Adele Pierce Rouse October 24, 1923-October 27, 2025

Adele Pierce Rouse passed away on Monday, October 27, 2025, three days after her 102nd birthday.

Adele was born in Butte, Montana on October 24, 1923 to Horse Prairie Ranchers Tom and Agnes (Kau) Pierce. Her early years were spent on the ranch which she loved. They always had good horses to ride and great neighbors to visit. She loved haying season with all of the many workers and excitement on the ranch. Adele had many happy memories of time spent with her brothers, Tom and Dick and her sister Lorryne. Her father died at the age of 30 which left Agnes to run the ranch and raise her four children.

Adele attended Grant School until her brother Tom graduated from eighth grade and the family moved to Dillon. She graduated from eighth grade in Dillon and then attended Beaverhead County High School, graduating in 1942. After spending a year at home working on the ranch, she married Emory (Moose) Rouse. Five children were born to Emory and Adele: Pierce, Miriam, Clint, Ramona, and Todd.

Moose and Adele bought the Sunny Slope ranch in the Big Hole in 1948. Adele was a hard worker and was compassionate and loving to everyone she met. She had a servant's heart showing hospitality to anyone who stopped by the ranch. Many visitors stopped by at mealtime on purpose to enjoy a home cooked meal and delicious pies or cakes. Moose and Adele sold the ranch in 1986 and moved to Dillon.

Moose died in 1999. Adele lived on the farm outside of Dillon close to all of her children, remembering the wonderful years spent raising her children in the Big Hole.

Adele was preceded in death by her parents, her husband (Emory), her brothers (Tom and Dick), her sister (Lorryne Rebich), grandson Burke Glaus, and great granddaughter Josephine Curry.

Adele is survived by sons Pierce (Donna), Clint (Mary), and Todd (Sara Bennett), daughters Miriam Rouse and Ramona (Dave) Glaus. She is also survived by seven grand-children, Grant (Sonya) Glaus, Chrissy Rouse, Rob (Keren) Rouse, Lindsay (Troy) Buhr, Darann (Rob) Curry, Alex (Carson) Hritsco, and Paige Rouse (Kameron Rauser), and fourteen great grandchildren.

Bozeman Symphony Unveils 2025 Commemorative Holiday Ornament Illustrated by Bryan Schaeffer

The Bozeman Symphony announces the release of its 2025 commemorative holiday ornament, featuring artwork by Emmy-winning illustrator and filmmaker Bryan Schaeffer of SINTR Studios. A Bozeman-based artist and storyteller, Schaeffer has developed a close creative partnership with the Symphony, and his work will once again help support the organization through this special fundraiser. The limited-edition ornament will be available for purchase at upcoming Symphony concerts.

The handcrafted ceramic ornament—the first in a planned annual series—depicts a trumpet player outdoors in the Bridger Mountains, snow drifting softly around him. The reverse side features the Bozeman Symphony logo.

Schaeffer first partnered with the Symphony in 2024, creating an animated video for the organization's annual fundraising campaign. He also designed the visual artwork for the Bozeman Symphonic Choir's production The Stones Sang. This piece quickly became an audience favorite and was later offered as a limited-edition print to benefit the Symphony.

This winter, Schaeffer will introduce his newest creative endeavor, The Snow Day, with a special Montana-exclusive "Pray for Snow Edition." The book series blends hand-drawn illustrations with folklore, storytelling, and deep reverence for wild places—inviting readers of all ages to rediscover wonder, curiosity, and resilience in the winter season. The limited edition will be sold at the Symphony's Holiday Spectacular concerts, December 12–14 at the Willson Auditorium.

The "Pray for Snow Edition" features three new titles:

- The Snow Day: A Yellowstone Adventure (Picture Book)
- The Snow Day Coloring Book

- The Snow Day (Young Adult Novel)

Each limited-edition copy includes a collectible "Pray for Snow" sticker and early access to Made in Montana, a short film connected to the series and supported in part by the Montana Film Office's Big Sky Film Grant. The film is scheduled to premiere in fall 2026.

"The Snow Day is about creativity, resilience, and that shared spark of wonder we feel when winter transforms the landscape," says Schaeffer. "Launching this series here in Montana is a way of giving back to the community that continues to inspire my work."

