Rainbow Bridge

By: MJ

A long-time resident known as Bandit, a loved family pet has left his family. Bandit has gone onto the rainbow bridges to wait for his (2) two best buddies. He was seen by many while taking checking in with people on his about-town travels. He stayed as long as he could, however the day came when he had to leave his home. Hearts were broken. So hard to lose a pet that is truly a family member. The Rainbow Bridge is a mythical place where deceased pets wait for their partners.

Hal Wayne Engstrom

Hal "Pa" Engstrom, 73, passed away at Butte Saint James hospital on November 17, 2025.

Hal was born October 31, 1952 in Mohall, North Dakota to Cecelia and Milton Engstrom and grew up in that area with his brother and three sisters.

In his early years Hal worked on the service rigs in North Dakota, then went on to work at Page Brothers in Mohall. He met his future wife of forty-two years, Jennifer Kildare, at the bar in Antler, North Dakota in 1979. Jennifer had two young children from a previous marriage, J.J. and Thomas, whom Hal gladly accepted as his own. In 1983, Hal, Jennifer, and the kids moved to Dillon, Montana. Hal married Jennifer on June 1st that same year.

Gaining employment first at Rolandson Equipment in 1983, Hal continued working as a diesel mechanic for forty-two years, working also at Southmont and Frontline Ag before retiring in July of 2022.

Although retired, Hal was always willing to help out on mechanic jobs for anyone who asked, lending out his knowledge and expertise in the field.

Hal loved his five dogs (Peanut, Patches, Sam, Oreo, and Bashful), a cold beer, grilling, and shooting the breeze with everyone he knew. And, according to Pa, "It only costs a buck 2.98."

Hal is survived by his wife, Jennifer, daughter J.J., son Thomas, five grandkids, four great-grandkids, his brother Larry, and his sisters, Bunny, Cheryl, and Carol and all their spouses and extended family.

As per his wishes there will be no formal funeral, however there will be a public viewing on Saturday November 29 at 1:45 at Brundage Funeral Home 300 S. Atlantic St., Dillon, MT.

All are welcome to pay your respects and share your memories of Hal.

Highway Patrol troopers receive awards for bravery and excellence

Attorney General Austin Knudsen awarded Montana Highway Patrol (MHP) Trooper Jourdon Gulick the Award of Valor, the agency's highest award, for his acts of bravery during a fiery vehicle rollover in 2024. Trooper Nick Wade also received the Attorney General's Award of Commendation for providing assistance while off duty to a man experiencing a medical emergency. MHP Colonel Kurt Sager presided over today's ceremony.

To qualify for the Award of Valor, troopers must show an act of heroism and bravery, knowingly expose themselves to obvious life-threatening peril, or react to a situation without regard for personal safety to effect aid or rescue.

To qualify for the Attorney General's Award of Commendation, a criminal justice employee must show great dedication and excellence in service beyond the requirements of formal duties.

"Montana Highway Patrol troopers are some of the best and bravest law enforcement officers in the nation as evidenced by the work of Troopers Gulick and Wade. They put the lives their fellow Montanans ahead of their own safety," Attorney General Knudsen said. "Not only did they answer the call of duty, they went above and beyond while serving the state with integrity and respect - which is what it means to be a Montana Highway Patrol trooper. This recognition was well deserved."

"I am proud to know that our troopers are highly trained and always prepared to serve whether they are on duty or not. Their commitment to helping others is constant. I am beyond proud of Trooper Gulick and Trooper Wade for their bravery and willingness to help those in need," Colonel Sager said.

Award of Valor: Trooper Jourdon Gulick

In August 2024, Trooper Gulick responded to a single vehicle rollover near St. Regis. When he arrived on scene, he found a pickup truck on fire and at risk of exploding and the driver pinned under the back tire. Putting his own safety at risk, Trooper Gulick crawled under the truck to jack the rear of the vehicle up from the differential area of its axle. While initially his efforts were unsuccessful, he didn't give up. Eventually, a Mineral County Sheriff's deputy arrived on scene to assist and found a scrap piece of metal to stabilize the jack. Together, the two were able to free the driver and save his life.

