Strong Performances Highlight Competition

Two athletes recorded the highest scores of the day.

Kate Feenstra of Dillon and Austin Blando of Dillon each made 18 of their 25 free throws, earning championship honors in the girls and boys 12–13 divisions.

In the boys 8–9 division, Trace Ryles of Twin Bridges and Taygun Stephens of Pony each finished with 14 successful shots, making it one of the closest competitions of the day.

The event showcased the shooting skills of young athletes from throughout Beaverhead and Madison counties.

Next Stop: South District Competition in Dillon

The six champions will now prepare for the South District Elks Hoop Shoot Competition on January 2, 2027.

The event will be held at the University of Montana Western in Dillon, giving local competitors an opportunity to advance while competing close to home.

Congratulations to all the young athletes who participated in this year's Dillon Elks Hoop Shoot, and best of luck to the six champions advancing to district competition!

Witches and Warlocks Take Flight Through Downtown Dillon for 9th Annual Witches Brigade Ride

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The streets of downtown Dillon were filled with witches, warlocks, broomsticks and plenty of Halloween spirit Friday evening as the 9th Annual Witches Brigade Ride brought another magical night to the community.

Under the Halloween night sky, witches and warlocks from throughout the Beaverhead Valley gathered at Depot Park for what has become a beloved local Halloween tradition.

This year's turnout appeared to be one of the largest yet, as word of the annual gathering continues to spread throughout the valley.

A Gathering of Witches and Warlocks

As darkness settled over downtown Dillon, witches and warlocks began arriving at Depot Park, dressed in their finest Halloween attire and ready for their annual flight through town.

The evening began with the gathering of the brigade, followed by the traditional reading of the Witches' Rules and Creed.

With the formalities complete, it was time for the witches to mount their trusty steeds — or, in this case, their brooms — and prepare for takeoff.

Taking Flight Through Downtown Dillon

With a cackle at the moon and a little Halloween magic, the brigade set off through the streets of downtown Dillon.

While their broomsticks may have stayed firmly on the ground, the Halloween spirit was certainly flying high.

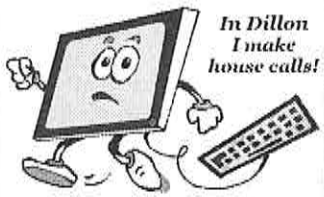

The costumed riders made their way through downtown, bringing smiles, laughter and a little witchy mischief to those who witnessed the annual spectacle.

For nine years, the Witches Brigade Ride has brought together community members looking to celebrate Halloween in a fun and unusual way.

And judging by this year's turnout, the tradition continues to grow.

A Halloween Tradition That Keeps Growing

What started as an annual gathering of local witches and warlocks has become a recognizable Halloween tradition in Dillon.

With more participants joining the brigade, the event continues to bring a little extra excitement to downtown each Halloween.

Whether you were part of the brigade, watched from the sidewalk or happened to catch a glimpse of the witches passing by, Friday night's ride was another reminder of the fun and creativity that make small-town celebrations special.

As the witches and warlocks returned from their annual flight, one thing was clear: the magic of Halloween is alive and well in Dillon, Montana.

And somewhere in the Beaverhead Valley, the broomsticks are already waiting for next year's ride.

Happy Halloween from Southwestern Montana News!

Attorney General Knudsen honors fallen Lincoln County Sheriff's Deputy

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen issued the following statement after a Lincoln County Sheriff's Deputy was killed in the line of duty.

"Lincoln County Deputy Ryan Terpsma answered the call and made the ultimate sacrifice in service to his community. He will not be forgotten. My thoughts and prayers are with Deputy Terpsma's friends and family, the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office, and the entire Eureka community. I encourage my fellow Montanans to join me. In Montana, we back the blue. As Attorney General, I will do everything I can to provide support to the community and ensure justice is served."

On Oct. 30, 2026, officers, including Deputy Terpsma, responded to a disturbance call in Eureka. When the officers arrived, the suspect, Matthew David Dye, shot and killed Deputy Terpsma and injured another officer. A pursuit for Dye ensued. During the pursuit, gunfire was exchanged and eventually, Dye surrendered. The investigation also revealed another female victim was shot and killed during the incident. A female juvenile was also injured, she was treated and released at the scene.

The Montana Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) is investigating the incident.

State Auditor James Brown Reminds Montanans to Utilize ACA Open Enrollment Period, Carefully Review Any 'Limited Partner' Plans

State Auditor James Brown reminds Montanans who receive or want to apply for health insurance coverage through the Affordable Care Act (ACA) Marketplace to utilize the open enrollment period from November 1, 2026, to January 15, 2027.

The open enrollment period allows people to apply for, renew, or change health plans through the ACA Marketplace for the coming year. Coverage can begin as soon as January 1, 2027, if one enrolls in or change plans by December 15, 2026.

The last day to enroll in or change plans for the year is January 15, 2027. After that date, consumers may only enroll in or change Marketplace plans if they qualify for a Special Enrollment Period. Coverage starts on February 1, 2027, for those who enroll in or change plans from December 16, 2026, to January 15, 2027, and pay their first premium.

For more information on the ACA Marketplace or to utilize the open enrollment period, visit healthcare.gov.

Auditor Brown also advises Montanans to carefully review any health insurance coverage offered outside of the ACA Marketplace. The agency has identified plans that claim they are "self-funded" and refer to consumers as "limited partners" or "employees" in order to avoid Montana consumer-protection regulations.

These plans may not be compliant with the ACA and do not provide comprehensive medical coverage, although they may be marketed otherwise. This leaves consumers with the possibility of being responsible for unpaid medical bills.

Individual health plans that comply with the ACA are available through a licensed insurance agent or www.healthcare.gov.

"If a deal looks too good to be true, it probably is. If a health insurance policy offers unusually low premiums and low deductibles yet promises full or unlimited coverage, be skeptical," Auditor Brown said.

Montana consumers can contact the Insurance Consumer Service (ICS) Bureau at the Auditor's Office before enrolling in a plan if they have any questions or concerns. ICS can be reached at 800-332-6148 or 406-444-2524.

Madisyn Frazier Receives Third Frontier Conference Defender of the Week Honor of the Season

Montana Western's Madisyn Frazier was named Erck Hotels / Frontier Conference Women's Volleyball Defender of the Week for the third time in 2026, the league office announced Monday. The award marks the third conference weekly honor of Frazier's career.

"So happy for Maddie to get Defender of the Week again," head coach Katie Lovett said. "She has been really reliable for us in the back court and has been a steady contributor."

Frazier was a force to be reckoned with defensively last weekend, helping the Bulldogs to another 2-0 week with four-set wins over Carroll and Rocky Mountain.

The senior posted 54 total digs across eight sets, averaging an impressive 6.75 digs per set while adding two assists and two aces. Frazier registered 26 digs (6.5 per set) in Western's 3-1 win over the Fighting Saints Oct. 28.

She followed that with a 28-dig (7.0 digs per set) performance in the 3-1 win over the Battlin' Bears on senior night. The Kalispell, Mont., native has tallied 20 or more digs in 13-straight matches and 15 matches on the year.

ON THE HORIZON: The Bulldogs are on the road this weekend against Providence (11/6) and MSU-Northern (11/7).

THE SILHOUETTES - HEROES TRIBUTE

The entire cast for this performance is from Dillon, Montana! Free tickets for Veterans, Active Military, and First Responders.
