Michael John Atkins

Michael John Atkins passed away on November 17, 2026, in Bountiful, Utah. Born on November 26, 1943, in Wendell, Idaho, Michael was the son of Nathalie Andreasen and William Higginbotham. At the age of 12, Michael was adopted by his stepfather, Ed Atkins. During this same time, Michael moved to Dillon, Montana, where he attended school and graduated from Beaverhead County High School in 1962.

After high school, Michael attended Ricks College, where he excelled in football and was a valuable member of the ski team. He participated in the NCAA National Giant Slalom Championships in 1964 and placed in the top five. After college, Michael earned a Bachelor of Science in Secondary Education from the University of Montana in 1971, a Master's Degree in Secondary Education from the University of Montana in 1975 and later graduated from the Institute of Religion at Utah State University in 1982. Michael obtained a Master's Degree in Social Work from the University of Utah in 1991.

In 1995, he received a Utah State license in substance abuse counseling, as well as certification as a counselor for the Salt Lake School District, where he went on to help many people through his work at multiple recovery centers and schools throughout the Intermountain West.

As a young man in 1957, Michael developed the confidence that he could fix anything. He began working as a ranch hand and haying during summers in Montana. Later, he became a buckaroo in southwest Idaho and worked as a mechanic repairing farm equipment. He spent time in road construction as a cat skinner and powder monkey on forest road projects in Montana. He built miles of jack fences in Montana and feedlots in Idaho.

During the 1970s, Michael helped build apartments and frame houses in Boise and Las Vegas. He also taught school for a time in Oregon. In 1980, Michael moved to the Salt Lake Valley where, along with working as a counselor, he founded his business, Package Engineering, in 1987.

Michael took great pride in his work, and those who knew him understood that he could do just about anything. He built his own home in Bountiful in 1991 and remained there for the rest of his life. In 2006, Michael retired from the Salt Lake School District, and in 2024, he sold his company and fully entered retirement.

He loved skiing and spent countless days on the slopes

Montana Tech nursing student hopes to bring quality health care to rural Montana

A clinic to serve the rural community of Twin Bridges, Montana, population 330, was only recently upgraded, so as Emma Konen grew up there, she witnessed firsthand the challenges of accessing health care in a small town.

When Konen experienced medical issues of her own, she had to travel out of state to receive the care she needed. The experience inspired her to pursue nursing.

"I am from a rural community, and I got to witness firsthand the importance of having quality healthcare in a small community in rural areas," Konen said.

Now a junior in Montana Technological University's nursing program, Konen hopes to become a nurse practitioner specializing in family medicine and eventually return to a rural Montana community to provide care.

The Montana Tech Nursing Scholars Edge Direct Entry Program is helping her reach that goal. The Nursing Scholars Edge Direct Entry Program selects 25 Montana high school seniors for direct entry into the clinical portion of Montana Tech's Sherry Lesar School of Nursing. Students selected for the program must maintain a minimum 3.5 GPA while completing prerequisite coursework, but do not have to compete for a seat in the program like others accepted to pre-nursing.

Konen discovered the opportunity while browsing Montana Tech's website. She said the program gave her peace of mind as she began her college education.

"It definitely allowed me to focus on succeeding in my prerequisites and become confident in my knowledge and skills to be ready to go into the program, rather than just focusing on getting accepted," Konen said.

Now that she is in the clinical portion of the program, Konen says Montana Tech's small class sizes, supportive faculty and emphasis on hands-on learning have helped her build confidence in her abilities. Before entering clinical settings, Konen and her classmates practiced nursing skills on mannequins in the Lesar Family Nursing Simulation Center, including taking vital signs, starting IV lines, inserting catheters and providing wound care.

"I think the opportunity we have to get a lot of hands-on experience before going into the clinical setting is fantastic," Konen said. "You also have a great faculty who are there to support you and genuinely want the best for you. They are not trying to fail you; they want to help you pass and get through those hard tests and clinicals and just set you up for success."

For high school students who already know they want to pursue nursing, Konen says the Nursing Scholars Edge Direct Entry Program is a perfect fit, offering a clear pathway into a profession that is especially needed in communities like the one where she grew up.

"There is a true need for healthcare workers and nurses in these rural communities," she said.

Applications to the Nursing Scholars Edge Direct Entry Program are open now. Applicants must have a 3.5 high school GPA to be considered. Students who apply to Montana Tech and have a qualifying GPA will be able to access the application through their personal URL, or PURL page. Applicants will be asked to submit a high school transcript, résumé and responses to essay questions through their personal URL, or PURL page. The initial application window closes at 4 p.m. on Jan. 15.

Questions can be directed to nursing@mtech.edu.

The Doer of Good Deeds Award recipient is John Davis.

John organized and led a group of community members to clean up Dillon areas of weeds and grass and trash prior to the Labor Day festivities to help make our town look better. With the closure of the Big Sky Cinema and Pizza Hut among other areas in town needing attention John saw a need and inspired others to join him in cleaning up the lots and improving the appearance of town as our visitors entered Dillon for the fair and rodeo. It is because of citizens like John and friends that we live in a great community that comes together when in need.

Thank you to everyone involved in this amazing clean up. "The Coalition acknowledges everyone of you." Said founder, Stan Smith.

Montana Western's Ava Bellach Receives Montana Athletes in Service Award

The Montana Campus Network for Civic Engagement (MCNCE) has recognized 16 student-athletes with the 2026 Montana Athletes in Service (MAIS) Award, including Montana Western senior Ava Bellach.

The MAIS Award recognizes college student-athletes who have made significant contributions to their communities through volunteer service. Award recipients will be honored on the field during halftime of the 2026 Brawl of the Wild football game, hosted by Montana State University on Nov. 21.

The Montana Campus Network for Civic Engagement will also host a pregame celebration for the recipients, providing an opportunity for student-athletes from across the state to connect and share their experiences in volunteer service, academics and athletics.

Ava Bellach is a senior basketball player at The University of Montana Western in Dillon, Montana, studying Business Administration. Ava is a dedicated volunteer for UMW athletics, from playing a role in running rodeo, football, and volleyball events to officiating and leading youth sporting events and camps.

Ava also volunteers with community organizations including the Beaverhead County Food Bank, the Engine 18 Foundation, and the Beaverhead Animal Shelter. Ava believes in being involved in every part of the community because she understands that Dillon runs on volunteerism.

To view all 2026 Montana Athletes in Service Award recipients, visit the Montana Campus Network for Civic Engagement's website.
