ongoing projects, student scholarships, a research coordinator, or other financial needs, please reach out to The University of Montana Western Foundation at (406) 683-7305.

Circus Coming to Dillon June 22
Kiwanis Club Brings Family-Friendly Big Top
 Entertainment to Town

The sights, sounds and excitement of the circus are headed to Dillon later this month as the Culpepper & Merriweather Circus rolls into town for a one-day appearance on Monday, June 22.

Sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club, the traveling one-ring circus will set up its Big Top at the Chris Kraft Park, located at 1301 Overland Road. Performances are scheduled for 5 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. and are expected to offer an evening of family entertainment for residents of all ages.

Now in its 41st year, the Culpepper & Merriweather Circus has toured communities across the country, bringing a traditional circus experience under the Big Top. This year's show will feature big cats presented by Trey Key, aerial performances by Simone, the Perez Daredevil Duo on the tight rope and Wheel of Destiny, juggling by the Macias family, performing canines led by Miss Gianna and everyone's favorite clown Leo Acton.

The day will begin at 9:30 a.m. with a tent-raising and behind-the-scenes tour, giving visitors an opportunity to watch the Big Top go up and learn about circus life and animal care. The event is open to the public.

Activities continue throughout the afternoon, with the midway opening at 4 p.m. Guests can enjoy pony rides, a moon bounce, giant slide, face painting, concessions and other attractions before the main performances begin.

Advance tickets are available at several local businesses, including Town & Country Foods, The Mini, Salsa's Mexican Restaurant, Womack's Printing & Photo, Dillon Video, The Cottage and other participating retailers. Advance admission is $14 for adults and $8 for children ages 2-12 and seniors 65 and older. Tickets purchased at the box office on circus day will cost $17 for adults and $10 for children and seniors.

Organizers note that purchasing tickets in advance helps support the local sponsor while also saving attendees money and time at the gate.

For additional information, residents can visit the circus website, follow its social media pages or contact the circus directly.

The event promises a full day of family fun and a chance for Dillon-area residents to experience a classic American circus right in their own community.