Attorney General's Award of Commendation: Trooper Nick Wade

In July 2024, while on a hike off duty, Trooper Nick Wade encountered a man experiencing a medical emergency and in serious need of assistance. Trooper Wade saw the man attempting to get back to his vehicle and drive to a location he could get cell service and call 911. Out of concern for the man's well-being, Trooper Wade accompanied him down the trail and took him to the hospital in Dillon.

Montana Western and Bank of Commerce Performing Arts Series Present "The Laramie Project: Ten Years Later"

The University of Montana Western's Theatre Program and the Bank of Commerce Performing Arts Series are excited to present "The Laramie Project: Ten Years Later" on Wednesday, December 3, and Thursday, December 4, in UMW's Beier Auditorium.

A direct sequel to The Laramie Project, this bold new work asks the question: How does society write its own history?

On October 6, 1998, gay University of Wyoming student Matthew Shepard left the Fireside Bar with Aaron McKinney and Russell Henderson. The following day, he was discovered on a prairie at the edge of town—tied to a fence, brutally beaten, and near death. Six days later, Matthew Shepard passed away at Poudre Valley Hospital in Fort Collins, Colorado.

On November 14, 1998, ten members of the Tectonic Theater Project traveled to Laramie, Wyoming, and conducted interviews with local residents. Over the next year, the company returned six times, completing more than 200 interviews. These texts became the basis for the play The Laramie Project.

Ten years later, on September 12, 2008, five members of Tectonic returned to Laramie to explore the long-term impact of the tragedy. They found a town wrestling with its legacy and its place in history. In addition to revisiting many of the individuals whose words shaped the original play, the company also spoke with Matthew's mother, Judy Shepard, as well as the two murderers, McKinney and Henderson.

The Laramie Project: Ten Years Later was written by Moisés Kaufman, Leigh Fondakowski, Greg Pierotti, and Stephen Belber, and is directed by Stephen Alan Seder, Beatrice Penn, Adeline Michels, and Kendel Puccinelli. The production is brought to life by students from THTR 276: Play Production and features Christina Scruggs (former cast member of the Virginia City Players and the Brewery Follies) in the role of Romaine Patterson and the Narrator.

The Laramie Project: Ten Years Later will include 30+ cast members, featuring UMW students, faculty, staff, and Dillon community members.

Performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 3, and Thursday, December 4, in the Beier Auditorium located in

Good Food Network-Garden Bank

Good Food Network-Garden Bank is a grassroots garden movement empowering neighbors to build raised beds, grow fresh food, and strengthen community resilience. We believe everyone deserves access to fresh, nutritious, and affordable food.

Food, shelter, and safety are basic human needs — yet too many families struggle to secure even the most essential of these. Food access should be a fundamental right, not a luxury. Over time, our food system has shifted from meeting nutritional needs to prioritizing profit, leaving many without reliable access to healthy, affordable options. Together, we can change that from the ground up.

State Auditor James Brown Joins Fellow Statewide Officials at November Land Board Meeting in Approving $579,000 in New Revenue for Montana Schools

Auditor James Brown joined his State Land Board colleagues to review and approve multiple projects benefiting the state's trust beneficiaries and public education institutions. The November Land Board meeting highlighted key initiatives generating an estimated $579,000 in revenues for the people of Montana.

"The Land Board's five members—Governor Gianforte, Attorney General Knudsen, Superintendent Hedalen, Secretary of State Jacobsen, and myself—continue to show how our careful management of Montana's trust lands leads to meaningful benefits for schools throughout the state," said James Brown, Commissioner of Securities and Insurance. "The funds approved today will make a direct impact on students and classrooms statewide."

They approved the following revenue-generating actions:

- Timber Sales (estimated): $479,974
- Cabin and Homesite Revenues: $55,000
- Easements: $43,689

The Board's actions are estimated to generate $579,000 in revenue, directly benefiting Montana's state trust funds and educational initiatives.

The Montana Land Board consists of the top five statewide elected officials. The board manages millions of acres of state trust lands, ensuring both financial returns for trust beneficiaries and responsible land stewardship for future generations.

For more information about the Land Board, visit our website at csimt.gov/land-board.
