IGBC accepting grant applications to support
grizzly bear education, conflict reduction

The Interagency Grizzly Bear Committee (IGBC) is accepting grant applications from organizations seeking to promote bear education and conflict reduction.

The IGBC's Information, Education & Outreach grants are intended for organizations working to disseminate consistent messaging about grizzly bears, promote effective bear human conflict reduction techniques, and support grizzly bear recovery and conservation in the western U.S.

Grant Details & Eligibility

- The IGBC anticipates that approximately $43,000 will be available for funding in 2026, though final award amounts will depend on agency funding levels.
- Eligible applicants include qualified nonprofit organizations, associations, cities or counties, and federal, state, or tribal entities. Projects must be focused on grizzly bear conservation, located in or near at least one IGBC grizzly bear ecosystem, and consistent with the IGBC mission.
- Applicants are encouraged to strengthen proposals by partnering with other organizations, providing matching or in kind contributions, creating projects that are applicable across multiple ecosystems, or benefiting multiple agencies or jurisdictions.

Key Dates & Requirements

- Application deadline (close of business): Oct. 27, 2025
- Successful applicants will be announced during the IGBC winter meeting in December.
- Projects funded by this program must submit interim progress reports (due June 15) and final reports (due October 1). New projects will not be awarded without completion of final reports from previous grants.

How to Apply

Complete details, application forms, and guidelines can be found on the IGBC website.

For questions about the grant program or application process, please contact Lori Roberts (lroberts@mt.gov, 406 751 4581).

In Missoula County, Defendant Charged with Engaging in Conspiracy to Defraud Investors in Cryptocurrency Scheme

The Commissioner of Securities Insurance (CSI) and Missoula County Attorney have charged an Idaho man with engaging in a conspiracy to defraud elderly investors through various means, including a Ponzi scheme.

"As the Missoula County Attorney, I want to thank Commissioner Brown for his commitment to investigating fraud within our County and across Montana," said County Attorney Matthew Jennings. "His team's dedication ensures the integrity of our financial systems and the safety of our community. We stand ready to assist the CSI as they work to hold people accountable for their actions."

The charging documents allege that Shawn Cutting (an Idaho resident) and two unidentified, uncharged co-conspirators (an Idaho resident and a Missoula County resident) defrauded investors, including several elderly Montanans, through their company CTM, also known as "CryptoTraders Management". CTM purported to operate a "fund" made up of cryptocurrency investments. Investors in CTM ostensibly purchased an undivided, fractionalized interest in the fund based on their levels of investment. The fraud involved over one million dollars in investor funds from dozens of investors over the course of several years.

The defendant is charged with operating a pyramid promotional scheme, securities fraud, operating as a securities dealer and investment adviser without a license, and conspiracy to commit these crimes. Also included in charging documents are six felony counts of Elder Exploitation within the context of Securities Fraud.

"The CSI will vigorously pursue fraudsters who operate in Montana, particularly in cases involving exploitation of elderly investors," said Commissioner James Brown. "I would also like to thank the Missoula County Attorney, Matthew Jennings and his staff for working with the CSI to charge the case in Missoula County."

Connor Dunlea Named Frontier Conference Defensive Player of the Week

Montana Western defensive back Connor Dunlea picked up Erck Hotels/ Frontier Conference Football Defensive Player of the Week Honors, the conference office announced Monday. It is the first player of the week nod of his career.

Montana Western has now received a conference player of the week award for performances in its past four contest. Dunlea joins Tyler Walker (Defensive, 9/8), Maclain Burckley (Special Teams, 9/22), and Seth Shook (Offensive, 9/29).

"It was awesome to see Connor make another big jump this week," Head Coach Ryan Nourse said. "He made important plays to help our defense be successful and our team get a win. His growth as a player has been impressive and he is becoming a force in our defensive backfield."

Dunlea was a key part of the Bulldogs defensive efforts in their 40-20 victory at Southern Oregon. He put on a strong showing against the Raiders, posting a team-best nine tackles including a career-high six solo take downs.

The Malin, Ore., native also tallied one interception and a game-high two pass-breakups. His interception was on the Raiders first pass of the second half and led directly to a Bulldogs TD that put them up 30-14.

Dunlea is currently tied for second in the Frontier in passes defended (seven) while ranking third in pass breakups (six) and tied for fifth in solo tackles (18). He is also tied for ninth in total tackles (34) and tied for 10th in tackles per game (6.8).

My dog Jake has been diagnosed with allergies to everything except VENISON, BEEF LIVER and RICE. Beef liver can cause copper poisoning in dogs. Rice is ok as a supplement but it can contribute to inflammation for dogs with allergies. With this very unusual diagnosis I am struggling to keep my dog alive . If you have any venison in your freezer that you don't want I sure could use it. I will pick it up. Call me - Catherine Cain 406-498-6198
