Yvonne Jackson Frick, 69

Yvonne Jackson Frick, 69, finished her 3-year fight with pancreatic cancer in the early morning hours of November 11, 2026, peacefully and surrounded by family, just one day shy of her 70th birthday. Yvonne was born Helen Yvonne Jackson, to Martin and LaVerne Jackson on November 12, 1956. She grew up on the generational family ranch, Jackson Ranches, in Jackson Montana, with her sisters, Thyral and Twyla. She attended Jackson Elementary and then Beaverhead County High School.

In 1976, she met and married Mike Paddock, and together they lovingly raised two children, Erin and Blaine, in Wisdom, Montana. She worked for the telephone company throughout their childhood.

After she and Mike divorced, she met her soul mate Peter Frick, from Bakersfield, California. Initially they persevered through a long distance relationship, which Peter made possible by flying in to the local airport in his airplane. They adored each other. Yvonne moved to California to start a life with Peter, and together they lived in Tehachapi, with plans to move back to Montana once Peter retired. Yvonne found her love for travel, and she and Peter traveled to Europe, Africa, the Caribbean, Alaska, Mexico, and several other US and International destinations. On Peter's 60th birthday they hiked to the top of Mount Whitney, one of her favorite accomplishments.

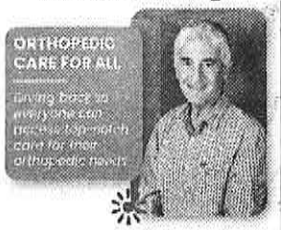

In 2010, she and Peter moved back to Wisdom, Montana. In 2013 they moved to the ranch to assist her sister Twyla and her parents with the family ranch, and they resided on the ranch from that time forward. Since returning to Montana from California, Yvonne, or Vivi, as those close to her knew her, spent a large sum of her time helping her daughter raise her three children. Her home was a place where anyone could go, bringing as many friends as they wanted, and feel welcomed in as a part of her family.

Throughout her battle with cancer, Peter doted on her, cared for her, and made sure she was surrounded by comfort, attention, and love. He was her constant companion and fiercest advocate. Even as cancer changed so much about their lives, one thing remained constant: how deeply he loved her. She was treasured, cared for, and never alone. For Yvonne's part, she fought cancer with grit and determination and rarely, if ever, complained, through 20+ rounds of chemo, a major surgery, remission, and cancer's return. Together they made every out-of-state trip for treatments a vacation, always finding time to enjoy them and to find the silver lining. In her final months, she remained at home, cared for by Peter, her sister Twyla, her daughter Erin, and her son-in-law Pablo.

Yvonne leaves behind a legacy in the lives she touched, and she will be deeply missed by her husband, Peter Frick; her sister Twyla Knight; her daughter Erin Paddock, grandchildren Haylee, Waylon and Gwynevere Brown; her grandchildren Isaac and Emily Paddock, and their mother Kelly Paddock; Peter's daughter Winifred Frick, son-in-law Paul (Pablo) Heady, their son Darwin Heady-Frick, daughters Jo and Emma Heady, and great grandchildren Romeo and Indigo; Peter's son Alex Frick and granddaughters Lara and Tessa Frick, along with many many friends, cousins, nieces and nephews, and every friend of her grandchildren who stepped foot in her home and welcomed as if they were her own.

Second Annual Pray for Snow Party Brings Music, BBQ, and Community Spirit to Downtown Dillon

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

What started as a conversation between a few downtown business owners about ways to bring more people to Idaho Street has grown into a community celebration. On Friday evening, November 13, the Second Annual Pray for Snow Party brought residents and visitors together for an evening of live music, food, drinks, and a little hope for a snowy Montana winter.

Hosted by the Montana Events Foundation, the event transformed a section of Idaho Street into a small block party, giving people an opportunity to gather with friends, support local businesses, and enjoy an evening downtown.

Local Businesses Come Together for a Night of Fun

The Pray for Snow Party featured several local businesses and organizations contributing to the festivities.

Iron Horse BBQ served up barbecue while Beaverhead Brewing Company provided locally brewed beer for attendees.

The Maverick Ski Patrol was also on hand, selling ski goggle covers, while Zeke Ellis offered ski waxing services to help winter sports enthusiasts prepare for the upcoming season.

Several downtown businesses extended their hours for the event, including The Bookstore and The Gallery, giving partygoers another reason to explore Idaho Street and support local merchants.

Live Music Adds to the Downtown Atmosphere

The Lazy Owl Stringband provided live entertainment throughout the evening, adding to the festive atmosphere as attendees enjoyed barbecue, drinks, and conversation.

The combination of live music, local food, and downtown shopping helped turn an ordinary Friday evening into a community gathering.

A Small Idea That Continues to Grow

The Pray for Snow Party began with a simple goal: find a way to bring more people downtown and encourage them to visit businesses along Idaho Street.

Now in its second year, the event continues to build on that original idea by bringing local businesses, organizations, and community members together.

With winter approaching and the ski season on the minds of many southwest Montana residents, the event also provided an opportunity to celebrate the outdoor recreation that makes the region special.

For downtown Dillon, the evening was about more than hoping for snow. It was about supporting local businesses, spending time with neighbors, and enjoying everything a small-town community has to offer.

The Montana Events Foundation and participating businesses helped make the second annual celebration another enjoyable evening on Idaho Street.
