Joshua Richard Taylor
October 2, 1988 – September 25, 2026 Dillon, Montana

Joshua Richard Taylor was born on October 2, 1988, in Dillon, Montana, to Craig and Jackie Taylor. The youngest of three, Josh completed their family alongside his older siblings, Jacob and Nicole. He grew up in Dillon and graduated from Beaverhead County High School in 2007. He went on to attend The University of Montana Western, graduating on May 7, 2014, with a Bachelor of Arts in Global Politics and Legal Studies. On September 18, 2021, he married Katherine White.

Through his college years, Josh worked with his Dad at Taylor Construction and Design. In 2016, Josh began working at Frontline Ag Solutions as a salesman and technician and was a valued member of the team. He cared about his customers and was there to help, whether something broke down, they needed help learning how to use a new machine, had a question, or they were looking for something new. He enjoyed working with his customers and, through his job, met so many people throughout the community, forming friendships along the way. He was a hard worker and cared about being someone people could count on.

Josh loved talking to people and could have a conversation with just about anyone. He genuinely enjoyed getting to know people and hearing what was going on in other people's lives. He always stayed connected with his family and friends. He was great at reaching out to check in, and he loved telling everyone how great his friends were. Whenever someone needed help, Josh was there no matter what the situation was. He never hesitated to lend a hand, often without even being asked.

Josh had a big personality and had a way of making everything more fun. Josh loved to tease, joke, and banter, and his sense of humor was a big part of what made him Josh. He also had a talent for giving gifts. He was the best at it. He put so much thought into what he chose and found joy in finding something he knew someone would love. He enjoyed giving gifts far more than receiving them.

Josh loved the outdoors. As a kid, he loved fishing, camping, hunting, and riding his motorcycle. In high school, he wrestled and played football. As he got older, he enjoyed hiking to lakes, going on RZR rides, golfing, skiing, and recently, taking adventures in his Jeep. He loved snowmobiling, especially the times he spent doing it with his Dad and friends. He also loved his animals, Bo, Nala, and Lulu. They were truly his babies.

Josh was a lifelong Raiders fan and stayed loyal year after year. He enjoyed fantasy football and especially loved being the commissioner of his Montana Keeper fantasy football league. He put a lot of work into making it fun for everyone, and every team owner was a friend. He took his job as commissioner seriously, and football season was his favorite time of year! Whether it was fantasy football or at work, he loved "wheelin' and dealin'!"

Josh was a loving son and brother. His family was a very important part of his life. He showed his love for his parents by spending time with them and being there to help whenever they needed him. He loved being with them, whether it was celebrating holidays and special occasions, spending time together in Elkhorn, helping his Dad on the farm, watching football together, or cooking and having them over for dinner. He especially enjoyed cooking dinner in Elkhorn for the entire family.

Josh was a fun and loving uncle. He knew what was going on in his nieces' and nephews' lives and made a point of being part of their lives. He loved giving them a hard time and made sure he was their favorite uncle!

Josh's life ended far too soon, but the life he lived touched an entire community. He made people laugh, showed up when people needed him, and left an impression on so many people through the countless little things he did for others. His sense of humor was always present, and there will be so many stories, memories, and moments that will continue to make people smile when they think of him.

He will be deeply missed, but he will never be forgotten. Josh will forever hold a special place in the hearts of his family and friends, and we look forward to the day we can see him again.

Josh was preceded in death by his grandparents, Dick Roberts, Sylvia Roberts, DeMar and Joan Taylor; his uncles, Danny Roberts and Art Mautz; and his great-grandparents, Harold and Bernice Currell, Jack and Florence Roberts, Dan Ibey, and Sybil Ibey.

Josh is survived by his parents, Craig and Jackie Taylor; his brother, Jacob Taylor and his wife, Airlynn, and their children, Kambria and Pierce; and his sister, Nicole Taylor Steed, her husband, Matthew, and their children, Justin, Logan, and Emily. He will also be deeply missed by his aunts, uncles, cousins, extended family, close friends, and all those who knew and loved him.

A family greeting will be held on Friday, October 9, from 12:30 to 1:15 p.m. Funeral services will begin at 1:30 p.m. at The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 93 State Hwy 91 S, Dillon, Montana 59725.

A graveside service will follow at Mountain View Cemetery in Dillon. Family and friends are invited to join us for a luncheon at the church following the graveside service.