Following the local launch, The Snow Day series will be released nationwide in March 2026, beginning with select independent bookstores—including Bozeman's own Country Bookshelf.

Dillon Public Library upcoming programs:

Coming in January: The Bookstore, Dillon Public Library, the Friends of the Library and the Beaverhead County Museum will have the Montana's Poet Laureate (2023-2024), Chris La Tray, as a special presenter on January 28th, 2026. This is part of One Book Montana: The state of Montana is coming together, to read the book "Becoming Little Shell: A Landless Indian's Journey Home" by Chris La Tray.

This memoir is La Tray's third book. The book is centered on the efforts of the Little Shell Tribe of Chippewa Indians of Montana to become federally recognized in 2019. The tribe, made of Ojibwe, Métis, and Cree people in Montana, does not have a reservation and members live throughout the state. Chris La Tray was appointed as Montana Poet Laureate in 2023. One Book Montana, hosted by Humanities Montana, has purchased over 200 online copies, so listening through the Libby app is easy. Dillon Public Library has a number of copies available to check out and Debbie at The Bookstore has ordered copies for purchase.

General hunting season reaches midpoint with mild weather, lower success in southwestern Montana

Montana's five-week general hunting season for deer and elk reached a midpoint this week, with seasonably mild weather and lower-than-average hunter success rates in southwestern Montana.

Wildlife biologists with Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks use check stations to collect data on hunter participation and success, as well as the species, sex and age class of the animals harvested. This supplements data collected through hunter harvest phone surveys each year. Hunters are required to stop at game check stations they encounter, regardless of whether they harvested an animal.

On Nov. 8 and 9—the third weekend of the general season—biologists operated five check game check stations in Region 3, including Alder, Cameron, Divide, Gallatin and Lakeside. They met with 1,099 hunters, who collectively harvested 40 elk, 28 mule deer and six white-tailed deer, among other species.

Hunter success rates were within the long-term average at the Gallatin check station, and below average at Alder, Cameron and Divide. Hunter success rates ranged from 5.7 percent at Cameron to 12 percent at Alder.

This was the first time the Lakeside check station operated on the third weekend of the general season, so long-term averages have not been established.

Seasonably mild weather can make travel conditions favorable for hunters, but it can also make it challenging for hunters to find game. Harvest usually increases as winter weather leads to herds moving into lower elevations and other areas more accessible to hunters.

Big Hole Valley History book Volume III available at The Bookstore

The Bookstore will be hosting a reception and book signing with the Big Hole Valley Historical Society on Saturday, November 15th from 1:00-3:00. Volume III of the Big Hole Valley History Book: Residents and Places of Past and Present is now available. Together, the members of the historical society and the communities along the river bring the reader a new chapter in the History of the Big Hole series, introducing their towns, businesses, and families with stories yet untold.

The west never grows old in a valley where neighbors still lend a hand during branding and haying, where frigid winter temperatures make horses more practical than tractors for feeding livestock and where cell service is mostly non-existent. The hot water where Lewis and Clark parboiled their dinner still springs from the ground just as hot as in 1806. The grass still grows stirrup-high along the river as it did when the Nez Perce made a camp on a summer night in 1877.

By virtue of the remote character of the land, and the pristine wilderness and picturesque pasturage, the people have come to resemble the country: resilient, confident in their tradition, and at ease in their sense of place under a big sky.

Few places in Montana retain their character the way the Big Hole Valley has. Money from the sales of the three volumes of The Big Hole History books is held in a trust for scholarships for students of this valley.

Please join us on Saturday, November 15th as we celebrate the release of Volume III -- Call 683-6807 if you have any questions or would like to reserved your copy

My dog Jake has been diagnosed with allergies to everything except VENISON, BEEF LIVER and RICE. Beef liver can cause copper poisoning in dogs. Rice is ok as a supplement but it can contribute to inflammation for dogs with allergies. With this very unusual diagnosis I am struggling to keep my dog alive. If you have any venison, elk or moose in your freezer that you don't want I sure could use it. I will pick it up. Call me - Catherine Cain 406-498-6198 Jake thanks you!