State Auditor James Brown Recognizes Montana Supreme Court's Ruling Affirming Homicide Conviction of Butte Bail Bondsman, Clarifying Restrictions on Industry

State Auditor James Brown recognizes the Montana Supreme Court's recent ruling affirming the conviction of a Butte bail bondsman for deliberate homicide by accountability and aggravated burglary, and in doing so, providing legal clarity on restrictions for the industry.

In 2021, then-licensed bail bondsman Jay Hubber was attempting to locate and arrest David Sandoval for failing to appear in court. Hubber learned that Sandoval was at a house owned by William Harris.

Hubber enlisted three people to assist him after drinking beer at a bar. One of those individuals, Nicholas Jaeger, agreed to help in part to work off a debt he owed Hubber. Jaeger shot and killed Harris during the attempted apprehension.

The Auditor's Office was the first agency to take action against Hubber in May 2022 by revoking his licenses and imposing a $2,500 fine. In the 2023 Legislative Session, the Auditor's Office supported measures to end the "Wild West" of bail bonds in Montana.

Before trial, Hubber attempted to dismiss the aggravated burglary charge, arguing that statutory, contractual, and common-law bondsman authority privileged his entry and arrest. The District Court denied the motion and prohibited Hubber from asserting that his bondsman status gave him a legal right to enter Harris' residence.

In March 2024, a jury convicted Hubber of deliberate homicide by accountability, for which he was sentenced to 60 years with 20 years suspended at the state prison, as well as aggravated burglary, for which he was given a concurrent 20-year sentence. Hubber subsequently appealed.

The Supreme Court's ruling addressed Hubber's argument that Montana law, the bond contract, common-law bondsman principles, arrest-warrant doctrine, and out-of-state cases authorized him to enter or remain in Harris's home to arrest Sandoval.

No Montana authority cited by Hubber establishes a blanket state rule allowing unconsented entry into a nonprincipal homeowner's dwelling, according to the ruling. The Supreme Court held that the theories presented by Hubber did not require the District Court to instruct the jury that his bail bondsman status legally privileged his entry into Harris' home.

"The court's ruling provides my agency and others with more clarity on the boundaries of the bail bonds industry in Montana. Since taking office, I've made oversight of bail bondsman an agency priority, because Montanans deserve to know that this critical part of our legal system isn't being undermined by bad actors," Auditor Brown said.

For more information on the Auditor's Office, visit the agency website at csimt.gov or call 406-444-2040.

Secretary Christi Jacobsen warns Montana businesses of 2027 Annual Report solicitation

Montana Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen is warning Montana businesses about a misleading mailing from an out-of-state organization seeking $150 to file a business's 2027 Annual Report.

The mailing titled "2027 - ANNUAL REPORT INSTRUCTION FORM," is not associated with the Secretary of State's Office or any government agency. The solicitation asks businesses to pay $150 for annual report filing services, even though Montana's 2027 Annual Report filing period doesn't open until January 1, 2027.

Additionally, Secretary Jacobsen has waived the filing fee for all Montana businesses that submit their 2027 Annual Report between January 1 and April 15, 2027.

Bulldog Volleyball Takes Down Rocky Mountain

The Montana Western volleyball team (6-11, 5-5 FC) defeated Rocky Mountain (3-11, 1-9 FC) 3-1 Wednesday evening in Billings.

In a credit to the Bulldogs' defense, Western held the Battlin' Bears to a .100 hitting percentage as a team, the third game in a row that an opponent has hit .100 or less.

NOTABLES : Taylor Ketchum recorded a career-high four aces. Olivia Rosborough hit over .300 for the third time in the last four matches. Jayda Ward posted her fifth double-double of the season. Jaiden Perez recorded at least 3.0 blocks for the third time in the last four outings. Madisyn Frazier tallied more than 20 digs for the third-straight match.

The opening frame was a close one, with neither team gaining more than a three-point lead for the entirety of the set. The hosts used a 4-1 run at the end to take set one, 25-23.

The second period looked to continue in the same manner, but the Bulldogs went on an 8-4 run midway through the set to take the lead. They leveled the match at 1-1 with a 25-21 set two win.

Western upped the pressure in the third frame, though RMC kept it close through the first half of the set. UMW utilized a 12-4 run, including the final four points of the set, to take the 2-1 advantage, 25-18.

The Battlin' Bears refused to go quietly, however, battling back from four-points down multiple times in the final period and taking the 23-22 lead late. UMW composed itself against the threat of the comeback to take the final three points and the match, 25-23.
